Paul E. Miller, 63, former director of agricultural extension at the University of Minnesota, and who a few weeks ago moved to Washington, D. C., to become a member of the board of governors of the federal reserve system on appointment by President Eisenhower, died Thursday morning in Washington.

He has been a member of the board of the Federal Reserve bank of Minneapolis since 1943 and served the board as its chairman. He was director of drouth relief in Minnesota in 1934, chairman of the state soil conservation committee, and a member of the board of the Federal Land Bank, St. Paul.

In recent years, Miller has served on several foreign missions for the federal government.

Sales of Savings Bonds up in State

$6,700,000 Bonds Are Sold During September

Three Minnesota counties have reached their 1954 goal for sales of U. S. savings bonds. They are Rock, Lac qui Parle and Nicollet counties. As of September 30 Rock coutny ranked first in the state having attained 104.0 per cent of its $347,000 quota for Series E and H bonds.

For the state as a whole, September sales were $6,700,000 which is approximately 13 per cent more than a year ago. For the year to date, the dollar volume reached $65,700,000 as compared to $54,800,000 last year.

Of the three metropolitan counties in the state, St. Louis county ranked first with 80 per cent. Hennepin and Ramsey counties followed with 68 per cent and 65.2 per cent respectively.

Sales in Pennington county during September amounted to $16,802 bringing the total for the year up to $144,251 or 46 per cent of quota. J. M. Roche is county savings bonds committee chairman.

State bond chairman, Henry S. Kingman of Minneapolis, has attended district bond committee meetings in St. Cloud, Rochester, New Ulm and Thief River Falls to stimulate the efforts of volunteer groups in the bond program.

National sales for the first three-quarters of 1954 totaled $3.7 billion, a gain of more than 12 per cent over a year ago. During this period sales exceeded redemptions of matured and unmatured bonds by approximately $315 million, the largest net gain for such a period since 1949.

UNITY IN EUROPE

The agreement reached by allied nations in Paris Saturday was a major victory for our side. It was especially welcome coming, as it did, shortly after the discouraging defeat in Indo-China and the rejection by the French of the European Defense Community plan. The restoration of sovereignty to Germany and the settling of several other questions that have threatened the long-hoped-for unity in Europe is a long step forward in the defense of the free world.

While the many documents signed by the representatives of the 15 nations that participated in the meetings must be submitted to their respective governments for ratification, observers are confident they will get this final approval. Here in our country, where foreign policy has been a bi-partisan responsibility for many years, there is little doubt about the treaties receiving favorable action.

These will not be secret treaties secretly arrived at. It has been evident in the meetings at both London and Paris that the representatives of the participating countries have been motivated by a sincere desire to agree on a practical plan not only for the defense of Europe but also for the development of Europe into a strong economic unit of neighbor nations. It is particularly encouraging to know that France and Germany have reached agreement on the difficult Saar question, and that this rich industrial area may be administered in a way that will be fair to both nations.

And so the star of hope for peace in the world, long dimmed, now shines a little brighter again. A strong Germany will add immeasurably to the strength of the western world. The calm that has settled over such recent trouble spots as Iran, Egypt and Trieste encourages the hope that we may soon see a settlement of the dangerous differences in Africa and perhaps even in Asia. European colonialism, no longer vigorously defended, will cease to be an issue of importance and thus the danger from one of the most serious threats to peace is lessened.

And encouraging too is the fact that Russia now seems to be unusually anxious to stall things over. President Eisenhower has indicated that he will encourage such talks with the hope that a new approach may now be made to questions upon which there have been bitter differences.

The overall picture is more encouraging now than it has been in many a long year.

DESERVE REELECTION

Four members of the Supreme Court are seeking reelection this year and two of them run unopposed. They are associate justices Thomas Gallagher and Martin Nelson, both from southern Minnesota communities. The other two, chief justice Roger Dell of Fergus Falls and associate justice Oscar Knutson of Warren, have opposition. They both are good men and deserve reelection and as Ninth District neighbors we are glad to recommend them for your favorable consideration.

We know nothing of the qualifications of their opponents, who may be good men too, but electing judges is not quite like electing other officials. We would be inclined to resent it if they conducted an active campaign for reelection and so, when they have conducted themselves creditably, they deserve to be returned to office without argument. We like Dell and Knutson.

NOT A REPUBLICAN YEAR

All of the opinion polls seem to be in agreement that this is not a Republican year and so it is reasonable to assume that a Democratic Congress will be elected Tuesday. Whether that turns out to be good or bad will not be known of course until the record becomes history. There apparently is no national hysteria however over the prospect and we guess that regardless of how the election goes the sun will continue to rise in the East and set in the West.

We will also venture the guess that Ike probably will get along better with a Democratic Congress than Harry did with the one that was controlled by the Republicans. President Eisenhower is not violently partisan and probably will enjoy good relations with whatever group of people he has to deal with. He still has a lot of friends in both parties.

THE AMENDMENTS

Four proposed amendments to the Constitution are being submitted to the voters next Tuesday. Their purpose and their probable effect have been explained by attorney general Burnquist and we are not going to attempt to add to what he has said. We think they are all good and should be approved.

Ammending the Constitution is not easy. One of the obstacles to ammendment is the view held by some that the old document has done right well for us for many years so why change it? Along this line we like what Thomas Jefferson said in writing to a friend:

> "I am not an advocate for frequent changes in laws and constitutions," he said, "but laws and constitutions must go hand in hand with the progress of the human mind as that becomes more developed, more enlightened.
> "As new discoveries are made, new truths discovered and manners and opinions change, with the change of circumstances, institutions must advance also to keep pace with the times. We might as well require a man to wear still the coat that fitted him when a boy as civilized society to remain ever under the regimen of their barbarous ancestors."

Our Constitution has served us well but during the nearly a hundred years that have passed since it was adopted conditions have changed. We no longer are the wilderness area for which it provided the basic code. It needs extensive revision.

MARKETING DISCRIMINATION

The State of Wisconsin is preparing to start court action to set aside marketing regulations by states or municipalities discriminating against the sale of Wisconsin dairy products. The attorney general is preparing to act "promptly and with vigor" to remove any barriers against the sale of "pure milk" from his state.

Many large cities favor the milk producers operating in the close-by area and it is understandable how this came to be. Cities that had to enforce their own standards and sanitary regulations probably had a right to reject a product that came from a distant area of uncertain standards.

Now, however, with uniform standards and enforcement becoming more general there no longer is a need for the limited production zones which have come to be monoply and protection zones. Wisconsin and Minnesota, leading dairy states, suffer most from such discrimination, and the progress of Wisconsin's war will be watched with much interest by dairymen of our state.

Looking Backward

1934—TWENTY YEARS AGO

A dragline and 25 CCC boys were engaged on improvements at the Lindolph park bathing beach. The Woman's club was given the use of a room by the [illegible] of the new Auditorium. Nearly 2500 persons attended the annual convention of the Red River Valley Dairymen's association in this city. Governor Floyd B. Olson was the main speaker.—Drizzling rains handicapped the last two days of the Decade of Progress celebration in this city.

1944—TEN YEARS AGO

Mrs Lottie Ottum of this city was notified that her son, Pvt. ASPEN SPRINTS AHEAD OF SPRUCE

In Minnesota's growing forest products industries many changes have taken place in the past half century, most significant of which is no doubt the greater care now exercised in protecting and perpetuating the state's timber resources. Another phase is the growing prevelence of "tree farms" and individual "wood lots" which are sources of comfort, protection, and revenue to increasing numbers of farmers. One of the most interesting changes in the 50 years since records of pulpwood consumption have been kept is the growth of the aspen volume. For more than a quarter of a century while Minnesota's pulpwood industry was developing in the early 1900s aspen was hardly heard of. About 1925 its use began a spectacular climb which has brought it today to about 300,000 cords annually—more than double the somewhat dwindling volume of jack pine and spruce, second and third in the list. Balsam, still a "poor fourth", is also gaining rapidly.

— CANDIDATE FOR — SHERIFF
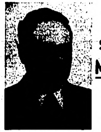
PENNINGTON COUNTY

I have resided in Pennington County the past 44 years and have been employed at the Osborne-McMillan Elevator Co. for 23 years and as foreman since 1938. I respectfully ask for your vote Nov. 2.



Elect Stanley N. MORTENSON County Attorney

TO THE VOTERS OF PENNINGTON COUNTY:

As election day draws near, may I call your attention to my candidacy for the office of County Attorney of Pennington County. While many of you are acquainted with me, I believe it is in order that I give you the following personal information and background:

I have lived in Thief River Falls since 1930, am a graduate of the local high school and of the Law School of the University of Minnesota. I am now 35 years of age, married, and have one son. During the past 10 years I have been engaged in the general practice of law in the City of Thief River Falls. From January, 1946 it was my privilege to serve as your Assistant County Attorney as an associate of County Attorney Paul A. Lundgren up to the time of his appointment as District Judge in June of 1948. Since that date I have also gained valuable experience in law enforcement as Special Municipal Judge of the City of Thief River Falls. Aside from my professional work I have taken an active part in civic and community affairs.

As a long-time resident of this county I am and have been actively interested in its progress and development. I feel that I am qualified by training, experience and background to serve as your County Attorney and if elected I pledge to you my sincerest efforts in the discharge of the duties of that office.

It has been my privilege to meet and talk to many of you during the campaign. Since time does not permit a personal call upon each of you, I ask that you consider this letter as a personal call and a personal solicitation of your vote.

I respectfully solicit your vote at the coming election next Tuesday.

Sincerely yours,

STANLEY N. MORTENSON.

Thank You Labor!

Particularly members of the Railroad Brotherhoods, whose support has been welcome the past 12 years. I have worked with Rep. Bob Crosser of Ohio those 12 years in supporting all railroad labor bills, particularly those raising retirement pay. In 1947 the railroads had introduced the Jennings-venue bill, which would have been dynamite against injured railroad workers, their widows and children. I believe I influenced more than 20 votes against this bad bill and it never became law. It also would have affected every shipper and passenger on railroads.

I also appreciate the support given me by teamsters, carpenters, plumbers, electricians and other labor organization members.

This year, 1954, I am grateful for the fine recommendations, endorsements and assurances of support in this campaign from many labor organizations and groups. The postal workers, who are so important to every home and business in the transmission of mail are militantly supporting me.

I thank the following organizations for their endorsement or commendations for re-election on November 2:

1—ORDER OF RAILWAY CONDUCTORS AND BRAKEMEN.
2—BROTHERHOOD OF LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEERS.
3—NATIONAL FEDERATION OF FEDERAL EMPLOYEES.
4—EIGHT DIFFERENT POSTAL EMPLOYEE ORGANIZATIONS & ASSOCIATIONS.
5—PLATE PRINTERS UNION OF WASHINGTON, D. C.
6—POLICE ASSOCIATION OF WASHINGTON, D. C.
7—FIREMEN'S ASSOCIATION OF WASHINGTON, D. C.
8—THE THOUSANDS OF MEMBERS AND OFFICERS OF THE AMERICAN LEGION, THE VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS, THE DAV, AMVETS AND OTHER VETERAN ORGANIZATIONS, who are in the ranks of labor and served their country in various wars.
9—ALL OTHER WORKERS, ORGANIZED OR UNORGANIZED, who have appreciated my work in their behalf the past 12 years as a Representative in Congress.

In Memoriam

We have lost our soul's companion
A life linked with our own
And day by day we miss her more
As we walk through life alone.
What is home without our mother?
Where are all the joys we meet
When your loving smile no longer
Greets the coming of our feet
Dearest mother, how we miss you
Since from earth you passed away
And our hearts are aching sorely
As we think of you today. Gone but not forgotten by the children and grandchildren of Mrs. Anna Westberg who passed away one year ago Oct. 23, 1953. 43p

ARMY WORMS

We are friends of Governor C. Elmer Anderson because we like his sincerity and his proven honesty. We know that he is a man of action rather than just words. His efforts to maintain a brucellosis program and to promote the dairy industry show us that C. Elmer Anderson works to solve problems rather than talk about them, and all of us remember his quick action to control the army worm plague which hit us last summer. The Friends of C. Elmer Anderson Committee, Leonard Boeder, Brainerd, Secretary, who are paying for this space urge that you keep him Governor.

WE SHOULD SUPPORT THOSE WHO HAVE HELPED US

Out here in Eastern Pennington and Red Lake we have had good help for many years from Congressman Harold Hagen and State Senator Bill Dahlquist. Whenever we needed them they were always ready to work for us. Now we have gotten our rivers dredged and new bridges and we are getting better roads. It doesn't make sense to vote against those who helped us get these improvements, and we may need their help again.

We think we should re-elect Harold Hagen and Bill Dahlquist

40 YEARS OF CROP EXPERIMENTING

University of Minnesota Institute of Agriculture recently issued an arresting review of "the first 40 years at Northeast Experiment Station." Growers who today take certain varieties and characteristics pretty much for granted perhaps don't realize the long study and experimentation that goes into suitable, profitable crops. Marquis wheat has been tested over a period of 18 years. Thatcher and Progress each 17 years; Henry is the newest, with a 9 year record. Gopher tops the oats field with 30 years of "trial and error." Anthony 21. Minrus 18. Barley is more versatile, three varieties having been in the hopper a quarter of a century: Trebi, Peatland, and Manchuria 184. Velvet and Wisconsin—38 each 21 years. Practically everything grown, every known fertilizer and treating method, every possible means of soil preparation and cultivation, get their innings on these busy and patient experiment farms.

The first commercial application of wood preservative in this country was in 1848 when a dipping plant was built at Lowell, Massachusetts.

About 80 per cent of the nation's rural roads, including federal and state highways, are surfaced with petroleum-derived asphalt.

I'm Ben Wichterman. I am your candidate for the state legislature. I have lived in the district all my life and presently live on a farm south of Plummer. In addition to operating the farm I do custom spraying for friends and neighbors in the area. This brings me in contact with hundreds of farmers, laboring and business people of this district every year. The discussions I have had with these people have given me a wide cross-section of opinion of problems concerning our district. For the benefit of those whom I have not had a chance to talk to I am offering the following for your approval.

I PLEDGE MYSELF TO:

- A vigorous fight for full parity for agriculture, particularly the dairy industry. Minnesota farmers receive only 78% of parity on all agriculture products compared to 88% U. S. average.
- Oppose any and all increases in taxes to agriculture.
- Work for a better road system for the rural areas.
- Fair consideration to all labor problems.
- Soil and water conservation for agriculture and industrial expansion.

I am your candidate and if elected I can only be as effective as you want me to be. Give me your advice and any other information conducive to good government and I will work hard for you.

The results from feeding the 34 per cent, 38 per cent, and the standard 25 per cent are being tabulated and will be presented on the Turkey Day program.

The results from two years' work in the feeding of toms and hens in separate lots will also be presented. In the blackhead control project, two-year results will be presented on the use of NF180 and phenothiazine, both alone and in combination.

The Turkey Day program will start in the school auditorium at 2:00 P. M. National authorities on turkey production problems will be present to take part in the program. Dr. Elton Johnson, head of the department of poultry husbandry; Robert Shoffner from the poultry department, Dr Ben Pomeroy of the department of veterinary medicine, and Dr W. E. Billings, national turkey expert, all of the Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, will take part on the program.

Would Simplify Revision of State Constitution

Governor C. Elmer Anderson and his DFL opponent, Orville L. Freeman, have both endorsed Amendment Number 3, to be voted on in the November 2nd election. This amendment has won the support of leading civic groups, including the League of Women Voters of Minnesota, the Citizens League, the Republican and Democratic - Farmer - Labor parties, the State Bar association and the Minnesota Farmers Union. It has been called the citizens amendment because it affects the lives of all citizens in Minnesota.

The results of a recent Minnesota poll indicated that many citizens in Minnesota find the reading of Amendment 3 as it will appear on the ballot to be confusing. In simple language the amendment provides that

1. Any revision of the state constitution must be submitted to the people for approval.

2. The revised constitution must be approved by 3/5 of all those voting on the question.

3. Members of the legislature may serve as delegates to a constitutional convention.

This amendment will assure citizens the right of exercising their privilege of voting for or against a revised constitution. And further, passage of this amendment will indicate citizen interest in constitutional revision.

State Is Allotted Civil Defense Aid

Protecting Twin Cities and Duluth Main Project

The state of Minnesota has been allocated $254,560 in matching funds for the 1955-56 federal contributions program for civil defense, it was announced by E. B. Miller, state director of civil defense.

This money must be matched 50% by local and/or state civil defense for air defense warning systems, communications, medical supplies, education services, rescue, welfare and engineering.

The federal Civil Defense administration and the Minnesota department of civil defense have given highest priority to the completion of the air attack warning system in the critical target areas of St. Paul and Minneapolis, and the target area of Duluth. Of the total amount, an allocation of $59,760 for attack warning has been set aside to stimulate communities in the target area to complete their air defense warning systems.

The state department of civil defense received an appropriation of $25,000 per year from the 1953 Legislature, and this money will be used as a one fourth share in matching local communities in the target area for completion of their air warning systems.

Fosston Boy Dies in Auto Accident

Ralph Mellesmoen Killed When Car Upsets Friday

Ralph Mellesmoen, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Mellesmoen who farm near Fosston, was killed instantly when thrown from a car which overturned after a tire blow out Friday.

Injured and recuperating at a Fosston Hospital according to Halvor Roysland of Crookston, Polk County deputy sheriff who investigated the mishap is Ronald Sundrud, 14, driver of the car.

Death was attributed to a skull fracture by Dr. H. E. Nelson, Polk County coroner, who said Mellesmoen died instantly. There will be no inquest, Dr. Nelson said.

The vehicle rolled approximately 100 feet before coming to a halt straddling a ditch on State Aid Road No. 1 in Brandsvold township according to Roysland, who said the Mellesmoen youth was thrown clear, and found 30 feet away from the car.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare
University of Minnesota

Fears

Just about everybody is afraid of something, and that includes grownups as well as children. In fact, one reason why children are afraid is that they "catch" fears from their parents.

A child isn't born with fears. He learns to be afraid of things. Part of this learning comes from coming to understand that some things are dangerous—like hot stoves. But another part comes from imitating others who are afraid of things that aren't really dangerous—like the dark.

The first kind of fear is desirable, if it's not too extreme, since it helps the child remember to be careful about things that might injure him. That kind of cautious "fear" ought to be encouraged.

But the second kind of fear is the kind that is undesirable. We ought to discourage that kind of fear. Or if such unnecessary fears do develop, we ought to try to help the child overcome them. Psychologists have found that the best way to do this is to help the child to actually deal with what he fears in a successful way.

For example, if a child is afraid of the dark, teach him how to turn on the light. If he's afraid of the water, teach him how to swim. While it's not always easy to do, if the parent is patient, and sets an example by being calm himself, he can usually succeed.

Setting a good example is really the best single preventative and cure for all kinds of fears. Because if the parent isn't afraid (or doesn't look like he's afraid), the chances are the child won't be afraid either.

Life would be very simple if more people were willing to be themselves.

An Open Letter FROM GOV. C. ELMER ANDERSON

TO THE PEOPLE OF MINNESOTA:

Next Tuesday you will make the important decision on what kind of government you want in your state capitol. That decision is yours alone.

You can turn back the pages 16 years to one kind of government, you can pick from the air waves and campaign literature a completely unknown quantity, or you can continue the kind of government you are presently enjoying.

Today you have a state administration which has further reduced the state debt—made great forward strides in mental health and penal reform—brought greater efficiency through reorganization and businesslike methods—increased benefits to dependents, injured workmen, and unemployed—stimulated development of new business—increased state school aid—improved services to agriculture and consumers—expanded the vast highway and airport network—recorded great progress in conservation and reforestation.

As fellow citizens we can be proud of those achievements. You and I can continue such progress together, reaching still greater goals. I ask you to help continue that kind of progress and government by re-electing me to a full second term.

DIVERTING HIGHWAY FUNDS

Now that the Primary is out of the way we can settle down to arguing the things to be decided in the main election event. One of the questions that already has come in for considerable discussion is the proposal to divert 35% of the automobile license revenue from the States Trunk Highway System to the countys and cities of the state.

Four years ago we enthusiastically supported a proposal to increase by one sixth the diversion of gas money to the counties. Two years ago we reluctantly went along with a proposal that was similar except that it provided for a stop to the larger cities. The proposal that is before us this year has less merit than the one that was rejected two years ago.

Some diversion of funds from the state to counties can be justified. The present proposal however would take nine million dollars and that is too much. That nine million dollars would come out of funds available for new construction and taking that big a cut out of construction would mean the end of progress in the improvement of our trunk system.

State assistance for city streets and rural roads should be limited to the main traffic routes. Such assitance can be justified.

Subsidizing the improvement of streets and roads that serve only a strictly local need however would encourage waste.

Our need in the state today is fewer miles of better roads. The proposed amendment provides for a distribution of the funds in part on the basis of the number of miles of road in a county. By putting a premium on greater mileage the amendment would encourage more miles instead of less.

We are satisfied that Amendment No. 5 is not in the interest of a sound overall road program in Minnesota. We believe that distributing nine million dollars in the way provided for in this amendment would result in wasteful spending. We are sure that at the end of a ten year period we will have more good roads at both the State and local levels if we do not have a diversion of funds on the large scale and by the formula provided for in this amendment.

Incumbent Senator clearly clarifies his opposition to divert fund from trunk highway to build you farmers better farm to market roads. Read facts. Amendment No. 5. Vote D.F.L. We are offering you a farmer candidate who's record has been checked and found favorable to farmer and laborer, who is honest, fearless, dependable, liberal; who knows the problems of laborer and farmer. We solicit your support and vote on November 2nd for Roy E. Wiseth, Goodridge, Minnesota. Vote the DEMOCRATIC-FARM-LABOR Ballot straight including the 65th Legislative District.

Strandquist Voters to Decide School Board Proposal Thursday, October 28

Balloting set for 7 to 9 p. m. on $70,000 issue for a new gymnasium. Voters of Independent Consolidated School Dist. No. 65 will ballot at a special election on Thursday evening, Oct. 28 on whether to authorize the sale of up to $70,000 in bonds.

The voting will be from 7 p. m. until 9 p. m. in the study hall of the local school building.

Voters who approve this school improvement proposal should vote "yes" and those opposed should vote "no".

The reasons why a new gymnasium are many. Some of these are given below for the voter's consideration. The village hall which is being used at the present time is undesirable because of its size, heating, seating, ventilation and shower facilities, all of which are inadequate. Physical education classes as well as shower facilities are compulsory in accordance with law.

A gym adjoining the school would eliminate the inconvenience and waste of time in walking two blocks in attending these classes and at the same time would provide an indoor play area for the smaller children in case of inclement weather.

With a building of this kind more school and village programs would be promoted and a greater community spirit would be encouraged.

It would also afford the basketball team equal competition with their opponents. The Strandquist school is the only one in the Northwestern part of Minnesota that does not have a gymnasium in connection with the school.

An improvement such as this would encourage other adjoining districts to join District No. 65. This would increase its valuation and in turn lower the tax rate.

It is felt that the majority of the voters of District No. 65 realizing that it's boys and girls are worthy of consideration, are interested in providing proper educational facilities for them, and will vote favorably on this issue.

Residents of this community held their breaths Sunday evening when three cars raced around the streets about eleven o'clock. Stones and gravel peppered the windows and sidewalks like hail stones.

Maybe they were juveniles but just the same they should use a little bit of common sense. A couple of years ago a stone hit our window and left a hole the size of a baseball. If they should lose control of the car and roll or crash I'd hate to think of the consequences.

In A Legislative Body
SENIORITY and EXPERIENCE ARE VALUABLE
Both to the Individual Member and to the District He Represents

In the State Senate I have excellent committee assignments, with membership on the following standing committees:

Finance, Education, Public Welfare, Highways, Municipal Affairs, Liquor Control, Civil Defense, Dairy Products and Livestock

I also am chairman of the Committee on Towns and Counties, to which is referred legislation effecting township and county government. During the past five sessions I have also served as chairman on a special Senate committee on Claims.

With one exception these are busy committees that meet regularly. Most of the work of a member of the Legislature is in committee. That is where most questions are decided, and that is why good committee assignments are helpful to effective representation.

One Week More

Very rarely does the County Board have anything to do with City affairs. Those are all in the hands of the City Council and Civic and Commerce.

However in 1950 the Council and County Board had a joint meeting to discuss blacktopping the stretch of county road between 3rd Street Bridge and the Cemetery. I was the only one of the County Board who voted to have the expenses shared equally by both County and City.

The County Board in 1950 undertook to spray brush along county roads which has resulted in a very substantial saving for the taxpayers. There was expended each year up to $18,000 for the old system of hand brushing which had to be repeated every 2nd or 3rd year.

Destroying brush by spraying is a permanent job and in a few years no money need be used for this purpose.

If elected I will pledge my best efforts towards obtaining some of the money that I believe the City is entitled for our city streets. In the spring some of our streets are almost impassable, and in the summer the choking dust. They need blacktopping.

I am very anxious to get back on the board as I enjoyed the work, gave my best efforts and tried to be fair and honest in all my dealings for and with individuals as well as groups that appeared before the Board.

THE MINNESOTA STORY

Prepared by the
Minnesota Historical Society

He WAS THERE FIRST

The first land ceded to the Great White Father by the Indians of Minnesota was that area where Fort Snelling was to be built and the lands where Minneapolis and St. Paul were later to be founded. Lieutenant Zebulon Pike bought that area from the Dakotahs for two thousand dollars in goods.

The first of these lands to come into private ownership were those on the eastern side of the Mississippi near the Falls of St. Anthony and they were chosen by an enterprising man because they promised power for his important ventures.

Franklin Steele was one of the first of Minnesota's great promoters of land, business and industry. Late in 1838 a letter, by slow mail, to Major Joseph Plympton at Fort Snelling said that lands east of the river would be opened for settlement the next day. The Major talked to his friend, Captain Martin Scott, and the two decided they would go over the next morning and stake out a claim. That was in violation of general military orders but the survey had not been made and those who pre-empted land before the surveyors came usually had their claims upheld.

The same mail brought the same notice to Franklin Steele. He did not wait until morning. He loaded a sled with hay, boards, nails and potatoes and crossed on the ice. When the army men arrived after daylight they found Steele and Norman Kittson sleeping under buffalo robes by a shack and around about were potatoes buried in hills in the snow. Steele got the land and the power and he built the first saw mill on the upper river.

RAINY LAKE BOATS

The place of the steam boat on the big rivers, the Mississippi and the Minnesota, is well recognized. An interesting chapter in the story of water transportation in Minnesota concerns the use of steam-powered craft on many of the larger inland lakes.

Many of the steam boats on such lakes as Mille Lacs, Leech, Vermillion, Winnibigoshish and Rainy were used in connection with the logging industry. They moved great rafts of logs from place to place. But they also served many other interests.

The first steamboat on Rainy lake was the W. C. Lloyd. It was put into service in 1894. This boat was 65 feet long and very heavy. It was shipped from the factory where it was built to Winnipeg by rail. Then it came up river to Rat Portage, now Kenora. Then it made its way across the Lake of the Woods and thence up the Rainy river to the Falls. It was dragged around the falls by brute strength.

Three was plenty of business for the W. C. Lloyd in 1894. These were the days of the Rainy lake gold rush. There were many men looking for precious metal and within a year after the Lloyd was dragged around the falls it was delivering mail to twelve hundred gold seekers on various shores of this lake.

Later, other steam boats were put at work on the Rainy. There were the Maple Leaf, Monarch, Highland Maid, Rambler and Shamrock. The Highland Maid was wrecked on the rocks, which abound in Rainy lake, and was blown to pieces as a menace to navigation.

FIRST TO SEE ONE

The new frontier, represented by the territory and state of Minnesota, presented need and opportunities for scientific and geological exploration.

Many of the early explorers made maps, now so interesting because of their striking differences with later facts on land and rivers.

One of the first of the more careful studies of the area was made by G. K. Warren nearly a hundred years ago. He made a special study of the Minnesota river. It was his belief that the whole Minnesota valley was once the course of a great river which drained the valley of Lake Winnipeg. Those were in the ages when Lake Winnipeg may have been larger than Lake Superior. This great lake sent its waters southward through the Minnesota valley to the Mississippi. They mingled with salt water, according to the Warren theory, at about where St. Louis is now found. These theories created much discussion, and were not wholly accepted, a hundred years ago.

The best effort at geological study of the area was the report of D. D. Owen which covered the states of Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota as they were found in 1850.

J. G. Norwood was an assistant to Mr. Owen on this great study. His report, which covered much of northern and eastern Minnesota and the northwest shore of Lake Superior, has been recognized for its excellence.

Mr. Norwood was the first, according to the later state geologist N. H. Winchell, to point out the existence of iron ore in Minnesota.

Parley on Family Life Is Postponed until Next March

The Family Life Conference, a district meeting in the extension home program, has been postponed to March, reports Home Agent Marge Olsen.

The district meeting will be held in Thief River Falls on Friday, March 1, with homemakers from Pennington, Red Lake and East Marshall counties taking part.

Previously, the conference was scheduled for December 2 at Red Lake Falls. Pennington, Red Lake and East and West Polk counties were to take part.

This change means that a larger delegation from Pennington county will attend the conference. Further publicity will be printed at the time of the conference, Miss Olsen concluded.

OUR LAND

Prepared by the Minnesota Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with University Farm, St. Paul

"Sold" on Conservation

Nearly 60 tractor-drawn tour wagons were in action at Plowville '54, Sept. 17-18. Their job: carriers of the nearly 20,000 people who came to see conservation practices put into action on actual farm land problems. Arnold Claassen, Soil Conservation Agent at Ivanhoe, says the wagons brought people close to the land and soil problems.

Soybeans Can Improve Soil

Growing inoculated soybeans is not a good substitute for deep-rooted legumes in a rotation. This advice comes from Edwin H. Jensen, University extension agronomist. It's true, he says, that properly inoculated soybeans get most of their needed nitrogen from the air. But unless much of the topgrowth is turned under, little nitrogen will go back into the soil. If both the seed and straw are removed from the field there may even be a loss of nitrogen from the soil. When soybeans are harvested for hay or silage, far more nitrogen is taken from the soil than is put back by roots and stubble.

Protect Trees from Rabbits

Rabbits in your area? Plan now to protect young tree plantings. Cottontail and his cousin Jack feed on the tender bark and tops, Marvin Smith, Extension Forester at the University, says most damage occurs when snow has covered the rabbits' other food. One farmer put pruned limbs from apple trees among his young shelterbelt. Rabbits prefer the apple wood and don't bother the young trees. A boy, his dog, and a gun also help. Rabbit repellents, too, get the job done. There are several goods ones, but they should be applied in the fall to be most effective.

Conservation Farmer Chosen

Chester Poschl, Baker, was chosen as the outstanding conservation farmer in the Clay County Soil Conservation District, which placed first in Goodyear Awards competition. Poschl and one of the district supervisors will receive an expense-paid trip to Goodyear Farms, Litchfield Park, Arizona, some time this winter.

Safe Halloween Is Traffic Chief's Plea

"Lets mak'e Hallowe'en this year a night of good, clean fun for our children, with not a single child hurt or killed as a result of a traffic accident."

That was the plea issued today by Earl M. Larimer, director of highway safety, as the annual night of spooks, hobgoblins and witches neared.

"Motorists, of course," he said "must drive with even greater caution during the evening hours of celebration than they do on other nights. Little children, out on their missions seeking 'tricks or treats,' are usually dressed in dark, cumbersome clothing. In addition, they are concerned with their merriment and are likely to forget the rules of safety which they would otherwise observe during less hectic moments."

Children, too, and their parents can also help make this an accident-free observance, Larimer pointed out. He said that dressing youngsters as "ghosts" instead of as "witches would provide a greater margin of safety for the children and would not in any way detract from the spirit of the occasion.

Older children, with the cooperation of adult groups, can observe Hallowe'en by attending organized parties and dances instead of engaging in dangerous, and often lawless, escapes, Larimer stated. He also said that the highway patrol would be on the lookout for any acts of reckless driving and would brook no pranks which might endanger users of trunk highways. He had in mind such things as erection of barricades or dumping of debris on highways, interfering with signs and signals or any other illegal actions which might cause an innocent motorist to become involved in a needless accident.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Veterans with personal problems or questions should consult Leo L. Haley, Contact Representative, Room 210-211 Post Office Building or Box 875, Grand Forks, North Dakota.

Q—I am an ex-WAC, planning to attend school under the Korean GI Bill. My husband is working. Will VA pay me the added GI allowance for a veteran with dependents, even though he is working?

A—No. You could claim the added allowance for your husband only if he were in fact dependent upon you.

Q—As a member of the Reserves, I receive pay for attending weekly meetings and going on active duty two weeks each year. Will this pay be deducted from the monthly allowance I receive as a student in college under the Korean GI Bill?

A—No. Reserve pay will not be deducted from your GI allowance. Neither will any other outside earnings you may receive. Under the law, the monthly allowance for school-going veterans remains the same, regardless of outside income of any kind.

Q—I have a permanent GI insurance policy which lapsed several months ago. To reinstate, I understand I will have to pay all back premiums. Will I also be required to pay interest on the premiums?

A—Yes. You will be required to pay interest at the stipulated rate for your type of policy.

Q—I am thinking about paying the additional premium on my GI insurance policy, so that if I become totally disabled for six months or more I will receive a monthly payment from VA. If I should become disabled, would these payments I receive be deducted from the face amount of the policy?

A—No. Monthly payments for total disability for which you are paying extra premiums do not decrease the face amount of your GI insurance policy.

SIGNS OF LIFE
Every traffic sign placed on a Minnesota road or street is there for a purpose. Usually that purpose is to help you avoid an accident by driving carefully. All the various types of warning and control signs are your signs of life, says the Minnesota Safety Council. A good driver will heed them and live; a poor or careless driver will ignore them and either kill himself or some innocent person. Obey the "signs of life" and live!

At the end of 1953, nearly 33,000 retired employees of Bell System companies, including Western Electric and Bell Laboratories, were receiving service pensions.

BENEFITS FOR OLD FOLKS

There have been increased benefits for old folks, the blind, and for the children who have lost their parents, but more important there is a kind human treatment of these persons in Minnesota under C. Elmer Anderson, a regular fellow himself, who feels deeply that these unfortunate folks need a kindly, helping hand. The Friends of C. Elmer Anderson Committee, Leonard Boeder, Brainerd, Secretary, who are paying for this space, urge you to help in this work by keeping Anderson governor.

Imagine you all know how hard it is to break a pecan nut and get the kernel out in one piece. Put the pecans in hot water and leave them until the water cools before removing them. This softens the shell and the kernel comes out perfectly whole.

Recent Real Estate Transactions

Stanley Donarski has completed a deal for a farm in the Brooks area and will take charge of the new farm next spring. Stanley has spent some time this fall preparing his fields for next years crop. The last few years he has farmed together with his father Joe Donarski and his brother Raymond and has covered a wide area doing custom hay and straw baling. Stanley is a hustling body who can tackle a tough job with a smile and his many friends wish him well on his own farm.

Leonard Torkelson has added another 40 acres to his farm. The 40 is not improved but Leonard has plans for having it bulldozed and otherwise prepared for production.

Morris Lindstrom purchased 80 acres of virgin land across the road, east from his home farm. Morris has bulldozing equipment so it will not be long before we see some more prairie in that direction. We wonder where the deer will make their home with all the tree and brush trampling going on in all parts of the Strandquist community.

Gunnar Sundberg, according to recent rumors, has sold his 400-acre farm to a Mr. Paul Flater from West of Stephen. Gunnar a few years ago bought the 80 acre farm from the Peter Stromberg estate, added another 80 acres to it and then bought the P. O. Hanson farm directly north and adjoining his home farm. He built a new house and a new chicken house on the home place besides opening up many acres of new land. This spells progress and Gunnar is a progressive farmer. The Sundberg's have not decided what their future plans will be so we hope they will decide to stay in the community.

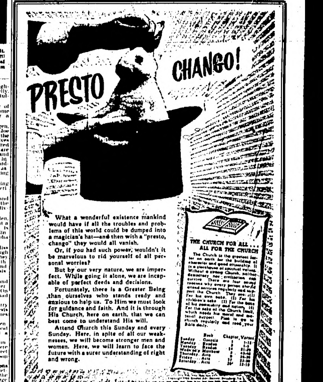
Mrs. Albert D. Hanson, Teacher



What a wonderful existence mankind would have if all the troubles and problems of this world could be dumped into a magician's hat—and then with a "presto, chango" they would all vanish.

Or, if you had such power, wouldn't it be marvelous to rid yourself of all personal worries?

But by our very nature, we are imperfect. While going it alone, we are incapable of perfect deeds and decisions.

Fortunately, there is a Greater Being than ourselves who stands ready and anxious to help us. To Him we must look for guidance and faith. And it is through His Church, here on earth, that we can best come to understand His will.

Attend Church this Sunday and every Sunday. Here, in spite of all our weaknesses, we will become stronger men and women. Here, we will learn to face the future with a surer understanding of right and wrong.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"A SHELL GAME AND NO YOLK"

It isn't so much the taste as the tax that makes omelettes costly, hens snooty and produce dealers slightly cracked. Which is a very bad "yolk" about a pretty serious shell game that's going on all about us. National Retail Grocers Association has come up with the disturbing news that buried in the cost of each breakfast egg you coddle so carelessly, are exactly 100 taxes: feed miller 14 taxes, feed dealer 14 more, rails hauling feed 11, poultry raiser 10, produce dealer 17, farm trucker 20, and ultimate retailer 14. Nor does that appalling array include the tax on the hen's capacities and the reader's credulity.

52 GAME AND FISH LAW VIOLATORS ARE ARRESTED

Arrest for game and fish violations during the month of August totalled 52, resulting in fines amounting to $1,092.50. This compared with 61 arrests and fines of $1,626.00 for the same period in 1953.

August arrests included 29 fishing, 10 wild rice violations, 3 transporting loaded firearms, 3 game refuge violations, 2 big game, 2 migratory waterfowl, and 1 each for netting, polluting state waters and transporting uncased set up guns.

WASHINGTON quiz

Q—Were Japan, Korea, Formosa and Indo China included in the new Pacific charter pact recently signed at Manila?

A—No. The nations signing the pact known as SEATO included Australia, France, New Zealand, Pakistan, The Philippines, Thailand, The United Kingdom and the United States.

Q—Is there any time limit on the sessions of Congress?

A—Yes. The constitution provides the Congress shall hold an annual meeting starting January 3. The Legislative Reorganization Act requires adjournment sine die not later than July 31. Since one congress cannot bind another, the adjournment date can be changed by a later Congress. In the McCarthy censure case a legal question has arisen. The House adjourned as required, sine die. The senate adjourned to meet later to vote on the McCarthy censure (now set at Nov. 8), but there was no change made in the Reorganization act.

Q—What authority does the Department of Interior have in Alaska?

A—The Department operates the Alaska Railroad, maintains an Alaska Road Commission, and an Alaskan Purchasing and Shipping Office. It also is custodian of thousands of acres of public lands, including oil-rich naval reserves. Some controversy recently has arisen over probability of opening up these oil reserves for private development.

Q—What is the inscription over the portico of the Supreme Court Building?

A—"Equal justice under Law." It was written by the late Justice Charles Evans Hughes.

Lendobeja for the East Smiley group and Mrs. Rudolph Hanson for the North Smiley group. Jim will have the west Smiley group. It is to be sincerely hoped that everyone will give generously to such a wonderful cause and that Smiley will be able to have the excellent standing it generally has in its quota. It must be remembered that whatever one gives has to be divided between eight charitable causes.

Harlan Knutson was the victim of an accident Saturday morning. He and Mark Olson were attempting to put a pump jack under Mr. Knutson's pickup full of gravel in order to change a flat tire. With the County Agent

By William Penning, Pennington Co. Agent

4-H Spells Opportunity

An opportunity for practical education, character training and good fellowship—those are some of the things the 4-H program means to members in Pennington county and throughout the nation, says County Agent William Penning.

As National 4-H Achievement Day, November 13, draws nearer, 17 county 4-H clubs are hoping to enroll more members than ever before into their organization where members "learn by doing." Boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 21 may get information about 4-H clubs by contacting their local leaders or their county extension office.

Penning explains that projects open to 4-H members include fields as livestock production and crop production, home economics and general projects like junior leadership, home beautification, tractor maintainance and soil conservation.

Livestock projects are popular with the boys and girls alike. Members learn to raise and care for beef and dairy cattle, sheep, pigs, poultry and rabbits.

Crop production offers opportunities for work with corn, potatoes or grain market and home gardens and fruit.

Home economics projects give members a chance to develop skill in bread baking and food preparation, clothing, food preservation, home assistance and home furnishing. In many counties, boys have given girls in the club strong competition in bread baking and food preparation.

A year's project usually culminates in demonstrations or exhibits at local achievement days, county fairs, and, finally at the Minnesota State Fair. Members who raise beef, hogs, and sheep may get a chance to exhibit and sell them at the annual Junior Livestock Show in South St. Paul.

Opportunities to give demonstrations, judge livestock, hold offices, serve as junior leaders and assist younger members with project work are all offered in 4-H.

They provide leadership training and are excellent preparation for citizenship, says Penning.

Recreation is an important part of 4-H activity, too. Many clubs have their own softball or basketball teams. Picnics, sleighrides, parties, music, and play festivals are all a part of the 4-H club program.

Penning says, a membership drive is now underway and if you are interested in joining a 4-H club see the local 4-H leader in your area or come in to the extension office for information.

Prepare Farm For Rat Control

With the hint of cold winter winds, rats are coming "into town" for the winter. Their "town" is your farmyard—the granary, barn and the farm home.

A successful rat-checking plan includes four steps: First, eliminate the rat's food supply; second, eliminate possible rat "apartments"—would you move into town if you could find no apartments or homes to rent or buy? Third, protect buildings by rat-proofing. And fourth, kill the rats that have moved in and prepare to liquidate those on the way.

The common brown rat, the only rat that lives in Minnesota, usually lives underground, beneath stored materials, in double walls and other enclosed places. Stored materials such as old lumber should be put on racks 12 to 18 inches above the ground and debris shouldn't be left to pile up.

A big factor is food. Authorities advise placing all garbage in tight cans and disposing of it so rats can't get to it. Stored foods should be placed in rat-proof cans or in places where rat can't reach them.

There are many good rat proofing materials. In new structures, a little care to keep the construction tight and minus possible hiding places will save trouble later on. In old buildings, such materials as cement, hardware cloth and sheet metal are good rat-proofers.

Traps and poisons are two good ways of getting rid of rats that have already moved in. Most successful, however, are poisons. A good one is available at the drug, hardware or feed store with instructions on using it.

One warning: poisons are designed to kill, so handle them with care so you kill only rats.

Test Soil Now

Now is the time of year that soil testing should be done. With a soil test correctly taken you can determine the amount of fertilizer that should be used on your crops. The Soil Testing laboratory [illegible] the University of Minnesota has all the modern machines necessary for an accurate soil test, so plan now to send samples of your soil in for a test. Come to the Extension Office for further information and the necessary equipment. It is very important to take your soil sample correctly to get an accurate test.

We Are At Peace!

I am sure that you share our enthusiasm and pride in the achievements of the Eisenhower Administration. At the top of the list we want to place the end of the Korean bloodshed. (You have perhaps noticed how silent the Democrats are on this one issue. After only six months in office, our President fulfilled his promise to end the Korean War. I feel that I would like to say "thank you" to him, and I know you do too. We can express our gratitude to him by giving him a Republican Congress this fall. Then he will be able to complete his fine program. The Democrats claim to have had prosperity — but we know it was a bloody prosperity, a war-time prosperity. Now we are making a transition from war to peace. We want PEACE and prosperity!

Mr. Stevenson, in a speech in Sioux Falls, said that the farmer "will live a little less dangerously if he votes for the Democratic candidates this fall." Live a little less dangerously under the Democrats! Tell that to the farm boys who lived through the Korean blood bath, and tell that to the parents of these boys! I sometimes wonder if our Democratic friends view things in the proper perspective.

WE ARE AT PEACE!

For the first time in decades there is not one place on the face of the earth where man is pitted against man in the awful carnage of open warfare. To women, that alone, is the greatest single achievement of our time. This is, indeed, a blessing for which women are profundly grateful.

To keep the peace we now enjoy, won't you please be sure to vote Republican on November 2.

Ada Man New President of RRV Dairymen

G. M. Thompsen Succeeds Stuart McLeod, Who Had Served Assn. 34 Years

Approximately 500 men and women from thruout this section of the state attended the 51st annual meeting of the Red River Valley Dairymen's association last Thursday in the municipal Auditorium.

The election of officers was featured by the voluntary retirement of Stuart McLeod from the leadership of the organization, after having served as a director since 1920 and as president continuously for 32 years with the exception of the period from 1929 to 1933 when Dr. A. A. Dowell of Crookston served. Named to succeed McLeod as president was G. M. Thompsen of Ada, former treasurer and long-time board member.

Other changes made in the official family include the election of Verne Evenson of Viking as secretary, succeeding H. A. Petry of Ada, who had served five years; and Richard Fitzsimmons of Argyle, treasurer. R. A. Stommes of Crookston was reelected vice president.

The afternoon program opened with a half-hour concert by the Lincoln high school band directed by John Moum, following which J. M. Roche, secretary of the Civic and Commerce association welcomed the visitors and Richard Fitzsimons made the response.

The first speaker was Ralph Wayne, U. of M. extension dairyman, who looked into the future of the dairy industry. Much of the dairyman's future, he said, must be decided on the farm rather than in the halls of Congress.

He advised his hearers to strive to improve the quality of the dairy cows and to pay more attention to breeding, feeding and care of the cattle. He also stressed the importance of merchandising dairy products, and pointed out that events such as Northwest Dairy Day exert a powerful influence for the betterment of the dairy industry.

Lew Conlon, manager of the Minnesota dairy industry committee, told of the far-reaching advertising program of the American Dairy association carried on thru radio, television and magazines. He said that consumer surveys had demonstrated that the promotional campaigns definitely increased the use of butter, milk and other dairy products.

Conlon said that Northwest Dairy Day which originated in Thief River Falls five years ago has become famous thruout the nation. After telling of the appearance of Princess Kay of the Milky Way, state dairy princess,

58 ry Couples Are Ho ed at Banquet He y RRV Dairymen

Fifty-eight honor dairymen and their wives, representing as many creameries in the Valley, were given tribute for their achievements in the industry at the annual banquet of the Red River Valley Dairymens association in this city last Thursday evening. Nearly 350 persons attended the dinner, which was efficiently served by members of the BPO Does. W. E. Dahlquist was toastmaster.

The affair was the first public event to be staged in the commodious new National Guard armory, which showed itself to be well adapted to the purpose, with complete facilities and ample car-parking space.

T. M. McCall, superintendent of Northwest school at Crookston, welcomed the honor guests, complimenting them on their achievements. He also paid tribute to the pioneers, saying that that same spirit is needed today to blaze new trails.

Myron W. Clark, state commissioner of agriculture, introduced attractive Sonja Sharpe of Shelly, 1954 Northwest Dairy Princess, who spoke briefly and played a marimba solo, following which President Stuart McLeod, in behalf of the association, presented her with an overnight case.

Mr. McLeod also introduced G. M. Thompsen of Ada, his successor as president; Verne Evenson of Viking, new secretary; and Richard Fitzsimons of Argyle, new secretary.

With Lew Conlon serving efficiently as auctioneer, the butter used in the judging contest earlier in the day was sold to Carl

DFL Aspirants Lead in Nearly All Contests

Freeman Hold Big Lead for Governorship; State Senate Race Close

Riding along with a Democratic trend apparent thruout the nation, in which the Democratic party gained control of the lower house of Congress, Minnesota voters reelected Senator Hubert Humphrey, and as the Times went to press this morning, DFL aspirants were in the lead for nearly all state offices, and Mrs. Coya Knutson of Oklee was leading Harold C. Hagen, incumbent, for Ninth district congressman.

With a little more than half Minnesota precincts reported at 10 a. m., Humphrey was leading Val Bjornson 357,000 to 262,000, while Freeman was ahead of Governor Anderson 334,000 votes to 271,000, and Mrs. Knutson was leading Hagen by a margin of about 20,000 to 17,000.

In an exceedingly close race for state senator from the 65th district, W. E. Dahlquist, incumbent, lost out to Roy E. Wiseth of Goodridge by a margin of 116 votes. Dahlquist carried Pennington county by 141 votes, but lost in Clearwater by 120 votes and in Red Lake county by 137 votes.

W. E. Day of Bagley, incumbent, and B. M. Wichterman of Plummer easily won election as state representatives, getting respectively 7,032 and 6,681 votes to 3,492 for Adolph W. Olson of Shevlin and 211 for Mrs. Mildred Westacott of Thief River Falls.

City Relatively Free of Trouble Halloween Night

This city last week-end maintained its reputation of being relatively free of destructive activities on Halloween night, Police Chief Elton Cummings reported. A survey revealed that three outdoor toilets were tipped over in the north outskirts of the city, in addition to which some garbage cans were upset and paint was daubed on the door and steps at 111 St. Paul av. N.

Doc Evans Jazz Band to Appear in Opening Concert Here Nov. 10

Four programs will be presented throughout the 1954-55 Concert Season by the Northwest Concert association, it was announced today. The first program to be heard will feature Doc Evans and his Dixieland band Wednesday evening, November 10 in the Lincoln high school auditorium.

Other programs in the series include Eddy Ruhl, famous tenor, on Thursday, January 13; the Harp Vocal Quartet on Monday, February 7; and the Knickerbockers on Wednesday, February 23.

The four programs chosen for this year were among the top five favorites of the membership which indicated its choices as the membership drive was conducted. In addition to the four programs to be presented here, Dave Vaaler, president, stated, members are able to hear as many as twelve different programs by using the reciprocity agreement which exists among association assisted by the University of Minnesota. The program will be explained during this year's first concert.

Membership returns during this year's drive reached the 1954 total, but was not equal to the goal set for this year. However, since the drive was closed, so many requests for memberships have been made that the board of directors decided to make an exception to the usual rules and allow the sale of memberships at the Lincoln auditorium on the night of the first concert.

The Doc Evans group has been very successful in its tour this fall. Other concert associations in the state have been highly pleased with the program.

Eddy Ruhl has been enthusiastically received in cities throughout the east, and especially in Miami and New Orleans. This will be his first western tour since returning to the United States from Europe where he has been performing since 1947.

The Knickerbockers, a mixed vocal quartet, are in the style of the Chanticleers, who were so successful here last year. Their program will feature every kind of vocal music.

The Harp Vocal quartet is made up of four outstanding concert artists and their program will feature solo presentations as well as ensemble features.

Polio Chapter Here Gets $7,100 Check

National Foundation Provides Patient Care

A check for $7,100 from March of Dimes headquarters in New York was received here this week by the Pennington county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Roy J. Oen, chairman of the chapter, said the check would help pay the costs of care already provided for polio patients at home or in hospitals. "Our community," he added, "is deeply grateful to everyone whose contribution to the Emergency March of Dimes last August now makes it possible for us to pay our most pressing bills."

For several months only token or partial advances were made to chapters requesting March of Dimes emergency aid. This was because headquarters funds were exhausted in paying the heavy costs of patient care while undertaking the new costs of initiating a polio prevention program, Mr. Oen explained.

"This March of Dimes aid relieves the pressure on our chapter for the time being," Mr. Oen said. He went on to explain that the chapter is currently providing March of Dimes funds, in whole or in part, for the care of one patient stricken this year, in addition to two who got the disease in previous years.

Hospital Dedication Put off until Spring; Open House Shortly

The board of trustees of Northwestern Hospital has decided to have the formal dedication of the project at the time when the remodeling of the present building is finished. This should be about March 15, 1955. However, as soon as the new addition is fully complete and equipment in place, it will be open for public inspection on a Sunday afternoon. The exact date of this opening is held in abeyance until hospital authorities are sure that everything will be in place and ready for such an inspection.

All finishing work on the new addition to the Hospital is expected to be complete within the next two weeks.

Monday afternoon, workers from the Pengelly X-Ray Company arrived on the job and are now busy setting up the new cystoscopic x-ray equipment and moving the diagnostic x-ray equipment from the old hospital to its new location in the addition. It is expected that this work will be completed by Friday. At that time, a 4-inch water supply line will be worked into the water system of the hospital in the vicinity of the present x-ray room. The new line instead of the present 1½-inch water supply line is necessary in order to furnish sufficient water for the new structure.

The Aslesen equipment experts have been at the hospital and have held two conferences with dietary personnel, showing them how all of the new machines in the new kitchen set-up are to be operated. It is to be expected that the change-over from the present dietary setup to the new will be done with a minimum of confusion. The new laundry has been operating for same time and is very satisfactory.

It is expected that sometime this week all lobby furniture and office furniture will also be moved into the new hospital. Following the arrangement of new equipment in the hospital, there will be a gradual transfer of medical and surgical supplies to the new building so that at the time of shift of patients, there will be a minimum of activity.

At the time of moving of patients into the new hospital, a move which cannot take place until final inspection of the new addition by the Minnesota department of health and U. S. Public Health Service, all old equipment must be moved from the present building to make way for the remodeling process.

It is probable that all of these changes will take place sometime during the month of November.

St. Olaf College Orchestra to Play Here November 16

Famed Instrumental Group to Appear in Concert in High School Auditorium

The St. Olaf college orchestra, Donald H. Berglund, director, will present a concert Tuesday, November 16, at 8:15 p. m. in Lincoln high school auditorium. The concert by this group of 60 musicians will be under the auspices of the Senior Luther League of Trinity Lutheran church.

In recent years, the St. Olaf Orchestra has been acclaimed by audiences and music critics as one of the finest groups of its type to be heard in the Upper Midwest.

This group of sixty college students under the leadership of Mr. Berglund and Concertmaster Richar Sieber has been hailed by music editors for producing very excellent results with student personnel. A reviewer had this to say: "One fact about the St. Olaf college orchestra that reflects on the excellent work of Mr. Berglund is that the orchestra is made up entirely of students of the college—only hard, consistent work over a period of years makes this possible. Each player displayed a high degree of technical competence."

In this year's concert program the musicianship of the director and the talents of the individual members and of the group as a whole will be apparent to the listeners. It is an unusual opportunity to hear an orchestra composed of young college musicians present a program including such works as the Bach-Albert "Prelude, Chorale and Fugue," Bizet's "L'arlesienne Suite No. 1," Humperdinck's "Prelude to Hansel & Gretel." In addition, two soloists will be featured, Solveig Maakestad, Cello, and Ronald Richardson, French horn.

Ada Man Elected Head of Red River Valley Dairymen

at the recent International Dairy Show in Chicago, he introduced Sonya Sharpe of Shelly, Northwest Dairy Princess, and a runnerup for state honors at the state fair this fall.

Miss Sharpe briefly described her experiences as a competitor in the statewide contest, and then rendered a marimba solo.

Myron W. Clark, state commissioner of agriculture, was the final speaker, discussing the topic, "A Challenge to the Dairy Industry."

Some of the things we must try to improve, he said, include disposing of dairy products elsewhere than to the government, improving and protecting quality, and studying new methods of processing and marketing dairy products.

Clark endorsed the action taken by the association earlier in the day in adopting a resolution calling for the compulsory grading of butter.

The program closed with a vocal duet by Ara Peterson and Floydeen Lilstrom, Lincoln high school students.

"DEAR OLD GOLDEN RULE DAYS . . ."

In Morristown public school Jeanette, John, Betty, Donald, and Frank Ahlman are enrolled, respectively, in seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth, and eleventh grades.—Pupils in the sixth grade of the Widsten school last year made a pictorial map of Minnesota, showing the principal products or activities of many cities and sections of the state.—The fifth grade in Aurora, busy range town, is, of course, very much interested in mining; in a fascinating classroom demonstration each student impersonated a part or an activity in iron and taconite mining and handling, and told, either from family experience or careful research, how it is done and its place in the over-all ore, iron, and steel picture.

Junior High Pupils to Offer Operetta Nov. 9

The Lincoln high school auditorium will be the scene of the junior high school opperetta on Tuesday evening, November 9, at 8:00 p. m. The chorus, numbering approximately seventy singers from the seventh and eighth grades, will present "The Emperor's Nightingale" by Helen J. Windsor. The story is based on a fairy tale by Hans Christian Andersen.

The setting of the story is in ancient China which at that time was called Cathay. The action begins in the palace of the emporer who will be played by James Terrian. He is assisted in state affairs by his noble and somewhat pompous prime minister, David Thorstad, and his loyal music master, David Green. Matters will be further complicated upon the entrance of the real nightingale, Julie Brown, and the toy nightingale, Carol Nesland.

Maidens of the court whose only purpose is to beautify the scene will be played by Barbara Battleson, Mary Baumann, Connie Botten, Dianne Bugge, Carole Ewing, and Betty Nick. Kitchen maids who through the entire production are never near a kitchen will be played by Audry Terrian, Karen Alby, Mary Lee Bishop, Kathleen Hamilton, Shirley Koglin, Bonnie Scullthorp, and Arlene Terrian.

Arlan Hjelle, Gary Lofgren, Tom Mehlhoff, and Dale Wennberg are Chinese fishermen. David Fischer, Orrin Helgeland, and Don Weinberg aid the plot by serving as doctors, watchmakers, and "men who generally fix things."

Court secretaries include Judy Bredeson, Bonnie Burell, Shirley Efteland, Gail Emanuel, Nancy Gunderson, Nancy Knight, and Arlene Peterson.

The music master's students will be played by Karin Larson, Sandra Skjod, and Judy Wold.

Yvonne Olson, Margaret Stokke, and Rosemary Stokke are the court tumblers.

Admission charges are fifty cents for adults, and twenty-five cents for students. There will be no advance sale of tickets.

In 1954 the International Association of Rattlesnake Hunters bagged nearly a ton of squirming killers near Okeene, Oklahoma. Much of their catch went to biological laboratories for milking of venom to be used in snakebite serum.

Birdsfoot Hurt by Winter

Empire and Viking birdsfoot trefoil suffered only minor 1953-54 winter injury in tests at the University of Minnesota's Rosemont Agricultural Experiment Station and on the St. Paul Campus.

But five other varieties killed out from 53 to 98 per cent. They were French, Granger, Cascade and Oregon Narrowleaf. For winter - hardiness comparison, they were grown alongside Ranger alfalfa.

Considering the "lasting quality" necessary to make a birdsfoot trefoil pasture a paying proposition, only Empire can fill the bill at the present time—and it is high-priced. There is little Viking seed on the market.

University agronomists A. R. Schmid and H. L. Thomas say that in southeastern Minnesota several pasture renovations seeded with Empire have survived six years and more with a good stand and production.

However, at the University's branch experiment station at Morris, Crookston and Grand Rapids, they have had difficulty making even Empire survive in pastures.

In yields at St. Paul, plots of alfalfa - grass - birdsfoot trefoil outyielded plots of grass birdsfoot trefoil or birdsfoot trefoil alone.

They advise Minnesota farmers to try birdsfoot first on a small plot, using Empire along with bromegrass and timothy, inoculating the seed and using the best possible seeding method.

They suggest a sticker such as skim milk or a half-and-half mixture of corn syrup and molasses and water to help the inoculum stick to the trefoil's smooth seed coat.

Seed early in spring at five to eight pounds per acre with six to eight pounds of bromegrass or four pounds of timothy. Such legumes as red clover or alfalfa may give birdsfoot too tough competition its first year.

Avoid heavy competition from a companion crop by reducing its seeding rate, not using any, mowing it for hay or grazing it lightly. Seedlings of birdsfoot trefoil are small, slow-growing plants, difficult to establish.

Thinking of Rewiring?

When you're thinking of rewiring, here are some points: You'll want to be sure that your house has the capacity to use most efficiently the new electric tools — TV, workshop, tools, motors, appliances. Planning enough capacity will not make your home more convenient, it'll save you money later on. Expanding capacity after wiring is done is far more expensive than doing it when the system is rewired. These tips come from Don Bates, extension agricultural engineer, at the University of Minnesota.

Good Quack Control

University weed control specialists have found an excellent control of quack grass in alfalfa seed crops in tests in Roseau and Lake of the Woods counties. It's 25 pounds of TCA per acre, sprayed on plowed land in the fall. Plowed fields sprayed in the fall of 1953 and sowed to alfalfa this spring remained very clean the entire summer. This tip comes from Ray S. Dunham, professor of agronomy and weed control specialist at the University of Minnesota.

CHATTING with your HOME AGENT

Margo Olson

This week, a series of leader training meetings on "Making Meat More Palatable" is being given in the extension home program. Many of our rural women have mentioned that they would like to learn to make sausages. We will have a bulletin in the extension office very soon on making sausages, called "Sausage Recipes." If you plan to make sausages this fall, I know that you will find this bulletin helpful.

There are a few important points to remember when making sausages.

1. First, last and all the time, KEEP CLEAN any product or utensil to be used.

2. Do not use meat of questionable character.

3. Chill meat rapidly and keep chilled thoroughly until used; avoid extremes in temperature.

4. Have grinder knives and plates sharp. Dull plates and knives cause a certain degree of heating.

5. Process meat as soon as possible after grinding, according to formula.

6. Mold in sausage is caused by poor material. Mold on the outside can be prevented by storing in a dry place.

7. Do not soak casings too long, one day in hot weather, two days in cold, as souring may result.

Pork Sausage

There are many ways of making pork sausage, but the one of best quality is made from clear pork trimmings without the use of water. Water may be used to increase the amount of meat for the sausage. Four parts of pork and one part of beef make a good mixture, especially if seasoned as follows: 40 lbs. pork; 10 lbs. beef; 1 lb. salt; 3 oz. pepper; 5 oz. sage and 5 lbs. water.

You may add bread, boiled potatoes, or rice to the above mixture, but remember that sausage containing any of these is harder to keep because it sours easily if kept for any length of time.

The meat is first ground thru the coarse plate and then spread out on a table and seasoned. Then the meat is ground thru the fine plate. Next the water is added and the meat mixed as bread dough—by pushing your fists through the mass until the water has been completely absorbed. This will probably take 20 minutes of fast work. The resulting meat mixture should be sticky, but not crumbly. The sausage may be put into casings or may be used in bulk. Either pork or sheep casings may be used, linked or left in straight lengths. Pork sausage may also be made up into packages of one pound or larger and wrapped in aluminum foil in rolls that may be frozen. When the sausages are to be used, these rolls may be sliced in uniform patties.

If your husband will be deer hunting soon, you will want to use some of the deer meat in making sausages. This recipe for deer sausage comes from "Cooking Wild Game" cook book available at the Carnegie Library in Thief River Falls.

Deer Sausage

The process of making venison sausage begins at the time the deer is butchered and divided. Many tough parts of the carcass are not suitable for choice cuts. Save these and to them add an equal amount of fresh pork. Grind the whole, turn into a large pan, and season. Seasonings should include, besides salt and pepper, a sprinkling of red pepper and a small amount of sage. Knead and work the entire mixture together, after which it may be served as hamburger or stuffed in sausage skins.

DALE CARNEGIE

★ AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING" ★

MARGARET E. LAMBERT, 821 Bronx River Road, Bronxville, New York, says that there came a time when her family was broke, really broke, with exactly eighty-seven cents in the family exchequer. After the war her husband, Johnny, had started his own business; it folded in a short time, "from riches to rags in ten easy lessons." Unable to find work in his particular field, no money, no source of income, two small children to care for. They had lots of worries.

CARNEGIE

A conference was called and it was decided that Margaret would go back to work. That idea she enjoyed. Being a nurse, she was able to work at night which left her free in the day time to care for the house and children. Her husband helped all he could and they were both pretty busy every minute with formulas, cooking and the innumerable daily chores.

Busy but not unhappy. They had no time to worry about the butcher's bill or the payment on the mortgage which was long past due.

It was an experience she says she would not have wanted to miss, for she learned from it that if we keep busy doing something constructive about solving our problems, do the very best we can, living for today and letting tomorrow take care of itself, there is no time left for useless fretting and worrying. So one fine day they woke up to the discovery that their troubles were behind them.

What did it? Steady application!

Buddies May Take Air Force Basic Course Together

T-Sgt. Ray Dunn, in charge of local Air Force recruiting, announced today that young men of this area enlisting in the Air Force in groups of two or more will be assured of taking their basic training together under the "Buddy System."

The system was established to ease the transition of the young airmen from civilian to military life.

Under this plan, new airmen from this area arriving at the Basic Training Center at Parks AFB, California will be assigned to the same training flight and barracks, taking their basic training together.

Further information pertaining to enlistment in the USAF under the Buddy System may be obtained from T-Sgt. Dunn at the USAF Recruiting Station in the Elks building in Thief River Falls.

The Splendor of Self-Control (Temperance).

Lesson for November 7: Proverbs 14: 29; 15: 1-3; 16: 32; 20: 1, 22; 23: 29-35.

Golden Text: Proverbs 16: 32.

The lesson deals with anger and strong drink. As to the first we learn that he who rises to the highest of all mastery, self-control, is greater than the mighty man who taketh a city. There is nothing to be more desired, in the time of anger, than to be cool and the master of one's spirit. For anger, unrestrained, disturbs the reasoning faculty and ruins a man's better judgment. A man, giving way to violent anger, is less able to deal with a wily opponent. And, if no serious trouble comes, people will say that he made a spectacle of himself, and he will be remembered as a man who cannot control his temper.

As for the control of one's appetite for strong drink, a man should avoid learning the evil of it when he has drained the cup to the bitterness of the dregs. Beverage alcohol is advertised and pictured as a wondrous thing, associated with flowers and beautiful and pleasant things. But nothing is said about its ruinous effect upon body and mind. If drinking wine three thousand years ago was found to be ruinous in the extreme, what should be thought of the distilled and potent drinks of the present.

Sorrow, violence, and disaster of many kinds come to the man who tarries long with strong drink. Yet, despite all the woe that comes upon him, he is seldom cured by adversity. And when at last he rises from a spree, he says, "I will seek it yet again." Both by precept and example, Christian people should set themselves resolutely against the use of beverage alcohol.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Veterans with personal problems or questions should consult Leo L. Haley, Contact Representative, Room 210-211 Post Office Building, or box 875, Grand Forks, North Dakota.

Q—I am a Korean veteran studying dentistry under the Korean GI Bill. Would it be possible for me to take my internship in dentistry, also under the Korean GI Bill?

A—It would be possible, provided the internship does not exceed one year, and provided it is an integral part of an approved course fulfilling the educational requirements for certificates by a dental specialty board.

Q—I have been granted a waiver of premiums on my term National Service Life Insurance policy because of total disability. Could I convert my term insurance to a permanent plan while the waiver is in effect?

A—Yes. However, you would not be permitted to convert to an endowment plan while you are totally disabled.

Q—I am a Korean veteran with a service-connected disability rated at zero percent. Am I eligible for permanent GI insurance available to disabled Korean veterans? Or must I have a disability rated at 10 percent or more?

A—You may be eligible for the permanent Korean GI insurance, even though your service-connected disability is rated at zero percent.

Q—I am planning to go to school under the Korean GI Bill, and I want to list my mother and father as dependents for GI allowance purposes. Their only income is a disability compensation check my father, a World War I veteran, receives each month. Other than that, I have been supporting them. Would those compensation payments bar me from declaring them as dependents?

A—No. VA compensation payments may be disregarded in determining dependency of your mother and father. So long as they do not have any other income sufficient to provide reasonable maintenance, you would be permitted to count them as your dependents.

HOME Garden TIPS

LEON SNYDER
ORRIN TURNQUIST
EXTENSION HORTICULTURISTS
UNIVERSITY FARM, ST. PAUL 1, MINN.

Protecting Ornamentals

Many of our perennials are considered hardy; nevertheless, they often benefit from a mulch applied late in the season. A mulch applied just after the soil has frozen slightly will help prevent the frequent alternate freezing and thawing which annually weaken and kill so many of our plants.

• • •

A coarse material that will not smother the plants is recommended for the mulch. The large leaves from soft-wood trees and many fleshy annuals, perennial flowers and weeds are likely to pack when moist and hence are not recommended for mulching. Clean, coarse straw, marsh hay, evergreen boughs or oak leaves are excellent mulching materials. Remember that plants are alive and respiring at all times, hence a loose material which permits air circulation is necessary.

• • •

All hybrid roses, with the exception of the species types, must have winter protection. Be sure to bring in soil from another part of the garden and have it available for application after the soil freezes. Mound up soil around the base of the plant to a depth of 6 to 8 inches. Don't dig the soil from near the plant, for in doing so you might expose some of the rose roots. After the soil has frozen, add 6 to 8 inches of a coarse mulch such as was mentioned before. Applying the mulch after the soil freezes will generally eliminate the possibility of mice overwintering there.

• • •

To overwinter garden chrysanthemums, it's necessary either to take stem cuttings and grow them indoors before the tops are killed or to move the plants to a cold frame. Cut off the tops after the plants have completed their flowering. Dig and place them in a cold frame and water thoroughly. Cover the plants with a dry, coarse mulch of 3 to 4 inches. Replace the glass sash or cover with boards to keep out excessive moisture which often kills the plants. Chrysanthemum plants must have good drainage to survive the winter.

Sid Vraa Stars as Prowlers Whip Crookston 48-0 in 1954 Finale

Sparked by the 34-point performance of quarterback Sid Vraa, coach Ralph Skjod's Prowler football squad closed out their 1954 schedule by defeating the Crookston Pirates, 48 to 0, at Crookston on Friday night. The win gave the locals a season's record of seven victories and one defeat, and an outright claim to the 31st district championship.

The Prowlers had a bit of trouble getting their offense under way on Friday night, with the Crookston Pirates stalling the locals the first two times they gained possession of ball, forcing Vraa to kick. Midway in the first period, after Crookston had picked up a first down to carry to their 40-yard line, Pepper Vysaker fumbled with the Prowlers recovering on the Pirates' 45-yard line. Mark Bjorkman, in two plays, carried to the 30-yard line.

Vraa failed to gain at center; but Bjorkman, on a lateral pass play, ran for a first down to the 10. Pete Froehle hit left tackle for three yards, and then Vraa piled through the same spot for a touchdown. On the point try, Vraa passed to Froehle to give the Prowlers a 7 to 0 lead.

The Prowlers broke the game open by scoring a pair of touchdowns in the second period, starting one drive on their own 20-yard line and, on six consecutive first downs, marching for a touchdown, with Vraa scoring on a 4-yard plunge. Vraa placekicked the conversion point. Four plays later, on the Crookston 30-yard line, Froehle and Bjorkman rushed through to block a Pirate fourth-down kick. From the 21-yard line, Vraa circled right end to score, hitting the goal-line at the east end of the field for the tally.

In the third period, Louie Wedul recovered a Crookston fumble on the Pirates' 35-yard line, and the Prowlers were away for another touchdown. Vraa, from the 17-yard line, knifed through center, reversed his field to the left and ran for a td. Vraa booted the extra point.

Froehle intercepted a Crookston pass on the Prowler 31-yard line to send the locals on another touchdown drive. A pair of first downs, with a Vraa to Lee Kjos pass gaining 21 yards, moved the ball to the Crookston 36-yard line. Vraa broke through right tackle and out-ran the Pirate secondary for the score. Vraa's placement was off to the left of the uprights.

Rodney Collins added a pair of Prowler touchdowns in the fourth period, scoring from the 1-yard line after a Crookston penalty had moved the ball to the 1-yard stripe. Vraa's placement gave the Prowlers a 41 to 0 lead.

Ron Severson intercepted a Crookston pass on the Prowler 37-yard line late in the period, and three first downs carried to the Crookston 2-yard line. Collins drove over left guard for the tally, and the extra point was added on a placekick by Bradley Teal.

Youngsters Enjoy Movie Parties, Parade and Teen-age Dance in Armory

Witches, goblins, clowns and tramps were much in evidence Saturday when the Thief River Falls Lions club was host to youngsters of the community at its annual Halloween festival.

A costume parade at 7 p. m. made its way from the arena thru the business district and to Lincoln high school, where the second of two movie shows was enjoyed by a large crowd. The parade was headed by the high school band, and wound up with the fire truck.

Earlier in the afternoon, a movie show was given for the smaller children, and treats were distributed. Winding up the evening was a well-attended teen-age dance in the new National Guard armory, which was decorated for the occasion in a Halloween theme.

Children whose costumes won prizes in the parade included Lynn Whisler, Diane Quam, Gregory Brosseau, Janice Travis and Judy Rodekuhr, Larry Molakness, Gary Hanway, Barbara and Meg Wurst, Richard Przybylski and Jean Dryden.

At the afternoon party, first prize for the most original costumes went to Mary Lou, Karen and Keith Mackenroth, who were attired in Indian costumes.

Plummer Loses to Clearbrook 26-18

The Plummer Cardinals, after trailing by a 25 to 0 score early in the third period, rallied for 18 points in the third and fourth period and caused Clearbrook some anxious moments before time ran out, giving Clearbrook a 26 to 18 triumph.

The Cardinals out downed the winners, holding a 10 to 4 advantage on first downs, but fumbles, particularly in the first period, proved costly to Plummer. Twice the Cardinals were inside the Clearbrook 10-yard in the first period only to have fumbles halt the drives. One fumble occurred on the 2-yard line, and another bobble was made on the 5-yard line.

Navy Set Dec. 11 for Examinations for H. S. Seniors

Information Available at Recruiter's Office in Municipal Auditorium

The ninth annual competitive examination for high school seniors who desire to attend college and train for careers as naval officers will be held thruout the nation on December 11, the Navy announced today. Applications for the NROTC are now available, but must be received by November 20, the announcement said.

Successful candidates will start their naval careers in colleges and universities across the country in 1955, with substantial financial assistance from the government. After a normal college education, graduates will be commissioned in the regular Navy or Marine Corps, for active duty with the fleet throughout the world.

Male citizens of the United States, between the ages of 17 and 21 are eligible to apply for the NROTC aptitude test. Persons who attain a qualifying score will be given the Navy's rigid midshipman physical examination next February. From the pool of qualified candidates remaining in competition, approximately 1,800 young men will be selected for appointment to the NROTC, and the college of their choice.

Students enrolled in the regular NROTC program will spend their summers on training cruises with the fleet, and will receive $600 annual retainer pay until commissioned. In addition to the normal college curriculum, the midshipmen will study a planned course in naval science. All tuition, fees and books will be furnished by the Navy.

This college training program is also open to enlisted men on active duty in the Navy and Marine Corps. Such candidates will be selected under a separate quota established for the services.

The local Navy recruiting station in the municipal Auditorium has application forms.

Records—Records—Records

The thoroughly chilled fans that watched coach Ralph Skjod's Prowlers wrap up their 1954 football schedule on Friday night by scoring a 48 to 0 win over the Crookston Pirates on Crookston's wind-swept Highland Park field, were also watching three record-making performances by the Prowlers.

When the Prowlers tallied 48 points against the Pirates, the local squad boosted their season scoring record, in eight games, to 263 points. And that 263-point mark bettered the team scoring record set by last year's club, which scored 237 points in eight games.

On the individual level, the Prowler's Sid Vraa, having a "field day" on offense, ran for five touchdowns and booted four placekick conversions to score 34 points, setting a new school record for single game scoring. And Sid's 34-point splurge shoved his season mark to 131 points, and that figure bested, by considerable, the mark of 112 points set by Jack Erickson in 1951.

Sid earned the touchdowns that he scored on Friday night, too, having runs of 7, 4, 21, 17, and 36 yards to hit "pay dirt"; and his extra-point conversions, well four-out-of-five is just normal for Sid's "educated toe." Sid had a remarkable placekick average this season, making 23 conversions in 29 attempts.

While Sid's scoring, both against Crookston and for the season, set records for the Prowlers, it's possible that he is more valuable as a defensive player than as a player on attack. Those 4500 fans that witnessed the game at Bemidji, which the Prowlers lost by a 25 to 0 score, left the field that night agreed that Vraa was the game's outstanding performer. And Sid's work that night was strictly on the defensive order, eluding blockers and making tackles all over the place.

The Date is the 18th

Sports fans in general, and basketball enthusiasts in particular, should make a memo to be in attendance at the high school gymnasium on the night of November 18th, for that's the date when Abe Saperstein's fabulous Globetrotters will play an exhibition game here. Adding to the evening's interest will be the presence of Bevo Francis in the Trotters lineup. Francis sky-rocketed to fame as a high-scoring center for the Rio Grande college team the past several seasons.

Can't Win 'Em All

Phil LeGault, who has made a habit of collecting wagers on the Michigan and Michigan State football teams whenever they played the Gophers, finally was "taken", and by Al Christofferson. Phil, a native of Gladstone, Michigan, is a die-hard Michigan fan, and when Al offered to take the Gophers in last Saturday's tilt in Minneapolis, the left-hander nearly sprained a wrist in his hurry to cover the offer.

Came Saturday, and Bob McNamara's stellar performance which gave the Gophers a 19 to 13 win, and Phil's winning habit was broken. The latest report is that Al is going to photo-stat that check of Phil's.

Worthy of Mention

While we are closing out the gridiron season, and before we have taken down the goal-posts and cleaned out the lockers, we had better make a mention of the play of the Prowlers 'B' squad. The blue-and-gold B's, coached by Derwood Swede Lund and Dick Edlund, played four games, winning three and have one game tied. The B's defeated Crookston, 26 to 0; Grand Forks Central, 7 to 0; and East Grand Forks, 7 to 6. The one tie game, a 7 to 7 affair, was against East Grand Forks.

The local B's had a versatile backfield, consisting of Jimmy Hall, Jan Hunt, Glenn Wedul and Dave Rasmussen; and the line, Robert Rosengren, Phil Jeanette, Don Jorstad, Keith Johnson, Roger Anderson, Roger Heyn, Ken Jones and Smith, was adequate. In fact some of these boys—Hall, Hunt, Wedul, Jeanette, and Jorstad—dressed with the Prowler varsity in a number of games. One, in fact, Jimmy Hall, was practically a regular.

Blue Bombers in League Finals

The Winnipeg Blue Bombers, defeated the Regina Roughriders, 13 to 11, at Regina on Monday night, won the semi-final series and earned a place in the best-of-three finals against the Edmonton Eskimos. Winnipeg, in a two-game-total-point series against Regina, had been tied, 14 to 14, in the game played at Winnipeg last Saturday night, and it was somewhat of an upset to have the Bombers outscore Regina, by two points, at Regina on Monday night.

Vraa Sets Lincoln Scoring Record

Quarterback Racks up 131 Points This Season

Quarterback Sid Vraa, concluding his Prowler football career, scored five touchdowns and four conversion points against Crookston on Friday night, and that 34-point effort boosted Sid's season mark to 131 points, for a new school scoring record. Vraa entered the Crookston game needing 15 points to tie the record held by Jack Erickson, who scored 112 points during the 1951 season.

The Prowlers as a team, scoring 48 points against Crookston lifted their season's point total to 263, bettering the school record of 237 points set by last year's club.

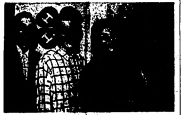
New State 4-H Officers Spark Drive



New officers of the Minnesota State 4-H Club Federation are assuming their duties this month as leaders of an organization of 48,000 club members.

They are, left to right: Harris Byers, 20, Westbrook, Cottonwood county, vice president; Paul Mark, 17, Bricelyn, Faribault county, treasurer; Ardelle Kosola, 20, Britt, North St. Louis county, president; and Lorraine Knutson, 19, Montevideo, Chippewa county, secretary.

Along with other members and club leaders, these young people are taking an active part in the annual 4-H membership drive now under way in this county and throughout the state. Climax of the drive is November 13, National 4-H Achievement Day.

October Traffic Deaths in State Reach Peak of 69

Ten-months Total is 521, Compared to 530 for Same Period in 1953

More people were killed on Minnesota's streets and highways during October than in any other month of 1954, according to preliminary reports received late last weekend by the Minnesota highway department. The department's latest available figures show that 69 fatalities resulting from motor vehicle accidents were charged against motorists during the month—13 more than during October of last year. They brought the 10-month toll to 521, as compared with 530 during the comparable period of 1953.

Not only did October deaths set a new high for the year, but they broke the four-month downward trend in fatalities which began in June, and all but wiped out the fine gains recorded through September, which showed 1954 traffic deaths trailing those for 1953 by 32 at the end of that month.

The year's worst accident resulted in six high school youngsters being killed in a railroad grade crossing accident in St. Cloud. Four other multiple-death accidents claimed another 10 lives.

More than half of the month's toll—39 deaths—came from accidents in which single motor vehicles were involved—accidents such as railroad grade crossing mishaps, which took a total of eight lives; running off the roadway, which killed 15; missing curves, which resulted in another eight lives being lost, and other needless accidents such as falling out of vehicles and hitting bridge abutments.

In 1953, the Bell Telephone Companies published about 3,000 different telephone directories which contained 40,000,000 subscriber listings. Some 90,000 tons of paper were required to produce the 60,000,000 separate copies.

How a joint account works

A joint checking account is one account opened and used by two people. When starting such an account, both the individuals concerned sign an agreement that either may draw checks against it. Either may also make deposits.

Many couples find special advantages in maintaining a joint account: for example, any bill can be paid by the husband or by the wife, however it's most convenient. Other couples prefer to maintain separate accounts. Either way, a checking account is a great help in managing family finances. Start one with us.

Lutheran Clothing Appeal Opens Nov. 7

To Collect Garments for Needy in Foreign Lands

The Reverend Luthard O. Gjerde, executive director of the Lutheran Welfare Society of Minnesota, has announced that the annual Lutheran World Relief Thanksgiving clothing appeal will be held from Sunday, November 7, through Saturday, November 27.

Lutherans throughout the state have been asked to bring good used clothing to their churches, where it will be sorted and packed. Churches from outside the Twin Cities area are to ship their clothing to Lutheran World Relief, c-o Larson Transfer Company, 2010 21st Avenue South, Minneapolis.

Last years national response to the Thanksgiving clothing appeal resulted in a gathering of close to 3,000,000 pounds. The needs of people in Germany, Holy Land, Korea and other areas continues and makes it of the utmost importance that we meet this challenge issued us, said Rev. Gjerde.

Farm Income Tax Study Course at Goodridge School

The first of a series of weekly income tax classes began at the Goodridge high school Tuesday, November 2. The classes will continue weekly until the subject has been covered sufficiently to enable any farmer to keep the records he needs for state and federal tax purposes, and to fill out his own returns where there are no unusual complications if he desires to do so. Most farmers will probably prefer to have the returns made by some one specializing in that work.

The new law has mane several important changes in tax reporting. It also provides coverage of farmers and farm laborers for social security in their old age. Farmers can only take advantage of these benefits by keeping proper records and filing reports each year.

The course will be taught by C. R. Wright, veterans agriculture instructor at Goodridge, who has had experience as an attorney specializing in tax work since 1909. He is being assisted by Don Olson, commercial teacher at Goodridge.

State Drive for Crippled Children Opens This Week

Preparations Made to Mail 500,000 Letters to Minnesota Citizens

The 1954 Golden Crutch campaign for Minnesota's physically handicapped opens this week, according to Mrs. Harold R. Holmberg, campaign chairman of Crippled Child Relief, the sponsoring organization.

Preparations are being made to mail more than 500,000 letters all over the state of Minnesota, and a larger goal than ever has been set for the campaign.

Crippled Child Relief sponsors the campaign to raise funds to provide medical attention, therapy, physical appliances and rehabilitation for crippled children and adults.

A part of this year's funds will be used to furnish additional equipment for the newly completed two-floor rehabilitation center at the new Mayo Memorial building at the University of Minnesota. Crippled Child Relief has already donated $68,000 for this work.

Crippled Child Relief is a private, charitable organization formed in 1929, to provide help for the many crippled children who could not obtain aid in any other way. It employs no paid workers, preferring instead to depend upon the services of volunteer workers to help the handicapped.

Another worthy cause which was included in this year's Crippled Child Relief program is the Minnesota Homecrafters, Inc. Through funds advanced by Crippled Child Relief, homecrafters are able to carry out an expanding program providing commercial work and employment to homebound handicapped people.

LET'S BE FACTUAL

When the Cudahy Packing Company sold its St. Paul plant several weeks ago the sale was cited as another instance of an industry being forced out of business in our state because of taxes. The closing was given widespread publicity and several editorials pointed out the need for an overhauling of our tax structure.

But the publicity releases did not tell the whole story. The St. Paul plant was only one of eleven branches the Cudahy company has already sold and company officials have announced that they intend to sell ten more. It is their plan to retain only fourteen plants in which they now do 60% of their volume. Plants already sold were located in Illinois, Pennsylvania, New York, Georgia, Florida and Alabama as well as in Minnesota, so there appears to be no justification for the inference that Cudahy has left Minnesota because of especially onerous taxes.

We all want industry to do well in Minnesota and no one would favor a tax structure that would put Minnesota industry at a disadvantage in competition with the industry of other states. But we believe those who are speaking for industry in these matters would be more effective if they were more factual.

While some adjustments in our tax structure probably could be justified, there is no justification for the great and continuous hue and cry about the unfairness of that tax structure. And this constant clamor in itself is definitely harmful in that, by misrepresentation of the facts, some industries probably are discouraged from locating here. Unfortunately the misinformation is coming from sources that are generally regarded as responsible.

SUBURB SANITATION

The city council let contracts last week for sewer and water mains for the north area that came into the city a few years ago, and it is good that this problem now is definitely settled. It is an expensive installation but a necessary one that already has been delayed too long.

This particular area was properly platted and planned and fits nicely into the pattern of city expansion. This is not true of some other areas that should eventually become a part of the city. There undoubtedly is a need here, as there is in other growing municipalities, for better control of suburban developments. An orderly growth, with due consideration for future utility installations, adds to the desirability of suburban property and also its dollar value.

This problem of suburban development was given much consideration at a recent American Public Health association meeting in Buffalo. One of the speakers stated that "—in the past ten years a greater number of inadequate home sanitary systems have been installed than we got rid of in the previous half century."

In the suburbs of the large cities this cesspool problem is a real health menace. In any community where homes are built close together, each served by its own well and its own cesspool, there is danger. It is well therefore that sewer and water are now being provided for the well settled suburb that recently became a part of the city.

OUR FIRST OBLIGATION

We spent 20% less for foreign aid in the year that ended June 30 than in the previous year, according to a report by the Secretary of Commerce, and that is good news. The total expended however, still was well over five billion dollars and that's a lot of dollars to be giving away.

There no doubt has been justification for much of the assistance we have given to other countries during the past nine years. Without this assistance it is quite likely that the Iron Curtain would be much closer to us and a great deal more menacing than it is today. If, eventually, we are able to establish a firm peace in the world, the help we have given to war shattered nations probably will be recognized as an important contributing factor.

But five billion dollars shouldn't be spent needlessly either, and now that Europe is well along on the road to economic recovery we should be able to make more rapid progress in reducing the cost of this assistance. Our first obligation to ourselves and to the world is to keep our own economy sound and it probably would be well for us to concentrate on this problem for a while.

Now that the election is out and over we can settle down to the routine chores again, hoping we didn't make too many mistakes in our election day selections. Those elected now have the responsibility of directing our public business for a couple of years. Two years from now we will have an opportunity to check on their accomplishments and then we will decide whether or not they have measured up to their promises. From now until then we will muddle through somehow.

Solving one problem sometimes creates several new problems, and so it is with the efforts that have been made to dispose of some of the government's surpluses. The department of agriculture sold 600 million pounds of milk powder at a sacrifice to be used in livestock feed. Now the cheese industry is telling the department to quit such nonsense because the sale of milk powder at bargain prices is ruining the market for whey—with which the government is also well supplied. Our sympathy goes to the department officials who so far have travelled only down dead-end streets. It appears that it is about time for the dairy industry to bestir itself in an effort to help the government solve its problems. The industry might learn something about surplus controls from the fruit growers.

Our Town Makes Good in New York City

Couldn't place a new subscriber named Clark, but I found out who they were last week when they dropped in The Clarion's office.

"We're native New Yorkers," Mrs. Clark said, "and all our friends there are originally from other places. We always felt left out when they talked about things 'back home.'"

"That's why we 'adopted' your town and to get all the news we subscribed to The Clarion. Now we have a 'back home' to talk about—and we think it's the most wonderful town there is!"

From where I sit, just about everyone thinks his own home town is best. Picking your town comes natural. The right to do this "picking," though, is what really counts. Whether it's a favorite town, a favorite cut of meat, or even a choice of a beverage—say between beer and buttermilk, it's respecting the right to this freedom of choice that makes a good neighbor. I hope you subscribe to that!

What's new with Chevrolet? everything!

And look what you see from the driver's seat
Chevrolet's new Sweep-Sight Windshield curves around to vertical corner pillars, giving you a wide, full view. And you can see all four fenders from the driver's seat!

Wonderful new Glide-Ride Front Suspension
New spherical joints flex freely to cushion all road shocks. New exclusive Anti-Dive Braking Control, assures "heads up" stops.

New Outrigger Rear Springs
Rear springs are longer—and they're attached at the outside of the frame. This means they're spaced wider apart, outrigger-fashion, to give you greater stability in cornering. And Chevrolet's new Hotchkiss drive cushions driveline shocks through the rear springs!

Even Air Conditioning, if you wish
Air is heated or cooled by a single unit that fits compactly into the front of the car. Requires no trunk space! (V8 models only.) And that's only one of the wonderful extra-cost options you can get!

Great new V8—two new 6's
New "Turbo-Fire V8" delivers 162 h.p. with an ultra-high compression ratio of 8 to 1. You can choose from two new 6's, too—the new "Blue-Flame 136" with Powerglide (optional at extra cost) and the new "Blue-Flame 123."

OVERDRIVE
CONVENTIONAL DRIVE

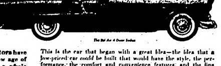
Easier steering, stopping, clutching
The new Chevrolet steers with ball-bearing ease, thanks to new friction-cutting Ball-Race Steering. New Swing-Type Pedals pivot at the top.

A ventilating system that really works
Chevrolet's new High-Level Ventilating System takes in cleaner air at hood-high level—away from road heat, fumes and dust.

Three drives, including Overdrive
There's Powerglide teamed with the new V8 or the new "Blue-Flame 136." New Overdrive teamed with the new V8 or the new "Blue-Flame 123." (Powerglide and Overdrive are extra-cost options.) New standard transmission, too!

Tubeless tires as standard equipment
On all models! Proved tubeless tires give you greater protection against a blowout . . . deflate more slowly when punctured.

. . . and Chevrolet's got that long, low "let's go" look
It's a show car from the word go! Longer looking—and lots lower. There's plenty of glamor inside, too—plus more room for hats, hips and shoulders!



The Bel Air 4-Door Sedan

Chevrolet and General Motors have started something—a whole new age of low-cost motoring—by taking a whole new look at the low-cost car. Here are new ideas, young ideas . . . and some of tomorrow's ideas, too! And they're all rolled up in the most glamorous package that ever wore anything like a Chevrolet price tag!

This is the car that began with a great idea—the idea that a low-priced car could be built that would have the style, the performance, the comfort and convenience features, and the fine quality "feel" of high-priced cars.

This is the car that only the world's leading car builders—Chevrolet and General Motors—could have built. The Motoramic Chevrolet!

Come in and see how the Motoramic Chevrolet for '55 is far more than a new model. It's more, even, than a completely new car. It's a whole new idea about cars!

Come in and meet the motoramic Chevrolet

THROUGH THE YEARS

Forty-nine years is a lot of railroading: A. P. Jamieson at St. James has called it enough, and retired from the Omaha line.—At a hale and hearty 107 years Albert Woolson, Duluth, celebrated the 90th anniversary October 4 of his enlistment at Mankato in Company C of the First Minnesota Heavy Artillery. Today Mr. Woolson is acclaimed the last survivor of the 2,675,000 "boys in blue" of the fateful 1860s.—After the colorful Golden Wedding, marital anniversaries are not so numerous; at Montgomery Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kuntz celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary with a buffet supper for more than half a hundred guests.

$70,000.00 School Bond Carried By Large Majority

203 voters of school district 65 braved inclement weather in order to cast their vote for or against the $70,000.00 bond issue necessary to construct a gymnasium auditorium in connection with the Strandquist school. The one sided vote of 166 for the bond issue and 37 against, indicates a progressive trend as regards school interests. The sentiment vote cast at the last election was 167 for giving the board authority to get estimates on the construction of a gymnasium, and 67 against giving the board such authority. Harley Johnson, a Minneapolis architect, has been employed and when plans are approved by the school board and bonds have been sold the building will get under way. Building material, such as masonry and iron may be shipped in during the winter but it is not expected that any actual construction will be done until next spring.

Mrs. Ed Carlson entertained a group of women Friday evening in honor of Mrs. Gena Thrane. Gena had baked a cake, supposedly for the teachers and wondered why they didn't come to get it! when one after the other of the ladies came she finally tumbled a party was in the making. Vernon Tossel showed some interesting slides of Minnesota, Winnepeg and also the guests of honor. Gena has made many friends here and they all wish her well when she goes back to Karlstad to work in a coffee shop that has recently been opened by Trygve Ingebretson. The ladies gave her a group gift to remember them by. Mrs. Carlson served a delicious lunch including (Gena's) cake.

Tragedy has entered the household of Mrs. Don Jensen (nee Marion Senstad) of Minneapolis when her two year old child drank winter green. While Mrs. Jensen was making dinner last Friday the children had gone to the bath room and helped themselves to a bottle of winter green out of the medicine cabinet. The child had an asthma condition and it is thought that also aggravated his drinking the winter green potions. We sincerely sympathize with Marion over this accident.

Mr. E. O. Grafstrom, who has been hospitalized at Greenbush, is now making his home with his daughter, Mrs. Clarence Lundstrom and is very much improved in health. Mr. Grafstrom, who is 85 years old is going to Salol to vote in place of getting an absentee ballot as he hasn't missed this privilege since he took out his citizen papers in 1912, six years after he came to this country. That is what is called real patriotism.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Paulson, Nina and Mrs. Otto Paulson spent Friday at Thief River Falls and Erskine and were supper guests at the home of Lester Paulson of Brooks.

Please leave the address of your service men with Mrs. Ella Thun or Mrs. Raymond Anderson as it would save a lot of time and driving.

Mrs. Robert Koland and Mrs. Holger Hougard were hostesses to the Sunshine club at the Koland home Thursday evening. Election of officers were held and the new officers are Mrs. Wm. Hansen president, Mrs. Ed Carlson, vice president; Mrs. Wm. Wikstrom, secretary; Mrs. Henfred Bernardson, treasurer.

Strandquist Ind. Cons. school news Oct. 28 grades 1-2. We are happy to report that the following have had perfect attendance for the first six weeks of school: Neil and Dorothy Anderson, Billie Berg, Myrna Lou Carlson, Theresa Grembowski, Robert Gustafson, Linda Johnson, Margaret and Sandra Hohn, Dennis Kasprowicz, Leland Kleinwachter, Faith Larson, Gary Lund, Larry Onger, Carol Renstrom, Ronald Bud and Sharon Stallock. Larry Onger surprised the children by bringing his big panda. Faith Larson brought a pretty doll. Sharon Stallock brought some dishes. We learned to set the table.

Eugene Grembowski returned to school after some absence.

Dorothy Anderson, Larry Onger, Leonard K. and Earl Ryan brought pumpkins to school one day, so we made jack-o-lanterns. We all wanted to have our pictures taken on Thursday so we had perfect attendance that day.

Grades 2-3

Grade 2 had perfect attendance the first six weeks of school. Betty, Gerald, Daniel, Mary Ann G., Loretta Ann, Grace, Sandra, Marlys and Arlys of grade 3 had perfect attendance also. The 3rd grade have science readers. They will also have science class two days a week. Our spelling group has begun the car race for this next 6 weeks. Each "100" means a mile in the race. Nearly every student in the room had his car moved ahead one mile this week. We have had no visitors for several weeks. It would be nice if some of the mothers would come to visit us.

Grades 4-5

We have a new United States map in our room. It is different from our other maps, because we can feel as well as see the mountain and hilly parts of our country. We have been planning for a Halloween party on Friday afternoon. We plan to play games and have a lunch. Corlenne's mother visited us Thursday afternoon. We wish more of our mothers would come and visit school.

This week we had our eyes examined by Dr. Johnson from Karlstad. Some of us will have to have our eyes examined again. We had our pictures taken on Thursday morning. Everybody was here. We have had very good attendance this week.

Grades 6-7

We enjoyed our two days of vacation last week when the teachers attended convention. The following had "100" in spelling. Tern, Janice, Judy, Shirley W., Shirley C., Anna C., Shirley B., Eileen, Don, Richard, Joan, June, Ina Lou, Camilla, Arlene, Judy R., David, Ivadell and Douglas. Dr. Johnson from Karlstad tested our eyes this week. We had our pictures taken today. Of course we will be eagerly waiting to see them.

Grades 7-8

Those who had perfect attendance the first six weeks of school were Robert Kline, Marlys Brekke, Harriet Hansen, Charlotte Hoskins, Betty Kasprowicz, Marie Kleinwachter, James Larson, Marlene Rud and Joyce Sundberg.

In the "Magazine Sales Drive" Joyce Adlis is the 8th grade captain, and Roger Sundstrom the 7th grade captain. So far Charlotte Hoskins has sold the most. Both grades are doing very well and are trying to be on the winning side.

At our last class meeting, we decided to have a Halloween party on Friday. James, Jerold and Robert B. are on the entertainment committee. Betty and Marlys are on the lunch committee. We voted to hold our meetings every two weeks and bring 10c dues to be used for activities that we may plan to take part in later on in the year.

Those who had "100" in spelling last week were Ralph, Roger K., Roger L., Phillip R., Joyce A., Robert B., Marlys B., Gerald C., Joan, Margaret, David, Harriet, Charlotte, Betty, June, Marie, Grace, James, Marlene and Joyce S.

As an art project the girls are commencing to make posters to advertise our carnival which will be held at the village hall on Thursday evening, Nov. 18th.

In science, grade 8 has illustrated by free hand drawing symbols used by the weather bureau, also land and sea breezes.

More than four billion, 600 million dollars will be spent by the U. S. oil industry in 1954 to expand and develop its resources and facilities to meet the growing needs of this country now and in the future. All but 600 million dollars will go toward domestic needs.

Smoking Check Made by Cancer Society

More than 1400 volunteer researchers, all members of the Minnesota division of the American Cancer Society, will begin this week with their third "smoking survey" follow-up of 14,901 Minnesota men. The study is part of a nationwide survey on smoking habits as related to cancer and heart disease.

The men, all aged 52-71 if still living, are among the approximately 190,000 men living in nine states who have participated in the survey since it began in 1952.

That a definite relationship exists between regular cigarette smoking and death by not only cancer but diseases of the coronary arteries as well has already been established by the survey, which has been conducted by the American Cancer Society. The society's researchers hope the study may eventually lead to the discovery of the agent or agents in cigarette smoke that have apparently produced increased death rates among middle-aged men.

Dr. David P. Anderson, Austin, president of the Minnesota division, says that of the 14,911 Minnesotans originally participating in the study, the present whereabouts of only ten are unknown to the volunteer researchers. While the survey was originally seen as lasting more than five years, Dr. Anderson says that the high quality of work done so far by volunteers in Minnesota and the other eight states may make it possible for the survey to be completed considerably sooner.

The study was undertaken for two reasons, Dr. Anderson points out. First, to determine whether smoking has an influence on death rates from lung cancer. Second, to find if smoking has a significant influence on the overall death rate and, if so, what diseases are involved.

According to Dr. Anderson, the volunteers who have been collecting data for the national study are accomplishing at very small cost what might well cost millions of dollars if done commercially.

Plan Committee on Conservation in Every County

Commissioner Wilson Seeks to Consolidate Projects on Local Level

County committees on conservation representing all conservation organizations on a county level is the objective of a drive launched this week by Chester S. Wilson, commissioner of conservation. Richard J. Dorer, supervisor of the bureau of game, has been named state coordinator by Frank Blair, director of the division of game and fish.

The essential function of the county committees will be to consolidate surveys and projects at the county level. "The county committee," Frank Blair declared, "should prove invaluable from the standpoint of fact finding in game surveys and giving direction to a coordinated conservation program for all clubs and organizations within the respective counties."

The action program recommended by the department of conservation invites particular attention to conservation education, land and water surveys, soil and water conservation, education, land and water surveys, soil and water conservation, tree planting and forestry, reports of game and fish surveys, state parks, youth activities in conservation, and other projects of local merit.

According to Richard Dorer, a department representative in each county will be named to spark the drive. Cooperating personnel will include field employees of all divisions, particularly game wardens, state foresters and game and fish field men.

Pharaoh Michael Wilding gifts young physician Edmund Purdom for saving his life, and offers him the post of royal physician, while his warrior friend Victor Mature looks on in this scene from "The Egyptian," at the Falls Theatre Sunday. The CinemaScope Spectacle is in color by De Luxe, and will be shown starting Sunday for 4 days.

Seek to Organize An Army Reserve Unit at Goodridge

A meeting will be held at the Goodridge school Friday evening, November 12, for those interested in joining a unit of the United States Army Reserve, Capt. David M. Brown stated this week.

Anyone enlisting in the military service after June 18, 1951, from the age of 18½ to 26 must serve 8 years on active duty and in the reserves. Anyone who is 17 years of age can enlist with the consent of his parents.

Those who serve in an active reserve unit have the advantage of receiving pay for attending drills and obtaining retirement benefits. If there is enough interest, Brown said, there is a possibility that a reserve unit can be established in Goodridge or vicinity bringing the benefits of the active reserve program to this area.

200 Sunday School People Meet Here

Workshop Is Conducted In This City Last Friday

Two hundred delegates from Thief River Falls and other towns throughout the Northwest attended the Sunday school workshop sponsored by the Minnesota Sunday School Association held here on Friday, October 29.

Workshop sessions were conducted at the Covenant church, the Evangelical Free church, the First Baptist church, and the Assemblies of God tabernacle by a team of seven workers from Minneapolis, representing the association.

Main speaker at the afternoon and evening sessions was Dr. Edward Simpson of Northwestern Schools, Minneapolis.

Dinner was served to the delegates by the Zion ladies aid. Miss Judith Wold was banquet committee head, providing for table decorations and handling ticket sales.

The local planning committee consisted of Pastors Joseph Swan, Leonard Lindholm, E. L. Brenneise, Eva Peet, Jonas Helland, and Robert Abbott, chairman.

Marshall Co. Wet-dry Election Set Jan. 10

The question of municipal sale of intoxicating liquors will again come before the voters of Marshall county at a special election to be held Monday, January 10th, 1955, according to an announcement last week by Levi G. Johnson, county auditor.

The election date was chosen by Auditor Johnson after legal technicalities involved had been submitted to County Attorney A. A. Trost and to the Minnesota attorney general's office. Legal authorities agreed that the election could not be legally held until at least thirty days after the date of the annual village elections early in December, and hence the January 10th date was selected by the auditor.

Petitions asking for the election were circulated thruout the county this fall, and the required number of signers was obtained. There has been some question, however, as to the legality of some signatures and the methods by which they were obtained, but it is understood that the dry element does not plan to contest the validity of the petitions.

A similar election was held in the late summer of 194[illegible], when voters of the county turned down the liquor sale proposition by a margin of about 600 votes. The heaviest wet vote was in Warren and the villages of western Marshall county, all of which were influenced to some extent by the possibility of profit from the traffic in liquor. Rural sections, in the large majority of cases, returned solid majorities for the dry cause.

Both sides are planning active campaigns in advance of the election. Some regret is being voiced at this early date, however, that the "charge and counter-charge" which feature such a campaign must come during the Christmas season.

Army Offers Tour of Europe with 10th Inf. Division

Any young man desiring a tour in Europe is invited to sign up now and go with 10th Infantry Division.

In conjunction with the establishment of a unit rotation policy by the Department of the Army, the 10th division, Fort Riley, Kansas, has been selected to replace the 1st Infantry Division in Europe.

Fifth Army has been assigned the task of furnishing a major portion of the personnel for the division through the recruiting service. Effective immediately authorization is granted to enlist or re-enlist persons for direct assignment to the 10th division, within 2 to 90 days after date of last discharge or separation, who qualify for grades E-4 through E-7.

Anyone desiring assignment to the 10th Infantry Division is asked to contact Sgt. Clemenson, Army recruiter at the city Auditorium, Thief River Falls, for further information.

TOUCHDOWN FOR YOU?

Watch that Quarterback carry the ball! He's over for a touchdown . . . and victory!

But it was more than an outstanding run by a great quarterback. The coach had carefully worked out the play. It had been practiced over and over. There were signals, blocking, deception—all according to pattern.

In the game of life, you must carry the ball. You must strive toward the goal. But you must not run blindly and without help. To win, you must run according to pattern—this one the Master Pattern—of love and brotherhood.

Come to Church. Learn how to live from Him who is the Master Coach. Win the victory of peace and salvation.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

Now that the election is over, political interest turns to the 1955 session of the state legislature and the myriad of problems that will be up for consideration.

Once again the central concern will be finding sufficient revenue to meet existing and new demands. With pressure for the repeal of the personal property tax mounting, the matter of a sales tax will again receive serious attention, and between now and the opening of the session one can expect to hear a good deal of discussion of this hot issue.

But other issues will command top attention, too. Among them will be increasing the basic state aid for education, raising the share of state support for town and county roads, increasing state support for various welfare programs, the revising of the state constitution, and legislative reapportionment.

Who Will Lead the House?

As this is written, the results of the Tuesday election are not known, and there may be some doubt as to who will organize and lead the House of Representatives. Since 1939 the House has had conservative leadership, with Majority Leader Roy E. Dunn, of Pelican Rapids, in command.

This session could see—even if the election produces no startling upsets—a good deal of shifting in the power that organizes and directs the proceedings of the session.

Between now and January there will be a good deal of maneuvering and negotiating as the legislative leaders prepare for the opening of the session. It is not impossible that tough fight for control may shape up during this period.

Fight on Reapportionment

For many sessions now one of the big issues has been the redistricting of legislative districts, but not since 1913 has this been done. As a result, there are wide differences in the populations of the districts, and the clamor for more equitable representation has grown over the years.

This time there is likely to be an even keener fight on the question. The Minnesota League of Women Voters and other organizations are placing this issue high on their agendas, and it is not unlikely that some progress will be made.

Reapportionment has always been regarded as an urban-rural controversy, with rural legislators presumably opposed to redistricting for fear of losing control of the legislature. But in recent years there has been a significant change in the attitudes of many rural legislators who have come to feel that the inequities have grown too large and that something should be done about the problem.

Reform May Be In Air

There are many other measures similar to reapportionment that may get some real attention in this session. All serious students of Minnesota government are agreed that many reforms should be accomplished by way of modernizing and streamlining our state governmental structure.

Our state constitution is almost 100 years old and has many provisions that no longer are appropriate for efficient and economical government. A modernization move could simplify and streamline the governmental setup, and there are signs that we may be at the turning point where many legislators are prepared to support needed and necessary improvements.

If the reform spirit is strong enough, the legislators may decide to resurrect the report of the Little Hoover Commission of four years ago and adopt a number of its recommendations calling for the reshuffling and elimination of a number of agencies and services.

Election Law Revision

This column has repeatedly called attention to the inadequacy of existing state election laws. We do not have adequate controls over contributions and expenditures in political campaigns. Our ballot is much too long, requiring voters to decide among scores of contenders for public office about whom they have little or no information.

Our primary system provides an open invitation to all kinds of frivolous candidacies and makes it extremely difficult for a political party to operate as a responsible agency.

Perhaps this will be a session in which the full sweep of the election laws—including the Presidential Primary law — will be reviewed. An interim commission on this subject could render a real service to the state.

Busy Days for Solons

These next eight weeks will be busy ones for state senators and representatives. From all sides will come representatives of organizations of all types urging upon the legislators that they consider certain items of legislation. The solons will be wined and dined, implored and beseeched, argued at and even browbeaten into giving favorable attention to forthcoming proposals. It is all part of the legislative process. For the legislators it will mean — for the better ones — many hours of homework, and for the others a round of discussions that will serve to acquaint them with the problems that will be before them when the session opens.

Golden Rule Club Enjoys Outing

Friday, Oct. 29th the Golden Rule Club ladies with Ivan Kimbrough as chauffeur drove over to Crookston for a day of fun. And we really had fun. First we visited the new sugar beet plant. It was really interesting. The odor from the beets was nauseating, and the higher we got the worse the odor, and the heat got worse. But with Ivans' determination and the ladies' curiosity we reached the top. From floor to floor we saw many interesting pieces of machinery and how it worked. We saw how they dropped the beets into an open feeder about 25 feet from the building leading into the building and then emptied into a large vat where they were thoroughly washed. On the next floor they were crushed but we were not able to see through this large crusher. But on the next floor we saw it come out on rollers and rushed into another boiler for processing. While on these rollers it resembled boiled spaghetti. On another floor they were ground, then put into a dryer, on this dryer was a glass window where we could look through and at last we saw real sugar, laying in small heaps upon flat round disks. On another floor they sacked the sugar. Exact weight was worked with a tripper and was fun watching. Helen Peterson got a chance to taste the sugar before it was sewed up and she said it was still hot. This visit took us about an hour and by then we were ravenously hungry, so we took off for the grill, where the boss man ushered us into the alcove in back, a little room that seemed to be made just for our group.

The food was very good here. We then shopped for a couple of hours, and then we went over to Don Peterson's home for a social hour. She expected us, and served us the most delicious lunch which we enjoyed immensely. On our way home we dropped in at the old folks home in Warren and visited there about an hour which the patients always enjoy and many of them sent greetings to all those they knew here in Strandquist. All in all we had a most wonderful time and are already wondering where we should go next fall and thanks to Ivan, the man behind the wheel who made it possible for us to sit at ease and do our sight-seeing with not a care in the world.

WASHINGTON QUIZ

Q—What is the population of the average Congressional district?

A—In 1950, the last congressional reapportionment, the average population was 349,400 giving the House a membership of 435. Under this apportionment, four states, Delaware, Nevada, Vermont and Wyoming have only one congressman, although they have two Senators, as do every other state. The constitutional requirement is at least one Congressman to a state.

Q—Must a Congressman reside within the district he represents?

A—Legally No. The constitution requires only that he be a resident of the state. But it is considered politically expedient for him to reside in his district.

Q—Has a Congress ever refused to seat a member who did not reside within his district.

A—No, the last time such a question arose was in the 70th Congress when a Congressman was elected from the Pennsylvania first district which is within the city of Philadelphia. The Congressman claimed however that his residence was in Pennsylvania and he was seated.

Q—Has a President ever served in the Senate after leaving the White House?

A—Yes. Andrew Johnson who served as President from 1865 to 1869 was elected to the Senate March 5, 1875, and died on July 31, 1875. In the 1954 election, Alben Barkley who served many years in the Senate and was Vice-president during the Truman administration, is running for the Senate.

Q—How many newspapermen, radio and Magazine correspondents cover the Congress?

A—At the first session of the 83rd Congress there were approximately 1,200 correspondents accredited to the House and Senate Press galleries.

THE MINNESOTA STORY

Prepared by the

Minnesota Historical Society

MEANING OF MINNESOTA

The territory of Minnesota was named from the river which was the principal tributary of the Mississippi in the area which was later to become the state.

The name, which was applied to the river, has always had an uncertain meaning. Some say that the name meant a river of clear water, which the Minnesota is not. Others believe that the name implies a cloudy water.

The Sioux called the great Missouri "Minneshoshay" which means "muddy water." The river further north was called "Minnesota." There has always been some question concerning the meaning of the term "sota."

Some of the early people most familiar with the Dakotah language said that sota meant clear. While this river is not clear it is, certainly, much clearer than the Missouri. Other experts said that the term meant turbid. Henry Schoolcraft, who knew much of the Indian languages said that the term sota meant bluish-green.

The great explorer, Jean Nicollet, made an analysis which is interesting. He said "The adjective sotah is of difficult translation. The Canadians translated it by a pretty equivalent word, brouille, perhaps more properly rendered into English by blear. I have entered this explanation because the word really means neither clear nor turbid, as some authors asserted, its true meaning being found in the Sioux expression Ishtahsotah for blear-eyed.

Others believed that the term referred to neither blue nor white but to a reflection of a peculiar appearance of the sky. Others think that a good translation would be sky-tinted. Gideon Pond, the early missionary on the river thought that this meaning was correct.

BOOZE ON THE BORDER

It may be a sad commentary, but it is historically correct, that many communities of a hundred years ago were founded in the demand of the frontier for wiskey.

E. D. Neill, one of Minnesota's great writers of history, recorded for the City Directory of St. Paul for 1856 that this community was first occupied as a favorable point for trading in whiskey. The area was beyond the limits of the United States and Fort Snelling. The Wisconsin Territory had outlawed the liquor business but distance limited enforcement. The first settlement was known as "Pig's Eye," so named from the appearance of one of its principal bootleggers, Pierre Parrant.

In 1839 the Ariel, the first boat up the river in the spring, brought in twenty barrels of whiskey for Joseph Brown, an early trader. A week later the Glaucus had six barrels, for David Faribault. Late in June, soldiers from the Fort crossed the river to get liquor and that night 47 of them were in the guardhouse for drunkeness.

An early account of the life at the Fort records that a commandant often used liquor to excess but he also applied the lash to soldiers who followed his example.

IMPROVING THE SCHOOLS

More than a generation of time was required to establish high schools in Minnesota. They developed in the frontier communities without pattern or standards. They grew out of the graded schools or the academies.

In the early 1890ies the Minnesota legislature passed an act which provided for a state high school board. This board was to study the development of secondary education, and direct and improve it. An inspector was appointed to visit the schools and advise local boards of education. The first report of the inspector for the school year ending July 31, 1894 carried the following significant statement — "Largely through the influence of the State High School Board, voicing and making effective the best educational thought of the state, we have fairly outrun the idea that a school possessing an air pump, a water pail and a map of Asia and offering instruction in the common branches of algebra and civics is a high school."

In that school year ending in 1894 there were 88 high schools in Minnesota with an enrollment of 7259 students. There were fewer than a thousand graduates. Many schools had a total high school enrollment of fewer than 25 students.

In that year of organization but a very few of those of high school age were in school. Today more than three fourths of those of high school age are in the high schools.

Wintry Weather Brings Need for Driving Caution

With the cold winds of imminent wintry weather beginning to blow down from the north, the state highway department today issued a reminder to motorists that severe winter driving conditions may be here any day. The northern part of the state, in fact, has already had a taste of winter, with snow plows being called out last week on T. H. 61, north of Duluth, as the result of a three-inch snow fall.

Motorists, the department warns, should be on the lookout for maintenance trucks during and after snowstorms. Their flashing blue lights say "Men at work" and signal the need for extra caution when meeting or passing them.

The intermittent freezing and thawing of early winter also results in temporary icy spots developing on roadways. Care should be exercised when approaching such areas to avoid dangerous skids.

Named to the vice-president post at the meeting was Thoralf Melby, class of 1948, now teaching at Roseau. He succeeds Margaret Moe Berg, grade teacher in the Bemidji schools. Marion Sletwick, librarian at BSTC, was again re-elected secretary-treasurer.

State PTA Seeks to Get Teachers

Adopt 3-point Program at St. Paul Convention

The Minnesota Congress of Parents and Teachers has taken three steps to help solve the teacher shortage:

1. The group's scholarship fund has been increased to $2,000 for 1955, which will provide 16 scholarships of $125 to high school graduates who will enter teacher training.

2. The PTA state board has appropriated $1,000 for printing of 40,000 information folders on the teacher shortage to be distributed through local PTAs.

3. As official "action channel" for the governor's committee on teacher supply, the state PTA is forming a network of local and area committees to determine how to keep teachers in the profession, bring back former teachers and encourage high school students to prepare for a teaching career.

This action was taken by the organization's board of managers at the conclusion of the state convention in St. Paul last week.

Duluth was named as the place of the 1955 state convention.

County Board Goes Ahead with Plans for New Rest Home

Costs to Be Shared by Four Counties According to Assessed Valuations

In its regular meeting session last week, the Pennington county board adopted a formal resolution providing for the operation of the present Oakland Park sanatorium as a rest home to be operated by four counties after the tuberculosis patients are transferred to Sunnyrest at Crookston late this month.

The resolution provides that the expense of operating the rest home will be shared by Pennington, Red Lake, Marshall and Roseau counties in proportion to their assessed valuations. The institution is expected to be nearly self-sustaining on the basis of experience where other county rest homes are in operation.

The board at its meeting arranged for the annual forfeited tax sale to be held in the office of the county auditor Friday, December 10, starting at 10 a. m.

DFL Officials Take over Rule in State Jan. 3

Question Remains as to Who Will Control Lower House of Legislature

With returns tabulated last week-end from about 90 per cent of Minnesota's 3,851 precincts, the extent of the Democratic-Farmer-Labor party's victory in the November 2 election was plainly indicated.

The DFL candidates made a clean sweep of all partisan statewide offices except that of state auditor, in which Republican incumbent Stafford King won over Clint Haroldson by a margin of 20,000 votes. As a result of their victory the DFL party will direct state affairs for the first time since 1938.

Reports from 3,449 out of 3,851 precincts revealed that Senator Humphrey had been reelected by the decisive margin of 563,000 votes to 433,000 for his opponent, Val Bjornson. At the same time Orville Freeman, Minneapolis attorney and DFL aspirant for governor, had defeated C. Elmer Anderson, GOP incumbent, by 537,000 votes to 486,000.

Karl F. Rolvaag, DFL, defeated P. Kenneth Peterson for lieutenant governor by more than 40,000 votes; Joseph L. Donovan, DFL, was elected secretary of state, winning over Mrs. Mike Holm, incumbent, by 30,000 votes; Arthur Hanson of Ulen won out over Duane R. Lesson on Cooking Meats Being Given Group Meetings Now Being Held in Pennington Co.

A series of leader training meetings on "Making Meat More Palatable" have been given in the county this past week, Home Agent Marge Olsen announced. Four meetings were held at Thief River Falls and Goodridge for 60 leaders in the extension home program.

The lesson was planned to include help in using the parts of the meat animal that are usually not prepared. It is a very important one, said Miss Olsen, since meat is most important in the diet. The food elements found in meat, especially protein, were discussed in the lesson, and different cooking methods were also outlined. A noon meal in which Beef Stroganoff and braised kidney were served, was prepared by the leaders.

Group meetings on "Making Meat More Palatable" are now being given by the leaders throughout the county. Groups who have sent in reports of their meetings have mentioned that they have especially enjoyed learning the proper methods of cooking different cuts of meat, Miss Olsen stated.

Tunbergs to Show 1955 Ford Friday

Offer Four Improved Lines of Passenger Cars

Ford will introduce an entirely new line—the high-styled Fairlane series—as the leader of its four lines of 1955 passenger cars to be shown in 6400 dealers' showrooms across the nation on Friday, Nov. 12. The new models will be shown locally at Tunberg Motor Co. There will be registration for a door prize, with the drawing Saturday at 6 p. m.

Modern styling inspired by Ford's new Thunderbird personal car distinguishes the new Fords. The 1955 models have a wrap-around windshield and a new, lower silhouette. The Crown Victoria—a new model—is the first Ford sedan under five feet in overall height.

Ford, which offered the first V-8 engine in the low-priced field in 1932, introduces three new engines:

A high compression Y-block V-8 engine of 272 cubic inch displacement and an 8.5 to 1 compression ratio.

A Y-block V-8 engine of 272 cubic inch displacement and a 7.6 to 1 compression ratio.

An improved 6 cylinder I-block engine of 223 cubic inch displacement and a 7.5 to 1 compression ratio.

Ford's V-8 and 6 cylinder engines are available with any of the 16 Ford models for 1955.

This year Ford's Customline series includes Fordor and Tudor Sedans. The chrome molding along the sides of the Customline models, provides clean, classic lines and serves as a "bumper" to protect the finish when a car door opens in the next parking space.

Ford's lowest priced series includes three models: the new Tudor business sedan, the Tudor sedan and the Fordor sedan.

Conduct Drivers' Reaction Tests

A series of drivers' reaction tests were conducted here recently as a part of a Northwestern Bell Telephone company program of highway safety, all of the company's drivers being tested. The drivers reaction time in applying the brakes following a warning signal, and the distance the vehicle travelled after the brakes were applied, were determined with the assistance of a special mechanism that marked the vehicles position on the road at each point.

The tests were conducted at speeds of both ten and thirty miles an hour. At ten miles an hour for the average driver the trucks travelled seven feet from the time of the warning signal to the time the brakes were applied, and another six feet before the forward motion was stopped, a total distance of 13 feet.

At thirty miles an hour the trucks moved 17 feet after the warning and before the brakes were applied, and another 50 feet before the forward motion was stopped, or a total of 67 feet from the time the average driver was alerted to the danger. There is no appreciable difference in these results due to the type or size of equipment, the tests reveal, all of the vehicles used being in good mechanical condition.

In the top picture William Chadwick, construction foreman in this area, is setting the gun attached to the front bumper that fires a chalk mark into the highway at the time the driver is alerted and also when the brakes are applied. Watching him is A. Y. Halseth of Detroit Lakes, construction supervisor, who conducted the tests.

In the lower picture Halseth and Chadwick measure the distance travelled by the truck after the brakes had been applied at ten miles an hour, as G. M. Fish, manager of the Warroad exchange looks on.

Winners in Predator Contest Announced

Piling up a total of 123 points, Leslie Nelson, junior sportsman of rural Thief River Falls, was awarded first prize in the predator control contest conducted during the summer season by the Pennington County Sportsmen's club. The prize, a .22 calibre repeating rifle, was donated by the Hartz Supermarket. Nelson had earned most of his points by killing striped and pocket gophers.

Other junior sportsmen who received awards included Stanley Torgerson, Roger Rupprecht, David Cloutier, Harold Meyers, John Johnson, Robert Baker, Duane Bjerke, James Helgeland, Phil Torgerson, Leonard Gutterud, Paul Klungness, Richard Toomey and LeRoy Martinson.

Mel Johnson, with 104 crows to his credit, took top honors for adults and received a barometer donated by Elofson Jewelers. Other top scorers among the adults were Henry Myron, Claude Johnson, Clifford Nelson, George Gacher and Herbert Meyers.

Turned in by participating sportsmen were a total of 435 crows, 23 great horned owls, 307 striped gophers and 152 pocket gophers. Don Toomey was general chairman of the contest and Al Christofferson arranged for the prize awards, which were supplied by 63 businessmen of this city.

The program for the meeting included the showing of a waterfowl film supplied by C. Gustafson & Son, local Nash dealers. Lunch was served by Ray and Gordon Johnson.

DFL Officials to Control State 1st Time in 16 Years

general over Bernhard LeVander by 55,000 votes.

Grace Kaercher Davis, veteran clerk of the supreme court, lost out to Frank Larkin, DFL, by more than 30,000 votes, and Hjalmer Petersen was elected railroad and warehouse commissioner, winning over Victor Lundquist by 80,000 votes.

Roger Dell was reelected chief justice of the Minnesota supreme court, defeating Luther Melin by 90,000 votes, while Oscar R. Knutson, formerly of Warren, was reelected associate justice by a more than two-to-one margin over Allan L. Johnson.

With 574 out of 635 precincts in the Ninth district reporting, Mrs. Coya Knutson led Harold C. Hagen, incumbent, for the Congress post by a margin of 44,263 to 41,967. Hagen conceded the election to Mrs. Knutson last Wednesday noon.

The question of whether the liberals or conservatives will control the lower house of the state legislature when it meets in January probably will be made known Saturday, November 13, when the liberals will hold a post-election caucus. Both sides were claiming control last week-end.

The state senate has as much as been conceded to conservative control. Argument now revolves around whether the conservatives there can muster the 45 votes which constitute two-thirds—a handy margin to have in the parliamentary pinches.

Sen. Archie Miller, Hopkins, senate majority leader last time, said he would issue his side's call "in time so we can start organizing and planning committees before deer season opens Nov. 20." Miller said he has the 45 votes, by his nose-count and his personal estimate of the political loyalties of each man in the 67-man senate.

Protect Fruits For Winter

The home fruit planting needs some protection if it is to survive the winter and bear fruit again next year.

Time to provide that protection is now—before severe weather sets in. Here are some tips on winter protection from O. C. Turnquist, extension horticulturist at the University of Minnesota.

Apple trees can suffer from sunscald occurs or be injured seriously by mice and rabbits if they are not protected properly. Sunscald occurs when the sun strikes the southwest side of fruit trees in winter and warms the bark to the point where plant cells begin to function. When the temperature drops at night, these cells die and as a result the bark is injured. The injury provides an opening for wood-decaying organisms to come in and kill the tree. The best way to protect fruit trees from sunscald, Turnquist says, is to place boards along the southwest side of the trunk or wrap young trees with burlap or aluminum foil.

To protect fruit trees from being girdled by mice and rabbits, place a cylinder of ¼ inch mesh hardware cloth around the base of the tree. The cylinder should be inserted deeply into the soil to prevent mice from getting underneath.

Wrap the tops of young trees with burlap or aluminum foil to protect the branches from rabbits. Rabbit repellents can also be sprayed on the branches for protection.

Gardeners who have not provided protection for raspberries and strawberries should do so immediately, the University horticulturist cautions. Lay raspberry canes down and cover them with soil. Complete covering with soil will not only protect the tops from winter injury but will also prevent rabit damage. The complete covering will keep the canes uniformly cold and prevent the sudden thawing and freezing which may be responsible for loss of crop next year.

Strawberries should be covered with a two-inch layer of clean straw or marsh hay after plants have been exposed to a few good frosts but before they have been exposed to a temperature as low as 20 degrees F.

Soil Conservation Loans Available

Now, you don't have to delay improving your soil until you've saved enough money. Almost any soil or water conservation practice recommended by SCS or Extension can be financed by government-guaranteed loans. Under a new law, these loans may be made by private lenders at 3½ per cent interest, plus 1 per cent for FHA charges. You can build dikes and ponds, improve pastures, repair or build terraces, clear brush and do many other things. Complete information at the Thief River Falls office of the Farmers' Home Administration.

Check For Protein-short Ration

Here's a good way to find out if your dairy ration is short of protein. Feed a pound or two more of high protein such as linseed meal to a couple of cows fresh for a month or two and see if they give you more milk. If they do, chances are that your ration is a little low in protein. But if you notice no increase in milk output, then the ration probably has enough protein. This tip comes from Ralph Wayne, Extension dairy specialist at the University of Minnesota.

Self-Polishing Wax the Easy Way

Next time you use self-polishing wax on your linoleum, remember that you'll get better results by doing it the easy way—according to directions. That's the purpose of self-polishing wax—to save work.

First of all, don't shake up the wax. Shaking makes it foamy and it won't dry evenly. In a good-quality self-polishing product the wax is very tiny particles which are always evenly distributed.

To apply self-polishing wax, begin by pouring a small amount of wax right on the floor, making a pool about as large as a dinner plate. Soak this up into the wax applier or cloth, then start covering a section with wax, using straight strokes. Don't rub in self-polishing wax. Just spread it, using as few strokes as possible. This type of wax begins to dry as soon as it is on the floor. Disturbing the film as it dries lessens the final shine.

Here's another tip for getting an even coating. When using a long-handled applier, start each stroke forward. If you pull the applier toward you there's a tendency to use too much pressure at the end of the stroke. The result is an uneven film of wax. Blend the section being coated with the one just finished by raising the applier at the end of each outward stroke. Allow at least 20 minutes for drying before walking on the floor.

Daily Care of Waxed Floors

It's a good idea to keep waxed floors as dust-free as possible so grit isn't ground into them. A dry mop is effective in picking up the dust and gives additional polishing to waxed surface. But never use an oiled or chemically treated mop on a waxed floor. It will make the surface gummy, the shine will disappear, dust and dirt will stick to the floor and frequent scrubbing will be necessary to remove the greasy film.

DALE CARNEGIE

★ AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING" ★

ONE year after she was married, Nadine Cloud, 36 Monroe Street, New York, New York, went far away from home to live and she was very homesick. Missing her parents and her sister terribly, she became obsessed with an unreasoning fear that something dreadful might happen to them while she was away. She brooded over this almost constantly, nearly driving herself frantic with worry.

CARNEGIE

Her husband was patient and understanding. "He had to be," she says, "to put up with me." He suggested that in order for her to overcome her groundless fear, she find some new and absorbing interest to occupy her mind. She agreed, but did not know exactly where to turn.

Then, one afternoon at a cocktail party, she met a very talented sculptress who had a studio in Hollywood. They became close friends and one evening she told her what her husband had suggested. Immediately she said, "Why not try sculpture?" At first the idea seemed fantastic but she decided to try it, and became so completely absorbed in it, that she soon forgot all her fears and worries. Not only that, but she derived great pleasure and satisfaction in doing something creative.

That experience taught her something which stood her in good stead years later when she had real fears to conquer. What it taught her was simply this: busy people are happy people, they have no time for fear and worry.

Doings of week at Rosewood

By Elaine Hellquist, Rosewood, Minn.
Phone 101-J

A very good time was had by all who attended the social at Rosebank School Friday evening. The pupils gave an interesting program. The King and Queen contest proved very exciting. That each child had worked hard to win the title was shown by the surprising number of votes that they turned in. The school board had met to count votes Thursday evening at the clerk's home, Mrs. Elmer Kron. To quote her, "We counted votes, drank coffee and counted more votes." The final count was 4,322 and revealed that Judy Anderson had the most votes for the girls so was named queen. John Hellquist won out for the boys, so was the king with Joanne Sabo and Robert Anderson their attendants. By popular vote by the children Emil Mellem of the past school officers was chosen to place the crown and the robe on the King and Queen. Mrs. Victor Ranstrom won the door prize, a box of apples.

Globetrotters Play All-stars Here Nov. 18

Those merry madcaps of the basketball court—the incomparable Harlem Globetrotters, who exploits over 28 seasons constitute one of the most exciting chapters of all sports history—are coming to Thief River Falls, Thursday, Nov. 18.

Boasting another of their great lineups of superb players and master showman, Abe Saperstein's talented Trotters will play the Northern Minny All-Stars in the Lincoln gymnasium at 8:00 p. m.

Saperstein rates this Trotter unit with the best of the 27 that have preceded it. With such stars as Bob Hall, J. C. Gipson and Jesse Coffey, the club is blessed with height, speed, deception, great shooting ability and all the ball-handling magic and comedy finesse for which Globetrotter teams are world renowned.

This is the twenty-eighth season for the wonders of the basketball world. They entered the campaign in mid-October of 1954 with sportsdom's most astonishing record of 4,770 victories against only 280 defeats.

Last season alone, in ten and one-half months of activity, they won 423 games while dropping only 7. This they accomplished by dividing their squad on several occasions and playing two different parts of the world at the same time. The season began with a second successive undefeated U. S.-Canada winter season of 169 games. While this was in progress a unit was dispatched to Australia, the Far East and other islands of the Pacific. This group captured 74 consecutive victories. The Australian phase marked the fulfillment of a Saperstein dream—the playing of all six continents of the world.

Following the regular schedule, the Trotters for the fifth successive year in a row won the annual World Series of Basketball against the College All-Americans of the year, 15 games to 7, on a record-breaking transcontinental trek. Right after this, one unit was sent to South America for the third time and rolled up 33 victories in as many starts and another visited Europe for the fifth consecutive year and scored 70 successive victories.

Tickets for the huge show at Lincoln high gym are available in advance at local drug stores. The game is being sponsored by the Thief River Falls Hockey association.

Basketball Star Coming Nov. 18

Clarence "Bevo" Francis of Rio Grande college fame is coming to town in his new role as a professional basketball star with the Boston Whirlwinds and the Harlem Globetrotters, who face the Northern Minny All-Stars in an exhibition game at the Lincoln High School gymnasium on Thursday night, November 18th, at 8:00 p. m.

With Bevo, as coach of the Whirlwinds, is Newt Oliver, his mentor and pal through high school and Rio Grande days. When the six-foot nine-inch Bevo quit the little Ohio college last April, after two sensational seasons of record-breaking achievements, Oliver immediately resigned as the school's athletic director and cage coach and cast his lot with the pros. The two were signed for the Whirlwinds at a $30,000.00 stipend for this season by Abe Saperstein, who owns both the fabulous Harlem Globetrotters and the Boston five.

Bevo has been playing spectacularly as a pro and many predict he is on his way to firmly establishing himself as one of the immortals of the game. With Oliver showing remarkable coaching acumen in handling the fine array of former college aces with whom he has surrounded Francis, the Whirlwinds are a tough team to beat.

Mentor Wins Title in the Tri-county Football League

Oklee Places Third and Goodridge Fourth in Conference This Year

In the Tri-County football conference, which closed its 1954 schedule last week, the Mentor high school team, with a record of six wins and no losses, won the league championship. The Mentor record was marred by a tie game, that being played with the runner-up Gonvick team.

Gonvick had a five wins, one loss, and one tie mark for second place. Oklee was in third place; Goodridge in fourth; Clearbrook in fifth; Plummer and McIntosh were tied for sixth, and Erskine was in eighth place.

The all-conference selection, named by the conference coaches and officials, found Mentor placing three players—Kraby, Olson, and Sigaeo—to the squad. Other all-conference choices were Dyrdahl and Flom of Gonvick, Conner and Spercher of Clearbrook, Craft of Plummer, Ovuby of Goodridge, Ostby of McIntosh, Brumwell of Erskine, and Christoferson of Oklee.

Players being given honorable mention were Knutson of Gonvick, Spong and Lolland of Oklee, Jones and Iverson of Goodridge, Granley of Clearbrook, Nelson and Vigstol of Plummer, Hoveland and Bursheim of McIntosh, and Marquart of Erskine.

A Rare Bird

Cliff Noel had a pretty fair duck shoot in the vicinity of the Mud Lake Refuge one day last week, and included in his bag of mallards was a duck that required an examination by Bob Farmes, a biologist for the state game and fish division, before it could be identified. This duck, a mallard-type was of a light tan coloration, very nearly blond; and Farmes stated that the duck, which is a rarity, was a partial albino. And Bob added that the percentages of finding a partial albino in the mallard duck family is about one in a million.

The duck has been put in a deep freeze, and Farmes had forwarded information regarding the bird to the state department. It is probable that the department will ask Noel to make a gift of the duck to the department's museum.

A Big Project

Al Adams, the new Prowler basketball coach, who is taking over the reins from Ralph Skjod, will have a big job in shaping a title-contending aggregation this season. With the opening game of the schedule slated for November 24th, when coach Ambrose Kramer will bring his Roseau Rams down here, Adams has but three weeks to pick a varsity team.

The 1954-55 Prowlers began their practice sessions on the Lincoln high court on Monday afternoon, and among the squad of eighteen candidates were seven boys with varsity experience, namely, Bill Frahm, George Gifford, Mark Bjorkman, Dale Liggett, Lee Kjos, Louie Wedul, and Evan Jones. It is expected that big Bill Frahm, who was out of football this fall because of a back injury, will take up much of the Prowler scoring punch that was lost when Art Johnson graduated.

Moving up from Joe Mrkonich's 1954 Prowler 'B' squad, and making a bid for a places on the varsity, are Eddie Fillatrault, Dick Odegaard, Dean Anderson, Joe Swick, Tom Amren, Duane and Lee Bakke, Ron Severson, and Vernon Solheim. A couple of surprises were the appearance of Jimmy Sauve and Ronnie Reese in basketball togs. The two rugged Prowler footballers may make quite a contribution to Adams' plans, too, for they are A-1 competitors.

Incidentally, we hear that Art Johnson, the school's single-game and season scoring record-holder, has made an impression on Finn Grinaker, the Concordia College basketball mentor. It's possible that Art, a freshman this year, will earn a first string berth with the Cobbers.

Searching Irv's Alleys

Fire Chief Roy Langevin and the Fire Wagon have been busy running around town putting out grass and brush fires this past week, and it's strange that they weren't called out last Tuesday night to put out the "blaze" that was burning up the Business league bowling at the Pla-Mor alleys.

Al Holzknecht's pride-and-joy and grief, the Northern Chevrolet bowling team rolled three 900-pin games, having an aggregate of 2872, as they defeated the V. F. W. Wally DuChamp bowled games of 203-237-232, for a huge 672 total; Jesse DuChamp came in with games of 220-225-152, for a 597; and southpaw Phil LeGault elbowed the mineralite into the pins for a 568 total. Those three totals took over the top three spots on the league's Honor Roll of bowlers.

What gives the rest of the league encouragement, though, is the fact that the averages will begin to catch up with the Chevvie's. That happened last season, and it's a cinch, the way the Chevvie's have piled up those high scores, that it will happen again this year. As they begin to drop down the rungs, you can bet that the rest of the teams will be making room for the Chev's. The teams, the other seven teams, that is, would be pleased to see Al's boys "ensconced" in eighth place, a nice and comfortable spot.

Birds in the Bush

The pheasant and hungarian partridge season closed at sunset on Sunday, and from all reports the season ended disappointingly, with very few bird being in the game-sack as the hunters started home-ward.

We made a trip down to Wheaton on Saturday, four of us, and we came back with a pair of pheasants, but we should have had three or four more. We hate to admit this, but those birds down there are just too smart for us. We thought those pheasants, and we saw quite a number, would sit tight, like the Rhode Island Reds and the Leghorns that we shoot up here. That proved to be foolish thought, for those educated pheasants, acting like Olympic sprinters and runners, proved too elusive. We can't hit a moving target anyway. For the record, Elmer Satre bagged one pheasant, on a neat shot; and Bill Sponhiem tumbled down the other one.

We hear that there has been some duck hunting activity this past week, especially by Jim Disse and Fred Mittelstadt and Don Johnson. On Friday morning they were down at Crystal Lake (they told the boys they had hunted the Roseau bog) and got a limit bag of mallards and blue bills, and on Saturday morning they repeated.

Don't know whether to believe that stuff or not, and we wouldn't if it wasn't substantiated by Thule Norman and Carl Wiberg, who had a fine mallard shoot near Erskine on Friday, getting their limits as the mallards moved out of a lake and into a field.

Five Men Fined in Municipal Court on Traffic Counts

At Monday's session of municipal court, fines were meted out to five violators of traffic laws by Stanley Mortenson, special municipal judge.

Brought in by the sheriff's office, Carl Fromm of St. Hilaire paid a fine of $100 and $8 costs on a charge of driving a car while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Charged by the highway patrol with reckless driving, Elmer L. Nelson of Route 1, city, was fined $50 and $4 costs, $25 of the fine being suspended.

Clifford N. Myrin, Route 4, city, and Ernest Hagen of Thief River Falls, charged by the patrol with careless driving, each paid a fine of $10 and $4 costs. Lowell D. Foss of this city was fined $5 and $4 costs for having no valid drivers license.

Dairy Marketing to Be Washington Topic

Minnesota is playing an important role in the annual convention of the National Milk Producers Federation in Washington, D. C., November 7 through 11, with a large group of dairymen from this area in attendance.

Senator Edward J. Thye, R., Minnesota is one of the principal speakers at the meeting which attracts some 4000 members representing nearly half a million farm families.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson is slated to be principal speaker at the opening session.

A delegation from Land O' Lakes Creameries, Inc., is led by Frank D. Stone, Minneapolis, general manager, and M. H. Mauritson, Shelly, president.

Stone, who serves on the dairy industry task committee appointed by Benson, points out that the federation will spend the bulk of its convention time looking ahead at the dairy industry. He says that the Agricultural Act of 1954 directed the secretary of agriculture to study various dairy programs and to be prepared to make recommendations for new legislation when Congress convenes on January 3, 1955.

The federation meeting is expected to come up with recommendations for the secretary's report to Congress.

Stone sees three possibilities for the future: No dairy program at all, a revised government program, or a program run by the dairy farmers themselves.

As for no program at all, Stone says, in five of the past 13 years, dairy products have been purchased under the present law which indicates that some program has been needed.

Regarding a revised government program, Stone states that it is a virtual certainty that if the program limited administrative power to set price support levels, it would also include stringent production and marketing controls.

Under these conditions it would appear that dairy farmers would fare best under their own self-financed program. Stone adds. "Such a producer program would permit farmers to handle their own surpluses by a board set up for that purpose. This board, composed of producer representatives, would purchase any surpluses that develop and pay for them from its own funds."

"If this program had been in effect during the past 21 years, during which the government has purchased dairy products from time to time, the assessments against the farmers would have amounted to only four cents per hundredweight of milk, even if there was a 100 per cent loss on the purchases made which is inconceivable."

"Last year, when surpluses were unusually high because of the increased milk production, this producer program could have been financed for 14 cents and this year for 23 cents per hundredweight. But the plan would have maintained 90 per cent of parity price and would have meant a return of an additional 37 cents to the dairy farmers in 1954."

The self-help program is based on an original proposal by John Brandt, late president of Land O'Lakes. It has been supported by the National Milk Producers Federation for some time. During the last session of Congress it was hammered into bill form, but did not get out of the committees.

"This program," says Stone, "is an easier and less costly way of increasing dairy farm income than by stepping up production. It is a self-help, producer-financed program of price and production stabilization and marketing."

Kankel Is Elected Red Lake Sheriff

F. Grenier, Commissioner Since 1918, Is Defeated

In the November 2 election in Red Lake county, Carl A. Kankel, former sheriff, was elected to that office, defeating Noel J. Proulx by a margin of 1,708 to 980.

Frank Grenier, county commissioner from the first district since 1918, was defeated in his bid for reelection by Sidney Kirk 203 to 161. Adrian Brule of Lake Pleasant township won over Theo. Clement of Terrebonne in the second district by the narrow margin of 113 to 108. In the third district Lloyd Green, incumbent, was reelected, polling 451 votes to 270 for Wilfred Rahier, while in the fifth district Arthur Christopherson, incumbent, won over Louis Merell 451 to 270.

County Attorney Charles S. Boughton was reelected, defeating Joseph A. Harlien by the close margin of 1,307 to 1,274, and Mrs. Mary Drees was reelected county superintendent of schools, winning 1,993 votes to 678 for Mrs. Mussetta Normandeau.

Fewer Firearms Mishaps in State Reported in 1954

If the present rate of firearms accidents by Minnesota gun handlers for the first 10 months of this year continues through the deer season and the last two months an all-time low can be established, Carl W. Moen, secretary, water and hunting section of the Minnesota Saftey Council predicted today.

Incomplete reports for the first ten months show that 16 accidents have occurred up to November 1 during the grouse season (closed) and the duck and pheasant seasons which have some time to run. It is possible that a dozen or more accidents have not yet been reported for October, this year. During the same time last year there was a total of 42 accidents.

Two hunters were killed and fourteen injured this year; in 1953, for the same period there were five deaths and 37 injuries.

The comparison for miscellaneous gun accidents for the first ten months is about the same, a total of 56 accidents in 1953 and 30 this year. There were 7 killed this year and 11 last year; 23 injuries this year and 45 last year.

Wide Variety of Foods Plentiful During November

Turkeys, Eggs and Beef Best Buys, University Marketing Agent Says

A wide variety of foods will be in big supply during November, Mrs. Eleanor Loomis, extension consumer marketing agent at the University of Minnesota, reported today.

Turkeys, eggs and beef top the U. S. Department of Agriculture's list of plentiful foods.

Since about 9 per cent more turkeys are available this November than a year ago, consumers should have no trouble finding turkey for Thanksgiving. Seasonally large supplies of cattle going to market should make prices of all grades of beef reasonable this month.

The fall's record-large egg production makes eggs a particularly good buy, Mrs. Loomis says. Though all sizes of eggs are plentiful, the size currently in heaviest supply is medium. For that reason, prices of mediums are the most favorable for consumers in most localities.

Pork and pork products should also be good buys this month since last spring's pig crop — 13 per cent larger than a year ago —is now being marketed.

Frozen fish will be plentiful, including frozen shrimp. Canned tuna will also be abundant.

Homemakers who bake fruit cakes and holiday cookies will be interested in the ample stocks of almonds, filberts, walnuts, dates and dried prunes. This years' date crop is record large. California's prune crop is 25 per cent above last year's.

Dairy products will continue to be abundant, along with lard, salad oils and vegetable shortening. Other plentifuls are rice and dry beans. This year's rice crop is the largest on record.

Form 1040A Tax Return Simplified

Designed to Eliminate Government Paper Work

A. R. Knox, district director of internal revenue for Minnesota, announces that the internal revenue service has redesigned for 1954, Form 1040-A, the income tax return used by millions of taxpayers who earn less than $5,000.00 a year. The return, this year will be in the form of a punch card which will require a minimum of effort to fill out; in fact, many of the questions can be answered with check mark or numeral.

The handling of Form 1040-A in the past has required the use of government clerks in a manual operation. This year when the return comes in from the taxpayer it will be put in a machine, scanned quickly, and have some holes punched in it. Then another machine, one of the new electronic marvels, will take over the arithmetic job, eliminating a source of error.

A third machine will prepare a bill or refund, depending upon whether the total tax is more or less than the amount of income tax withheld from the employee's wages. An additional machine will put the bill or refund check in an envelope ready for mailing.

The taxpayers who use Form 1040-A will get another break. When the new punch card comes in the mail some time shortly after Christmas, a self-addressed envelope will come with it. All the taxpayer will have to do is to fill out the card, enclose it with Form W-2, the withholding tax statement from his employer, put a stamp on the envelope, and write the address of his District Director (for Minnesota, Post Office & Customhouse Building, St. Paul, Minnesota) on the specially prepared place on the envelope and mail it. The task for millions should take only a few minutes.

FREEMAN HAS A PROBLEM

Orville Freeman and his Democratic-Farmer Labor administration will take over the management of our state government under difficult circumstances. He will find that he has inherited a financial problem that is not going to be easy to solve.

During the lush years of war prosperity our old taxes produced revenue in steadily increasing volume and, in spite of increased spending, there still were large cash balances with which to start each new biennium. These large balances did not encourage economy and under the pressure of the ever-active advocates of bigger appropriations the state has become geared to a level of spending that can no longer be maintained by our present taxes. The revenue from these taxes has already started to shrink.

Finding the answer to this problem will pose special difficulties for Governor Freeman as the leader of a group that, while not economy minded, nevertheless is tax conscious. It will not be easy to keep expenditures down even to their present level and each increase will add to the costs for which new revenue will have to be provided. For this there is no easy solution.

LAST WEEK'S VOTESTORM

Last week's votestorm that blew across Minnesota swept all the Republicans but one out of state offices and gave to the new Democratic-Farmer Labor administration a friendly majority in the House. Now that the fury of the storm has abated, and there no longer is any question about what happened, the observers are wondering why it happened. On that question, of course, there is disagreement.

It appears however that the storm was not quite so stormy elsewhere as here in Minnesota. In our neighboring states of Wisconsin, Iowa and the Dakotas there were the usual high election winds, but they were shifting winds and blew in different directions. In the area as a whole, with Iowa going back to the Republicans, the results did not indicate any general trend against the administration.

And even here in Minnesota the voting seemed to be influenced more by local considerations than by views on national policy. The defeat of Congressman Harold Hagen, a champion of 100% price supports, certainly cannot be considered a protest against the price program he too so vigorously opposed.

The results indicate quite clearly that it was the votes of the metropolitan areas, Ramsey, Hennepin and St. Louis counties, and not the agricultural areas, that defeated the Republicans for state offices, and, considering all of the angles, the D-FL victory probably should be written down as a personal triumph for Senator Hubert Humphrey. And it is significant that among those who were silent in their opposition to Humphrey were such Republican stalwarts as Stassen, Youngdahl and Thye.

BEET ACREAGE REDUCED

Sugar beet acreage in the country will be reduced about 10% next year, the Agriculture department announced Friday. This will mean a cut of nearly 13,000 acres in the Red River Valley, one of the areas where sugar beet production has been expanding.

This is not good news for farmers who have been hoping they would be granted acreage increases. Most of them would agree however that they will have for more to show for their efforts next year if they get a fair price for the production of this reduced acreage than for a profitless return on a larger number of acres.

Under a sound program of production and import controls, sponsored by the industry under government direction, a stable market has been maintained for sugar in our country over a period of many years. The price has been fair both to producers and consumers. During a period when there have been wide fluctuations in the world markets the domestic market has been maintained at a steady level.

Because of the easily controlled market for beets it is comparatively easy to control sugar production. But while it is more difficult to establish workable production controls over some other farm products, nevertheless what is being accomplished in the marketing of sugar does serve as an excellent example of what our objectives should be in dealing with the price problems of other crops.

Marketing controls are essential to price stability and marketing controls can be achieved either through production controls, as is done with sugar, or through surplus controls such as are imposed upon themselves by the fruit growers.

John Brandt was an advocate of marketing controls for the dairy industry by releasing dairy products only as the market would absorb them at fair prices. The cost of disposing of the unmarketable surplus he would charge back to the producers, and he stressed the importance of the industry absorbing this loss rather than the taxpayers through government controls.

Brandt had little faith in politics or politicians and he realized that the producers of dairy products were a minority group that would have market security only as they managed their own machinery of production and marketing. He favored the plowing under of the unsaleable surpluses and whether they were plowed under before they were planted or after the crop had matured was not in itself a matter of concern to him.

In this argument over price stabilization there seems to be general agreement that, regardless of which party is in power or who directs the program, any long range plan for price stabilization must also include regulation of production or marketing in some form. This is the price we must expect to pay for price security.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved daughter Yvonne, who left us one sad year ago Nov. 17th.

She is gone, but not forgotten
And, as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of her are always near.
Days of sadness, will come o'er us
Friends may think the wound is healed.
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within our hearts concealed.

Sadly missed by her parents Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Engelstad. 45c

OUR LAND

Abandons Guesswork

It used to be "by guess and by gosh" for Burton Larson of Bigelow on his rolling land. He used to plant rows across the slope, but this year the SCS's Harold Dineen helped him and several neighbors lay contour strips. Burton was astounded when he saw how much water those contour rows held during a 5½-inch rain this summer. He plans to strip crop this land next year, to cut soil water losses even more. He is a supervisor for the Nobles County Soil Conservation District.

• • •

Time to Order Trees Now

"Do it now," says Extension Forester Marvin Smith at the University. He means: order shelterbelt trees while nursery stocks are still full and you can get what you want. And don't risk losing trees by putting in species that aren't adapted to Minnesota. Your County Agent has free booklets on what to plant and how to plant it for farm shelterbelts or wildlife area improvement.

Plowville Gave Good Lessons

Plowville '54 is over but the 6,000 folks who rode the tractor-drawn flatbeds to the soil conservation demonstrations will remember the proof-positive. One important lesson: water stored in the soil doesn't cause erosion — it can't get up speed to tear away topsoil. Rotations, strip cropping, contour pasture furrows, waterways, and pasture improvement also played a big role. What folks saw not only taught them better land use, but will benefit farmers on whose land the practices were shown.

Birdsfoot Trefoil Pays

Russell Younggren, chairman of supervisors of the Kittson Co. Conservation District, grows birdsfoot trefoil as a cash crop. He plants Empire on a loamy gravel soil that normally returns very little for any other crop. Younggren has grown birdsfoot for ten years. He now has 100 acres producing seed, probably the most northern-grown seed in the country — its raised right next to the international boundary between Canada and the U. S. This year, he harvested about 100 pounds of clean seed per acre.

1955 March of Dimes Planned at Meeting Held in Minneapolis

Protective shots of the Salk polio vaccine will be available for every first grade school child in Pennington county, if a scientific report next spring indicates that the vaccine is effective, Mrs. Rudolph Sagmoen, Pennington county polio chapter women's activities chairman, revealed today.

Mrs. Sagmoen has just returned from an infantile paralysis conference at Minneapolis where volunteers from Minnesota, North Dakota, Iowa and Wisconsin mapped plans for the 1955 March of Dimes.

She disclosed that the nationwide polio vaccine field trials, in which 1,830,000 children participated this year, are now being evaluated at the University of Michigan by Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr. and his staff. These scientists are expected to complete their complex task by spring of 1955. Until when their report is issued it will not be known whether the vaccine protects against paralytic polio, Mrs. Sagmoen said.

Meanwhile, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has taken a "calculated financial risk" and is purchasing $9,000,000 worth of the vaccine now, without waiting for next spring's Francis Report.

This vaccine—enough for nine million vaccinations of three shots each—will thus be available for immediate use, if the scientists issue a favorable report. It will be offered to all children who participated in the field trials as scientific controls and thus did not receive vaccine; it will also go to pregnant women and to children who will be in the first grade of school next spring.

"This huge polio prevention program," Mrs. Sagmoen said, "is one important reason why the polio fight is a bigger job now than ever before. At the very same time that the March of Dimes is purchasing vaccine and preparing to use it, the organization is faced with a record number of polio patients who need help."

During 1954, she said, the March of Dimes aided 74,000 patients, and more than two-thirds of these were patients stricken in previous years.

Even with an effective vaccine, Mrs. Sagmoen said, it will not be physically possible to inoculate every man, woman and child in the country for the next several years. "During that interim period, thousands of new polio patients will require aid, along with the tens of thousands from former years," she said.

Thank You to the Voters of the 65th Legislative District

As one of those who failed to survive last week's political storm I wish to congratulate my opponent, Roy Wiseth, and extend to him my best wishes in the office he will now assume.

I wish to extend my sincere appreciation to those who supported me and especially, of course, to those who made a special effort in my behalf.

And while I am saying "thank you" I should acknowledge my very great debt to all of the people of the 65th District for the honor and the opportunities that have come to me as a representative of the District in the State Senate over a period of twelve years. This has been a truly wonderful experience and the satisfactions that have come to me with these years of service are not erased by one defeat.

You have been kind to me and while I will no longer represent you officially please feel free to call on me for assistance in any matters in which you think I may be helpful.

91 Pedestrians Killed Since Jan. 1

Total is 24 Less Than for Same Period in 1953

Sudden death catapulted 91 pedestrians to eternity in traffic accidents on Minnesota's streets and highways during the first 10 months of 1954, according to the Minnesota highway department. This is 24 less than were killed in the comparable period of last year, but seven more than in the first 10 months of 1952.

"A combination of circumstances during our late fall and winter months," said Earl M. Larimer, director of highway safety, "makes walking along rural roads or crossing urban streets a highly hazardous undertaking."

He named a few seasonal conditions which "gang up" on the unwary or careless pedestrian:

Longer hours of darkness, with dusk coming earlier and at a time when many pedestrians are home-ward bound after working or shopping.

2. Colder weather, causing pedestrians to dress with heavier clothing, hampering their movements and often interfering with their sight and hearing.

3. Slippery roads and streets resulting from frost or alternate freezing and thawing, sometimes making it impossible for motorists to swerve in their frantic efforts to avoid striking a pedestrian.

4. Too great reliance on the ability of motorists to see or stop in time to prevent a mishap. This attitude is especially prevalent among elderly people many of whom have never driven a car and have no conception of how long it takes to stop, even under ideal driving conditions.

Alvarado Farmer Killed In Mishap

Olaf Lofstrom Dies in Accident on Highway 1

Olaf Lofstrom, 71-year-old Alvarado farmer, was killed Thursday in a car-tractor crash near that village.

Lofstrom, who was driving a tractor pulling a four-wheel wagon, was killed when the car struck the wagon from the rear and pushed it into the tractor.

Driver of the car, according to the state highway patrol, was Clarence Wang of Park River, N. D. Wang and a passenger in the car, John Reeson, Park River, were hospitalized at Warren with minor injuries.

The highway patrol said the tractor and the car were both traveling east on Highway 1, four miles west of Alvarado when the mishap occurred.

Lofstrom's death was the 532nd Minnesota highway fatality of the year, compared to 544 at this time last year.

State FU to Meet In St. Paul Nov. 14

James Patton, National President, Will Speak

A recommendation for the strengthening of the farm support program is expected to come out of the state convention of the Minnesota Farmers Union, Nov. 14-17, at Saint Paul.

Some 2,000 delegates and visitors from more than 500 Locals in 77 counties are expected for the convention which is being held at the St. Paul auditorium and St. Paul Hotel.

Early registration by delegates from this and other counties are running more than double the total at last year's record-breaking convention.

Headlining the roster of guest speakers from out of state will be James G. Patton, national president of the Farmers Union, who will speak on Monday evening at the St. Paul auditorium.

ART NEEDS NO COMPASS

Since most good things are popularly supposed to move from east to west, it is news when the movement is reversed, exceptional news when it is "culture" that flows eastward. From November 16 to December 11 blase New York will bask in the cultural glow of an impressive collection of 18th century French art assembled by and now on exhibition at the Minneapolis Institute of Arts, 201 East 24th Street. Around one mighty colorful magnet cluster not only thirty priceless oils but many fine early lithographs, and even a superbly illustrated review of the tumultuous period of French "Enlightenment." The magnet is Chardin's immortal ode in oil to the sculptor, the painter, the architect, and the artisan, titled "The Attributes of the Arts," which was recently acquired by the Art Institute. The whole fascinating display moves soon from Minneapolis to the Wildenstein Galleries in New York.

Appreciation

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the voters of Marshall County for re-electing me to the office of Clerk of District Court for a third term.

As your Clerk of District Court, I shall always endeavor to serve all the people of this County to the best of my ability, in a friendly, prompt and efficient manner.

Sincerely yours,
EDWIN K. ROKKE

Turkey Day Slated at N.W. School Nov. 12th

National authorities on turkey and poultry production will speak on the annual Turkey Day to be held at the Northwest School of Agriculture and Experiment Station, at Crookston, on Friday, November 12. The program will begin at 2:00 p. m. in the school auditorium.

Dr. Elton Johnson, head of the department of poultry husbandry and authority on poultry nutrition; Dr. R. N. Shoffner, associate professor of poultry husbandry, and Dr. Ben Pomeroy, poultry disease specialists, veterinary department; and Dr. W. A. Billings, national authority on turkey management problems; all from the Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, will be the speakers on the afternoon program.

The outlook for turkey producers, flock management, marketing trends, new turkey breeds, and new drugs of promise in control of blackhead and other turkey diseases will be subjects discussed on the program.

The results of the 1954 feeding and disease control projects at the Northwest Experiment Station, involving 650 broad breasted turkeys, will be presented by A. M. Pilkey, poultryman at the Northwest School and Experiment Station.

Reports of the 1954 turkey work cover the results of feeding high protein rations in comparison with the standard Minnesota 25 per cent ration and the use of new drugs NF180 and phenothiazine in blackhead control. A tour of the turkey yards will follow the formal program in the school auditorium.

A general invitation is extended to all turkey producers and the general public to attend the meeting.

Many Deer Shining Cases Reported

Twelve Passenger Cars Confiscated This Fall

A big deer population may be the main factor in the record number of deer shining cases in Minnesota this year, chief of the warden service, Francis W. "Frannie" Johnson, said today.

Thus far this fall, Minnesota game wardens have seized 12 passenger cars, with a probable market value of at least $10,000, in 12 arrests, (8 for shining deer and 4 for transporting deer illegally taken.) The deer shining arrests included one in which a set-up bow and arrow was involved, rather than the conventional high-powered rifle commonly used by shiners.

The cars seized ranged from a 1938 Chevrolet to a 1953 Oldsmobile, Mr. Johnson said, and most of the vehicles were relatively late models.

Loss of their cars is not all that happens to shiners. In addition, the guilty party is liable to a minimum fine of $100 or a maximum of $1,000, or up to a year in jail, or both. When the defendant is found guilty, the Court orders sale of the seized vehicle at auction.

The 12 arrests mentioned by Mr. Johnson included 4 in St. Louis county, 3 in Aitkin, 2 in Koochiching and one each in Crow Wing, Carlton and Itasca counties.

Reporting violations to the Warden Service is good insurance for the farmer or landowner, Mr. Johnson pointed out. "You can't blame a person for wanting to protect his property, to say nothing of his family, as much as possible from this type of illegal hunting," Mr. Johnson said.

PLAYFUL NATURE

A Renville gardner harvested a 9 pound radish 10½ inches in diameter. . . One of the state's suburban newspapers recounts that an eagle with 7-foot wing span was shot "by Rural Farmer"—same old eagle, new kind of farmer. . . Mrs. J. J. Nygaard grew a bushel of peanuts on their Buffalo Lake farm. . . A Clarkfield carrot looks almost gruesomely like a closed human fist with one finger missing. . . A New Ulm weed pod could pass anywhere for a petrified mouse carrying a toy balloon.

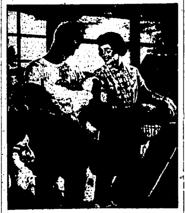
4-H Achievement Day, November 13



Poultry raising, a 4-H project popular with both boys and girls, is portrayed in this reproduction of the 1955 National 4-H Calendar painting as one of many 4-H programs. Because 4-H Club work is so varied, it holds wide appeal for young people between the ages of 10 and 21. Through their 4-H projects, club members know the pride of personal ownership. At the same time they learn important lessons of responsibility. On National 4-H Achievement Day, November 13, 4-H boys and girls will receive deserved congratulations for their outstanding accomplishments.

A Word of Appreciation
I wish to extend my most sincere thanks to the Voters of Marshall County for the generous vote given me at the General Election on November 2.
John O. Pearson,
MARSHALL CO. SUPT. OF SCHOOLS

RIGHT IN THE HOLLOW OF YOUR HAND
That's where the well-being of your family rests. You want to give them every comfort and convenience in your power. You want to keep them well-fed, well-clothed, and well-housed.
You want them to enjoy every advantage of modern science—through electricity, telephones, movies, radio, and television. Nothing, you say, is too good for those you love.
Of course, then, you'll want something more. You'll want your family to possess that exhilarating and priceless quality known as spiritual well-being—a conviction that God is the Supreme Being in the world.
With this faith your life will abound with hope and you will experience a sense of true security in these uncertain times. To God your destiny is of utmost importance.
Through prayer and regular worship you will find a haven of protection for all your family—right in the hollow of God's hand. Go to Church Sunday.
THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

On Oct. 30, 1954 Walter T. Lonergan made his last trip as rural carrier on route 2 out of Plummer, Minn. after having served in this capacity for 37 years and 11 months. He began his services on route 1 and later transferred to route 2 when it was established.

During this time he has served under four postmasters, traveled approximately 340,000 miles. He estimates he had at least 20 cars and used a snowmobile for two years.

His mode of travel ranged from the horse and cutter, sleigh, covered rig with a stove which one day in a furious wind storm blew over and caught on fire, snowmobile and his last trips were made in a new 1954 Dodge.

Mr. Lonergan relates the hardships of the early days when they traveled with horses during the winter plowing through the deep snow drifts and in the spring the muddy roads. It took the entire day to make the trip and the salary was $100.00 a month.

Mr. Lonergan relates some of the dutiesof the mailman in the early days such as bringing out a spool ofthread, a box of snuff, nipples for the babies bottles, and also driving in to help his patrons get their cars started. Humorous incidents he recalled was one day a lady asked him to cut the heads off from 4 chickens she had to get ready for a church supper but says Mr. Lonergan the hardest and most difficult task was when two little girls met him with their baby sisters and asked him which one was the prettier.

At Christmas time he was always well remmembered with gifts such as homeknit mittens and socks, chickens, venison, wild duck, fish and pheasants and two brothers for 35 years always remmembered him with two sacks of grain.

Mr. Lonergan says as he now retires an appreciative thanks for all the many kindesses extended to him.

On Thursday evening, Nov. 4 at the Plummer Hall, Mr. Lonergan was guest of honor at a retirement party put on by his patrons and some of the Plummer residents. A large crowd attended. Bingo was played. Miss Bernice Orr read his experiences as a mail carrier and also a poem in tribute to him. Other speakers were Edwin Jacobson, local mail carrier, who has worked with Mr. Lonergan for the past 30 years. Mr Jacobson in well chosen words paid Mr Lonergan a high tribute and in behalf of those present wished him a most pleasant retirement Kenneth Haaven, local postmaster, spoke briefly and also extended the best wishes from the Postal Department

Lunch was served and Mr. Lonergan was presented with a gift of money from those present. Mr. Lonergan expressed again his deep appreciation for the party and everything that had been done for him.

Answer to Puzzle No. 214

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Veterans with personal problems or questions should consult Leo L. Haley, Contact Representative, Room 210-211 Post Office Building or Box 875, Grand Forks, North Dakota.

Q—I understand that a veteran may not receive Korean GI training benefit payments if they duplicate payments made by the Government under some other program. I plan to enroll in a land-grant college, which gets Federal funds from a non-VA source. Would I still be permitted to take my training under the Korean GI Bill?

A—Yes. The fact that the Government provides funds to land-grant colleges would not deprive you of your rights to enroll under the Korean GI Bill. The ban on duplicate payments would apply only if you yourself were to get money from two Federal sources—the VA and some other agency.

Q—I have a GI insurance policy. I have named my beneficiaries but I have not yet told VA how I want the money paid out. If something were to happen to me before I designate a method of payment, what will VA do with the money?

A—If you fail to select a method of settlement, the insurance money will be paid to your beneficiary in 36 equal installments. Your beneficiary, however, would have the right to choose some other settlement method so long as it is not a lump-sum payment.

Q—I am a disabled World War I veteran drawing a VA pension. Recently I set up a small business that I operate part-time from my home. Do I have to count all money I make from the business as income, for pension purpose?

A—No. In computing the income from your business, you are permitted to deduct necessary expenses of carrying on the business. It is your net income that counts, not your gross income.

Q—Would it be possible to attend cooking school in France under the Korean GI Bill? This school is not a college.

A—No. Under the Korean GI Bill, veterans may train in foreign countries only at accredited colleges and universities. They may not enroll in any other type of school.

THE MINNESOTA STORY

Prepared by the

ONE OUT OF SEVEN

On April 13, 1861, Fort Sumter was fired upon. This was on a Saturday. The news was quickly received in frontier Minnesota. The next day many people did not go to church but gathered together to talk about the impending war. On Monday President Lincoln issued a call for 75,000 volunteers. Governor Ramsey, then in Washington offered a regiment from Minnesota.

On April 29 Minnesota's immortal First Regiment was mustered in. It left early in June for Washington and the fighting front. As the regiment made its way eastward it was cheered in every community. It was a source of inspiration to the North that a state which was so new and so small in population should be the first to offer and recruit a regiment. The men also received praise for their marked physical fitness and spirit.

In July, within three weeks after arrival in the east, the First Minnesota was in the battle of Bull Run where 174 of its men were killed, wounded or taken prisoners. The regiment took part in many engagements until that day when it was immortalized at Gettysburg.

In 1860 the census showed the population of Minnesota as 173,123. The state furnished to the Northern armies a total of 25,052 men. One out of every seven persons in Minnesota went to war.

Of the twenty-five thousand men in service, about 2500 were killed. About double that number were wounded and many came home to die.

* * *

STRONG BACKS

While much has been written of the romantic days of the covered wagon little attention has been paid to another great activity on the frontier. This was the transportation of goods on human backs.

This slow way in marked every frontier. The goods for the Indian trade camp in, very largely, on the backs of strong men. This included much of the salt, butter, pork, flour, and the tools, commodities and goods of the trading days. The tobacco, powder and shot, nails, glass and household utensils used on the trading frontier were transported, part of the way, by back.

On the portages the early men of the fur trade were assigned two "pieces" to carry. Each piece weighed about eighty pounds. Double that weight and the skill and the strength of the backs beneath it can be imagined.

When the fur trade waned others with strong backs came into the country. Those who explored the country for minerals and timber carried the necessities of life upon their backs. The drills and other equipment for mining explorations were carried in. The Duluth pack sack was a symbol of the day when men not only walked but made themselves beasts of burden.

The homesteaders, walked to their pioneer homes. They carried in stoves and other implements so heavy in weight and so awkward to handle. Thousands of families in Minnesota lived for years and carried to their homes everything needed to sustain life that they could not kill, catch or raise.

* * *

THE BUFFALO COAT

The buffalo played a very important part in the life of the western prairies. What is now western Minnesota was the ground on which this great creature lived with great satisfaction. The grass was thick and high. There was plenty of water and some woods and hills for protection.

For at least two generations, the buffalo made a very important contribution to the protection and comfort of the pioneers of the northwest. His hide was converted into great brown overcoats. Those overcoats were common to Minnesota as late as the early years of the present century.

In the earlier days of the state, when the railroads had been extended into the Red River country and the Dakotas, the freight cars would take slabs for fuel from the lumber mills of Minneapolis and many of them would return filled with buffalo skins. These would be stacked up at the railroad stations and people bought them at very low prices. In fact, the prices of the skins were so low that a coat, made up, sold for as little as fifteen dollars.

The buffalo coat was very warm, and for its warmth and bulk, it was very light. So common were these coats that the prevailing color of the man on the snowy streets of the frontier communities was brown.

Those Awful Clothing Fads

"But Mother, everyone's wearing them!"

What parent of an adolescent girl hasn't heard this protest many times? Another clothing fad has arrived, and mother groans inwardly as she pictures her plump teenager decked out in skin-tight harlequin "fancy pants" emphasizing all the wrong curves.

What can one do? Deny the request, and Janie loses her status in the crowd. Give in, and daughter hides her assets by a poorly chosen wardrobe.

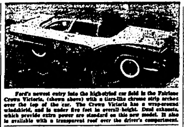
Helping youngsters develop good clothes sense as they grow up may help to avoid such situations. Even the little girl will have fun discovering which color makes her look prettiest. Mother can help her learn how a neutral tone such as navy, gray, or brown can form the basis for a wardrobe. The child learns to choose the gay blouses and accessories that flatter her and go well with the basic color. She begins to learn the cost of clothing by buying a cherished accessory from her own allowance.

At puberty, the young girl faces the problem of her changing figure. She'll welcome any hints Mother can pass on for emphasizing figure assets while hiding some of the embarrassing bulges. Fashion magazines for teenagers feature styles with the junior figure in mind. One pattern company recently introduced a line for pre-teens with addition to their junior sizes.

Gradually lead your daughter to independence in buying her own clothes, and fitting her purchases to a budget. If she becomes aware of good design, she'll begin to ask these questions when she buys. Does this fit with my wardrobe? What does it do for me? Is there a variation of this fad that might look better on me?

Neatness, too, is a habit that can be developed with practice. It's amazing how much better even a sweatshirt and blue jeans can look if they have seen a washer and iron recently.

The Navy keeps time with an accuracy of five-millionths of a second.



Ford's newest entry into the high-styled car field is the Fairlane Crown Victoria, (shown above) with a tiara-like chrome strip arched over the top of the car. The Crown Victoria has a wrap-around windshield, and is under five feet in overall height. Dual exhausts, which provide extra power are standard on this new model. It also is available with a transparent roof over the driver's compartment.

Marshall Co. Follows DFL Trend in Voting

Marshall county followed statewide and national trends in the November 2 election, giving strong support to DFL candidates. Senator Hubert Humphrey led in the vote-getting, receiving 3,839 votes to 1,869 for his GOP opponent, Val Bjornson.

Orville Freeman, DFL aspirant for governor, won over C. Elmer Anderson, incumbent, by a margin of 3,342 to 2,347. Coya Knutson, successful candidate for congressman, defeated Harold C. Hagen, incumbent, 3,176 to 2,515.

There were contests for only two county-wide offices in Marshall county this year. Complete unofficial returns reveal that a new county attorney was elected, Warren A. Saetre defeating A. A. Trost, incumbent, by a margin of 3,229 to 2,322. In the other race County Auditor Levi G. Johnson was reelected, winning over Karl Turnlund by the decisive margin of 3,564 to 2,008.

Leslie Grange, incumbent, was reelected county commissioner from the first district, defeating Emil Anderson 688 to 581. In the third district, John Rapacz, incumbent won over Joe H. Lindstrom 804 to 405, and in the fifth Sofus Bjertness, incumbent, defeated Manvel Moe by the decisive margin of 800 to 263.

Since the end of World War II, the number of rural telephones in Minnesota has more than doubled—from 45,000 in 1945 to 95,000 currently.

THANK YOU —

I sincerely appreciate the support given me in the General Election and will endeavor to conduct the affairs of the County Auditor's office so that they will continue to meet with your approval.

C. W. RODEKUHR,
County Auditor.

Large Gat[illegible]ring at C. and C. [illegible]H Banquet

Approximately 300 4-H m[illegible]bers and leaders were gu[illegible] of the Civic and Commerce association last Wednesday evening at the annual 4-H club achievement banquet in St. Bernards dining hall.

Stuart McLeod officiated as toastmaster over the program, which opened with the invocation by the Rev. Keough Patnode, followed by community singing, a word of welcome by Art Christianson, C. & C. president, and a response by Jerry Vatsaas for the 4-H clubs.

Harold Anderson of St. Paul, 4-H club supervisor, was the principal speaker. He congratulated the workers on their achievements, and urged them to set their project goals ever higher in order to provide them with a continual challenge.

Musical numbers included vocal solos by Jeffrey Hartje and by Anthony Wald, accompanied on the guitar by Bobby Wald; and an accordion solo by Robert Swanson, all 4-H members.

Numerous awards for outstanding achievement were presented at the banquet. County Agent Wm. Penning presented the "Club of the Year" award, provided by the Thief River Falls Times, to the Steiner 4-H club. Penning also conferred the Archer-Daniels-Midland Co. project completion award to the Mavie club.

Awards for five years of service as adult leaders were presented by Harold Anderson to Mrs. Carl Finstad, Rocksbury; Mrs. A. W. Corbet, St. Hilaire; and Mrs. Ted Lendobeja, Smiley; while Mrs. A. W. Oaki of Mavie received a ten-year leadership award.

Marge Olson, county home agent, presented awards to two former 4-H members who have continued their interest in the work into their adult lives. They were Mrs. Martin Finstad and Gordon Hunt.

Coveted 4-H Key awards for special achievement were presented by Floyd Bakke of Grand Forks, representative of the Cities Service Oil Co., to Donna Busse, Loren Engelstad, Connie Alberg, Lorraine Chapman, Roger Corbet, Marilyn McCrum and Jerry Vatsaas.

Hilmer Lunke, chairman of the C. & C. agriculture committee, conferred trophies on winners in the recent Pennington county livestock show, including Wayne Dahl, New Solum, beef; LaVern Hamre, Mavie, sheep; and Roger Belange, Rocksbury, pig.

County Agent Penning and Miss Olson also presented the Church Group to Go Forward with Rest Home Plans

More than 50 persons at a meeting Monday evening in the Evangelical Free church voted to proceed with plans to organize a Christian home for the aged.

The present temporary committee, headed by Rev. L. W. Lindholm, was authorized to continue to function until the next meeting to be held in January. Rev. Robert Chisholm of Karlstad was named chairman of a nominating committee to submit a slate of candidates for permanent officers.

In the meantime, the group will continue to solicit memberships at a fee of $10, it was announced.

Welfare Board Committee to Run Rest Home

Group Headed by Andy Erickson, Badger; Hopes to Open Home January 1

An executive committee to put into operation and supervise the new rest home to be established in the Oakland Park sanatorium buildings was appointed Friday evening in this city from welfare board members of Pennington, Marshall, Red Lake and Roseau counties, on which state laws place the responsibility for maintaining the home.

Appointed to the committee were Andy Erickson, Badger, member of the Roseau county welfare board, chairman; Carl R. Anderson, Pennington county, vice chairman; Omer Houle, Red Lake county, secretary; and Roy Edman, Marshall county.

The new rest home, which will be the eighth county-operated home to be established under the supervision of the state welfare department, is scheduled to start operating about January 1. The committee is now receiving applications for the position of superintendent of the home. It was indicated that he will be authorized to hire members of his staff, with the understanding that the present employes will be retained as far as possible.

Clerical work and bookkeeping in connection with the new home will be done in the office of the Pennington county welfare board under the supervision of John X. Lynskey, executive secretary.

Accommodations at the home will be divided among the four counties in proportion to their population, the institution having an ultimate capacity of 80 persons after remodeling some of the rooms.

The new institution, Mr. Lynskey said, will not solve the rest home problem so far as Pennington county is concerned. With at least 60 county residents now in rest homes, the new homes will accomodate only 15 to 20 of them.

In the meantime, Dr. Baldwin Borreson, superintendent of Oakland Park sanatorium for nearly 20 years, announced that 16 of the present tuberculosis patients are being transferred by car today and Thursday to Sunnyrest sanatorium at Crookston, while two other patients, now ready for discharge, are returning to their homes.

After the transfer is completed, said Dr. Borreson, the Oakland Park buildings will be thoroly renovated in preparation for their new occupants with the work continuing until the first of December.

Assessments Are Payable on Street Lights

Benefited Businessmen Asked to Make Payment As Quickly as Possible

The city council, at its regular November session Tuesday evening, approved the assessment roll covering the new street lighting system in the business district, recently installed at a cost slightly in excess of $40,000. The action followed a hearing at which no objectors appeared.

The council recommended that business firms benefiting from the project arrange to pay their assessments at the city clerk's office as quickly as possible, thereby saving interest at the rate of six per cent and at the same time helping out the city treasury.

Following submission by the state highway department of a tentative program calling for the improvement of Main av. N. from Ninth to Thirteenth sts., the council voted to approve the resolution necessary to initiate the project. The work would involve bituminous surfacing of the street for a width of 50 feet, installation of curb and gutter and also a storm sewer. The highway department, it was indicated, would pay the greater portion of the cost.

A proposed ordinance regulating the use of trailer houses in the city was given its first reading. The measure is designed to encourage owners of trailer houses to keep them in a licensed trailer park when one is established here.

Given its second reading was an ordinance limiting to southbound traffic only the narrow section of LaBree av. south from First st. to the elevator on the Great Northern tracks.

Mrs. Eva Peet, minister of the Church of the Nazarene, asked permission to move to a location on State av. at Fifth st. a dwelling to be moved in from Bejou. The building, she said, would be used at present for a chapel, and later for a parsonage. The matter was referred to the council building committee for study.

Included in building permits approved at the session were two gasoline service stations. One is to replace the Pure Oil Co. station recently destroyed by fire, and will cost an estimated $22,000. The second, to cost $12,000, will be erected at Horace av. and First st. by Neil McKechnie, and will necessitate the razing of the old building occupied by the Horejsh Electric Co. and a small house on the north end of the property.

Another substantial project involves the construction by Randall Noper of an eight-unit addition to his motel at a cost of $18,000. Permits also were approved covering new homes to be erected by Philip Prichard, Tom Grovum, Joe Solney, Stanley Ranum and Andrew Norby.

Open House Nov. 28th at Hospital Addition

Following advice given November 11th by the architects and inspectors from the Minnesota department of health and U. S. Public Health Service, the new Northwestern Hospital addition will be open for public inspection on Sunday afternoon, November 28 between 1:30 and 5:00 p. m.

The board of trustees has decided to postpone the formal dedication of the new addition until the remodeling of its present plant is completed. It is expected that all construction and remodeling will be complete by March 15, 1955.

The board cordially invites all citizens of Thief River Falls and all surrounding communities to visit the new hospital addition so that they may see for the first time this fine hospital structure. Members of the women's auxiliary are preparing to serve coffee to the many visitors expected.

Attempt will be made to properly post the hospital with signs so that all persons may proceed on a tour which will give a clear overall idea of the many things that are new and ready for service to the people of this area.

Visitors to this community hospital can expect to see a very well organized physical plant furnished with high quality equipment. New features that have been added are so numerous that each visitor will be given a mimeograph copy listing these items and their location as they appear from floor to floor.

Movement of patients from the present hospital into the new structure will probably take place on Tuesday, November 30th. Nearly all of the new equipment for the new addition has already been set up and distributed in the various locations where its use is planned. The moving process from the old hospital to the new will, in many respects, already have taken place by the time of Visitors Day.

Following removal of patients into the new addition, all remaining old equipment of all types will be removed by hospital authorities immediately and stored until the remodeling is complete, at which time considerable of that equipment will be returned for use in the remodeled area.

The opening of the new hospital addition is an event that people of the area have long awaited. It is felt by hospital authorities that visitors will see one of the very finest hospital plants in the state of Minnesota.

All who would win joy, must share it; happiness was born a twin.—Lord Byron.

Christmas Seals to Go out Monday

Proceeds Used to Wage Fight on Tuberculosis

The letter, containing Christmas Seals and a message about tuberculosis, this year will go into homes of the nation on Nov. 22, according to Mrs. Earl Jensen, who is local Christmas Seal chairman.

"Once a year, the TB association makes its one appeal for funds to support its work for better health in this community," she said.

"The Christmas Seal appeal comes to us in our homes. We can sit down, study this appeal, and decide for ourselves what we can do to help finance the TB program. We make our own choice. When we buy Christmas Seals, we know we are supporting a voluntary organization working for the welfare of all residents of Pennington county," Mrs. Jensen stated.

Ruffles of nylon net were formed over her satin skirt. A double Peter Pan collar touched off the neckline. Pompons and frenched mums formed her bouquet. Several friends then offered toasts to the couple.

Mrs. Andrew Watt of Leonard, North Dakota, cut the three-tiered wedding cake, which was decorated with pink roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom. It was baked by Mrs. Jerome Larson, cousin of the bride. Assisting Mrs. Watt was Mrs. Mike Bottolfson of Garske, North Dakota, both aunts of the bride. A Review

St. Olaf College Orchestra Pleases Local Audience

By Albert Ely

When the St. Olaf College orchestra played at Lincoln High School, Tuesday, November 16 several things combined to being to the audience a thoroughly delightful evening. The spirit and unity of the group combined to produce a maturity of ensemble tone almost unbelievable for so young a group. The audience did not mind an occasional technical flaw from an orchestra which could produce so well the flashing exuberance of the Glinka "Russian and Ludmilla Overture."

The selection of the program was a happy one. Variety kept the concert alive and meaningful for those whose acquaintance with this type of music is limited. The music was colorful, yet the Bach "Prelude, Choral and Fugue" and the Mozart "Concert in E-flat major" provided the necessary balance.

The French horn soloist, Ronald Richardson, who played the Mozart concerto, had excellent control over that unpredictable instrument. Miss Solveig Maakestad, 'cello soloist, not only showed technical competence, and had a smooth, rich tone, but she displayed that rarest of qualities, musicianship, in her interpretation of the poignant "Kol Nidrei".

The audience called for encores, which were "Traumerei" by Schumann, and "Matinee Musicale" by Benjamin Britten, a contemporary English composer. An American flavor was given to the program by the playing of Leroy Anderson's "Horse and Buggy". The only disappointment of the evening was not the orcestra, but the empty seats in the audience. However, those who conquered their fears, found themselves enjoying an unusual treat, and were undoubtedly grateful for this opportunity to hear so fine a group.

Jazz Band Appears In First Concert

Doc Evans Group Shows Outstanding Ability

Doc Evans and his Dixieland jazz band appeared last Wednesday evening in the Lincoln high school auditorium in the first of a series of four concerts sponsored by the Northwest Concert association.

Jazz music as rendered by the Doc Evans ensemble adapted itself more readily than might have been expected to ears attuned to classical or semi-classical music.

The instruments proved themselves to be artists in their respective fields, Doc Evans playing the cornet, and the other instruments including a skilled pianist, drums, banjo and slide trombone.

The group played in a wide variety of styles, starting with the ragtime popular at the turn of the century, and showing the influence of the New Orleans style, Negro spirituals and blues music.

Adding much to the effectiveness of the program were the interpretive comments by Doc Evans.

All Four Amendments Were Approved Nov. 2

All four amendments to the state constitution were approved by the voters of Minnesota November 2, according to the Minneapolis Tribune whose tabulation last Thursday was made from unofficial returns supplied by 84 of the state's 87 county auditors. Only returns from Hubbard, Itasca and Pine counties with some 30,000 votes in all were missing.

The Tribune estimated that 585,723 votes were necessary to pass an amendment which must have a majority of all the votes cast and counted at the election.

The unofficial tabulation says that Amendment No. 1 setting the qualifications of probate judge received 595,728 "yes" votes and 295,751 "no."

Amendment No. 2 eliminating double liability of stockholders in banks received 610,340 "yes" votes and 281,901 "no."

Amendment No. 3 clearing the way for revision of the state constitution received 624,083 "yes" votes and 258,953 "no".

Amendment No. 4 eliminating the necessity of elections between the general election in early November and January, received 621,432 "yes" votes and 274,546 "no".

In Pennington county, Amendment No. 1 was the only one that failed to receive a majority of "Yes" votes in the election.

More Than 200 at Production Credit Meeting Thursday

Brynolf Grahn of Roseau Named to Succeed Father on Board of Directors

More than 200 shareholders attended the 21st annual meeting of the Thief River Falls Production Credit association last Thursday afternoon in the basement of Trinity church. Adolph Erickson of Grygla, president, conducted the meeting.

In the election of directors, D. E. Ostby of Plummer was reelected as the Red Lake county member, while Brynolf Grahn of Roseau was elected to succeed his father, Bert Grahn, who retired from the board after 19 years of service. In behalf of the association, President Erickson presented Mr. Grahn Sr. with a purse of money.

Mr. Ostby gave the report of directors, while Robert J. Lund, secretary-manager, submitted his report, showing that at the end of the fiscal year outstanding loans totaled $686,808, nearly $100,000 more than a year ago.

Lund stated that the association now has a total of $39,575 in capital stock, and $89,087 in reserves built up out of accumulated earnings.

Following the business session, lunch was served by Circle No. 1 of the Trinity ladies aid, and several valuable door prizes were awarded.

Official Returns Give Mrs. Knutson 2,335 over Hagen

Retiring Congressman Ran Well Ahead of GOP Ticket in Nov. 2 Election

Forkenbrock Now Showing '55 Dodge

New Body Styles Have Aircraft Sleekness

The 1955 Dodge passenger car line, an advanced concept in automotive body design, will be introduced this week in dealers' showrooms across the nation. The cars will be shown locally today at the Forkenbrok Motor Co.

William C. Newberg, Dodge president, explained that car stylists have blended aircraft sleekness and power into a "design of refreshing beauty."

He revealed that Dodge engineers have incorporated over 100 structural and mechanical innovations in the longer, lower and wider 1955 line. He said all four-door sedans have a distinct touch of hardtop styling.

Offering three series—the new Custom Royal, the richly appointed Royal and classic Coronet—the '55 Dodge has a built-in look of action, resulting from its swept-back design.

Performance to bear out the swiftness in styling is provided by a wide choice of engines—the "Get-Away Six" developing 123 horsepower, the all-new Red Ram V-8 rated at 175 horsepower, the Super Red Ram V-8 at 183 horsepower, and the super-powered Super Red Ram V-8 at 193 horsepower.

Delay Breeding After Calving

Delaying breeding a cow until 60 days after she calves is good practice, and the following is a research project which gives added meaning to that custom.

The survey was made by Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., and I heard about it from Ralph Wayne, Extension Dairyman at the University of Minnesota.

The eastern researchers studied 150 cows who had a healthy history of reproduction. Twenty-six cows were bred within 50 days after calving. Of these, only 31 per cent settled on the first service. Of twenty-four bred 50 to 60 days after freshening, 67 per cent settled on first service. But 50 cows in the group were bred from 60 to 90 days after calving and 70 per cent of them settled at first service.

Another group were bred more than 90 days after calving and 78 per cent settled on first service.

Those bred the first time within 50 days after calving ended up settling an average of 100 days after calving. The cows bred the first time from 50 to 60 days after calving settled an average of 78.9 days after calving. The third group, bred from 61 to 90 days after calving, settled an average of 94 days after freshening.

Thus it seems that early breeding actually delays conception. Wayne says that the survey underlines the importance of delaying breeding even healthy cows until at least 50 days after calving.

He says cows having a uterin discharge or a uterus that has not returned to normal in the usual time should not be bred until even later.

An important day for rural people is coming up next month. It's "S-D Day"—Safe Driving Day, proclaimed by President Eisenhower just this week. "S-D Day" will be Wednesday, December 15. It's one day set aside to practice safe driving. The goal for each community: to stay completely free of traffic accidents that Wednesday. It may help whittle down that appalling toll of dead and maimed on our highways. Over 38,000 people were killed in highway accidents last year.

Spotlight On Grass Silage

Did you know that grass silage is a weed killer? That's one of its extra values, according to Rodney Briggs, the University's extension agronomist. Most weed seeds that go in the silo along with the grass silage lose their germinating power. Some lambsquarters, full of seed, on a farm in Itasca County was put into the silo with silage. When the silage was fed later, the seeds were removed and sent to the state seed laboratory where they tested "zero" germinating power. Also, such seeds pass safely through an animal when he eats hay, but not through silage.

CHATTING with your HOME AGENT

Marge Olsen

With deer season starting this weekend, you will probably be having a deer added to your food supply. You will want to use the venison in various ways, and here are a few recipes to help you do jut that. These recipes are from the cook book "Cooking Wild Game" available at the library in Thief River Falls.

Pan-broiled venison teak: Cut steaks about 5/8-inch thick. Put ⅛ teaspoon salt into a blue hot frying pan; then the steaks. Turn them once, season with salt and pepper, and turn again. Cook, in all, not more than 1½ minutes.

Broiled venison steak: Use tender cuts from loin or leg, about ½ to ¾-inch thick. Brush with olive oil and broil as for chops, allowing 7-10 minutes; season with salt and pepper, and serve with lemon butter. To pan-fry, brush hot frying lightly with fat and fry quickly. If venison is strong, marinate in oil and lemon juice or French dressing for 1 hour before broiling. Allow ⅓ to ½ pound per portion.

Venison soup: 2 or 3 pounds venison (shank, flank or neck); 1½ quarts cold water, 5 or 6 carrots, cubed; 1 bunch celery, cubed; 2 cups tomatoes; 2 tablespoons salt, 2 medium potatoes, cubed; 2 or 3 onions, cubed; ⅛ teaspoon savory, 1 bay leaf.

Soak meat in salted cold water for several hours. Simmer slowly for two hours, skimming occasionally. Let the broth stand over night. Next day remove the congealed fat, add vegetables and cook 1½ to 2 hours, slowly.

Venison meat loaf: 1 pound ground venison (neck, shank, flank, shoulder); ½ lb. ground pork, 1 egg, 1 cup milk, 1½ teaspoons salt, ½ tablespoon chopped onion, ½ cup dried bread crumbs. Beat the egg, add milk and bread crumbs. Mix thoroughly with the salt and seasoning. Put in a greased pan and bake in medium oven (350 degrees F.) for 1 hour. Tomato and green pepper may be added if additional seasoning is desired. The meat loaf may be made with all venison, but the fat of the pork makes a more tender loaf.

Good Hunting!!

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor Times:

When did the season on pets and farm animals open? Some boys seem to think it perfectly proper and great sport to shoot to kill anything that crosses their paths. Fathers and mothers, please advise and warn your gun toting offspring that we have reached the end of our patience. They shoot insulators off our telephone and electric light poles and electric fences. Sometimes they are only nicked and rain and snow gets into the insulators causing us to be without electricity for hours and without telephone service for days.

Hunting is a good sport but when hunters destroy property they are poor sports and a menace in the community. Windows have been shot out of many buildings in some areas.

AIRPORT NEWS

James Rooney from Kalamazoo, Michigan, and Hank Torris from Chicago, Illinois, stopped at the airport Monday en route to Winnipeg. They were flying an Ercoupe.

Bill Johnson from Bemidji, flying the Interprovincial Pipeline patrol in the Super Cub, was at the airport on Tuesday.

Norman Jacobson and Hardy Israelson flew to Fargo in the Flying Club Cruiser Friday.

In spite of the snappy weather, Sunday was a popular visiting day at the airport. Thomas Backe from Red Lake Falls flew in with an Aeronca Champ. Father McMahon from Badger and Lorris Ziska from Greenbush, in Father McMahon's Piper Pacer, dropped in. Jimmy Votava from McIntosh, in an Aeronca, stopped here on his way home from Crookston. And Earl Saul and Jack Rosen from Crookston flew over in the Navion.

Hardy Israelson made his first solo flight in the Flying Club Aeronca on Sunday.

Sunday was also a day of "firsts." After Hardy made his solo flight, his mother, the first woman mayor of Thief River Falls, went aloft for her first airplane ride, with Christ Kierk, the old maestro, at the controls of the Flying Club Cruiser. Congratulations to both Hardy and Mayor Israelson on their first flights!

The flying Club wishes to extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Milton Davidson, who are the parents of a baby girl born Sunday.

WHY RISK BATTERY FAILURES?

Test after test, by independent testing laboratories and in actual motoring use, have proved the Life-Long Battery's amazing superiority under all conditions. Thanks to this great battery development, never before available to the general motoring public, you can put an end to your battery troubles.

TREMENDOUS RECUPERATIVE POWER

Install the Life-Long in your car the same as any other battery. With the ignition switch off and the headlights on, step on the starter until the battery is so run-down it won't crank the engine, light the lights, or even blow the horn! Now wait one minute with headlights switched off, then step on the starter. The Life-Long Battery will start your engine instantly with a surge of power it has regained during that sixty second interval!

This proves the Life-Long's tremendous ability to recuperate. One of the Life-Long salesmen has made this demonstration over 500 times with the same battery. There is to date, no noticeable decrease in his battery's efficiency.

CORRECTION

In the Hellquist-Waldron wedding report last week, it was stated that Mrs. Selmer Haugen, who cut the cake, was a grandmother of the bride. This should have read godmother. Mrs. Selmer Johnson who poured was a godmother of the groom.

In the last issue of the Times we unintentionally omitted the names of Mrs. Thomas Matson and Mrs. Annie Dahle, among the list of guests at the bridal shower for Shirley Nelson.

'55 Plymouth Now on Display Here

Forkenbrock Shows Much Improved Line of Cars

Plymouth's bigger and more powerful 1955 model cars are being displayed by Forkenbrock Motor Co. beginning today.

The 1955 Plymouths are entirely new, both in styling and engineering detail. They are lower, longer, wider then previous Plymouth cars.

They are the most powerful cars Plymouth ever built. The 1955 engines are a 117-horsepower PowerFlow six, a 157-horsepower Hy-Fire V-8 and a 167-horsepower Hy-Fire V-8.

Plymouth offers as optional equipment a full range of automatic and power assist devices. They include PowerFlite fully automatic no clutch transmission, a new design coaxial full-time power steering, power brakes, power-operated front seat adjustments, power-operated window regulators, and adjustable speed electric windshield wipers.

The 1955 line is made up of 12 models, including for the first time four-door versions of the Plymouth Suburban, the all steel body "station wagon" type car which Plymouth pioneered in 1949.

Among the distinctive features of Plymouth's new styling are a low silhouette, slimness and sleekness of body lines, deeply recessed head lights and tail lights, and an overall appearance of forward motion.

Plymouth four-door sedans are 10.3 inches longer than their predecessors. They are 1.7 inches lower. Front seats are 3.2 inches wider and rear seats 5.9 inches wider.

This crowded condition will be remedied shortly after December 1, at which time all patients will be moved to the new addition, said Harold W. Peterson, administrator.

Globetrotters to Offer Varied Program in Gymnasium Thursday

About two hours and fifteen minutes of first-rate entertainment is in store for the basketball fans that move into the high school gymnasium on Thursday night when the famed Harlem Globetrotters and the Boston Whirlwinds meet a local aggregation in an exhibition tilt.

The program has been arranged in this manner: the Boston Whirlwinds, with the famed Clarence "Bevo" Francis in the lineup, will meet the Northern Minnesota All-Stars for twenty minutes; and then the Harlem Globetrotters will meet the All-Stars for twenty minutes. The second game will see the Boston combination playing the Trotters in a 15-minute half, followed by a variety show of half-an-hour, and then in conclusion the Trotters will play the Whirlwinds another 15-minute half.

Headlining the variety show that accompanies the Harlem Globetrotters basketball exhibition, will be Jacques Cordon, a unicyclist and juggler, and Tony Lavelli, an accordionist. Cordon is now in his sixth year as a "Globetrotter fixture" since Abe Saperstein first discovered him performing in a circus in Europe. His tricky riding and juggling at breakneck speed atop a small table is a pulsating show-stopper.

Lavelli, who is touring with the Globetrotters as an accompanying musical artist, is a Yale University graduate, and has been rated as Yale's greatest basketball player. Lavelli established a scoring record while at college, racking up 1,964 points, and following his graduation he entered the "pro" basketball ranks, playing with such teams as the Boston Celtics and the New York Knickerbockers. He hung up his playing togs only a year ago to concentrate on his musical career.

The game time for the first tilt on Thursday night will be at 8:00 p. m. Admission prices have been set at $1.50 for adults, and $1.00 for students. Tickets are on sale at the local drug stores. The appearance of the Harlem Globetrotters troupe here is being sponsored by the Thieves senior hockey organization.

'Trotter Mainstay

JESSE COFFEY

Developing rapidly into a Globetrotter mainstay is this former San Diego High School all-around athlete, now in his second season with the Trotters. Jesse played football, baseball and basketball in his prep days and was proficient in each, but concentrating on basketball alone now is paying dividends for him as he appears to have a bright future in the sport.

The Globetrotters will play double header exhibition games at Thief River Falls Thursday night.

TRF Elks Attend State Conference

Plans Made to Dedicate Elks Youth Camp June 23

A delegation from the local Elks lodge, including Walt Jung, Alvin Christofferson, Ole Engelstad, R. S. Eldevik and Philip Prichard last week attended the state Elks winter conference in Minneapolis.

Arrangements were made to dedicate the new youth camp at Brainerd, sponsored by the Minnesota Elks lodges, on June 23, 1955.

The local men received assurances that among musical organizations that will participate in the parade in connection with the state Elks convention in Thief River Falls in June, 1955, will be the St. Paul and Fargo Elks bands and the Rochester and Mankato drum and bugle corps.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Careful, Careful, Careful.

With the duck and partridge seasons being rated as complete busts, the pheasant season just ordinary, and the sharp-tailed season just considered fair, it is a cinch that the hunters will make one last great effort for a successful hunt during the deer season that opens on Saturday morning. It's probable that, given a break in the weather, the number of hunters that will be moving through the popple thickets, cane-break, and tamarac swamps will reach near-record proportions.

Considering the fast increase in the number of the hunters that have taken part in the upland game bird, the waterfowl, and the big-game hunting seasons the past few years, the safety record is commendable. The state conservation department and the Minnesota Federation of Conservation Clubs have, through their intensive safety educational programs, been instrumental in reducing the number of accidents and fatalities due to hunting.

The fact that these hunting accidents, in proportion to the number of hunters that are afield, have been reduced shouldn't be any reason for this season's deer hunters to become lax. Every gun should be treated as a loaded fire-arm, and the guns should be handled as if they are off safety. Carefulness and caution can't be overdone during the deer hunting season.

Bud Gets a Big Score

Bud Brossoit, bowling with Ray Mattson's Ace Hardware team against the American Legion team in a Monday night Service League match, really had a game, chalking up a 266 score. Bud, in the second game of the three-game series, opened with four strikes in a row, picked up a couple of spares, and then finished with five strikes, getting eight pins on his last ball.

Bud, who rolled as the number two man on the Ace squad, had a 643 total for series, and his bowling was instrumental in giving the Hardware boys a sweep of their match with the Legion. Bud's 266 score, which set a league record, was rolled on alleys one and two.

Bull Cooks

That Fourtown deer hunting group had their shooting-in pre-season practice last Sunday, and judging by the results of their marksmanship, Elmer Satre and Kenny Halldin are entitled to stand "on post." The rest of the boys "earned" positions as "drivers." That is, all except Phil LeGault and Cotton Langevin, who, rated according to merit, should be limited to "bull cook" duties, chopping wood, peeling spuds, and mixing pancake batter.

Is there anything to report that the Red Lake Indians have been alerted to watch for strayed and lost hunters? And if they find any hunters ambling around in the Reservation, they are to direct the boys toward Fourtown? Fact is, that country east of Fourtown is pretty rugged, and if a hunter turns around a couple of times, tries to follow a deer trail, and happens to be hindered by a cloudy and overcast day, the chances are heavy that he'll become lost. A reliable compass is a "must."

Another fine deer camp established by local hunters will be the Forsberg-Solheim-Ness camp on the Randen Ridge. That outfit has re-furnished a farm house, installed gas cook stoves and an oil heater. They have already laid in supply of onions, to go with the venison liver that they expect to have on the menu on Sunday night.

A New Conference

That was a move in the right direction when the athletic directors from Bemidji, Crookston, East Grand Forks, and Thief River Falls, at a meeting held at Erskine last week, formed the Northwest Conference. If they can only persuade Detroit Lakes and Moorhead to join the circuit, the league will be one of the state's best.

The coaches named an all-conference football team, the first annual selection and seven members of coach Ralph Skjod's Prowlers were honored by being named to the squad—namely, Sid Vraa, Jim Sauve, Pete Froehle, Mark Bjorkman, Louie Wedul, Dick Burtness, and Lee Kjos. Vraa, Sauve, Froehle, and Bjorkman were chosen to backfield positions, with Wedul at center, Burtness at tackle, and Kjos at an end.

Deer Hunting Starts Nov. 20; Advice Given

Deer hunters, make sure the object in your sights actually is a deer, not a man, before you pull the trigger.

Mistaking a man for a deer was the biggest single cause of fatalities in last year's Minnesota deer hunting season, the safety committee of the Minnesota Conservation Federation warned today as Minnesota deer hunters prepared for the opening of the 1954 season on Saturday, November 20. Four deer hunters were killed last November, because other hunters did not positively identify their quarry before they fired, H. Lee Kuluvar, committee chairman, pointed out. Two others were badly wounded.

Other warnings by the safety committee, which in cooperation with the Jacob Schmidt Brewing Company of St. Paul has just completed the most detailed and extensive research ever made into a state's hunting accidents, are:

Don't shoot down grown-over tote roads and trails, and don't hunt on them.

Hold down on your deer. You'll have a better chance of hitting a vital spot, and you won't be sending high, wild shots tearing through the brush. Most misses are high. Most important, don't shoot indiscriminately and wildly.

Deer are Minnesota's most thrilling game, but keep your emotions under control. Don't shoot until you are sure.

In party hunting, always know where the other members are, and don't shoot in that direction even if a deer bounds that way. Draw up a hunting plan and stick to it. Know your companions are safe hunters.

One Driving Error Causes 50 Pct. of Traffic Mishaps

"By correcting just one heard of driving error," said Earl M. Larimer, state S-D Day director, "reported accidents on Minnesota's streets and highways during 1953 could have been cut in half."

He issued this statement in this first week of the nation-wide safety campaign which was launched Tuesday with proclamations by President Eisenhower and the governors of the 48 states calling upon motorists to check their driving manners in preparation for December 15th, which has been designated as "S-D Day." The objective is to make everyone aware of what causes accidents and on that day to strive for a totally accident-free day.

"Of the eight leading causes of traffic accidents in our state," continued Larimer, "failure to grant right of way, resulting in accidents at intersections, caused 24,127 of the 50,831 reported accidents—virtually 50% of all mishaps."

How can these accidents be prevented?

"By reducing speeds when approaching intersections," said Larimer, "by religiously observing the basic rule of right of way—that the vehicle on the right has precedence over the one on the left—and by being courteous virtually every one of these accidents can be avoided. Start today—it may save your life."

Liberals May Win Control of House

65 out of 66 Necessary Members Attend Caucus

Sixty-five members of the Minnesota state house of representatives pledged themselves Saturday to organize with the liberal faction in the 1955 legislative session.

This was three more than the conservatives—majority group since 1938—were able to assemble at their caucus Friday.

Necessary majority to organize the 131-member house is 66.

It appeared that the balance of power may rest with Rep. Carl M. Iverson, Ashby veteran whose name was on the liberal caucus call but did not appear yesterday at the meeting in St Francis hotel, St. Paul

He was reported to have said by telephone that he leans toward election of a liberal speaker.

Choice of a liberal or conservation speaker in Minnesota's theoretically "non-partisan" legislature determines which faction will run the house for the ensuing session.

It was an accepted fact that both sides will do much behind-the-scenes persuading between now and Jan. 4 when the 59th legislature convenes.

Rep. Otto E. Clark, Osakis, claimed by both sides, did not show up for either caucus

State Committee Working for Fewer School Districts

Group Would Abolish 1,500 Districts in State Not Now Operating Schools

Fifteen hundred Minnesota school districts would be abolished next year under legislation recommended by the statewide Coordinating Committee for Education.

These are districts that operate no schools. The schools they used to run are closed and their youngsters are sent to school in neighboring districts. Attaching the districts to nearby, operating districts will be one step in providing better schools for Minnesota young people, the coordinating committee believes.

Other key steps are these, according to William Wettergren, St. Peter, committee chairman:

Encouragement of all efforts to eliminate the too-small and too-weak districts and set up more adequate districts The advantages are obvious, Wettergren said. A larger district provides a broader tax base. With the same tax rate, a larger district can provide schools with better facilities. It can provide a bigger faculty, prepared to teach a broader program. It can provide good transportation

Progress has been made since 1947 in combining districts for more effective schools. There were 7,606 Minnesota school districts in that year. There are 4,722 now. Almost a third of these are the non-functioning closed districts.

New Band Program at Plummer School

Total of 32 Players Now Are Getting Instruction

The new band program added to the curriculum of the Plummer school is now well under way, according to the director, Fred Newsome, with much interest shown. Band enrollment now stands at 32 musicians with the possibility of others joining later.

Those now taking band instruction are: Flutes, Lucille Taylor; trombones, Jack Ulrich, Doris Konickson, Pat Wright, Orlin Vandeventer, Laura Sorenson, Orin Linder; drums, Mickey Jorgenson, Betty Hanson, Willis Mattison; bass horns, Sidney Schiefert, Patsy Woods; clarinets, Judy Clausen, Glenyce Eskell, Arlene Gauthier, Myrna Malwitz, Florence Hesse, Sharon Ste. Marie, Gloria Halle, Sharon Milligan; alto saxophone, Ronald Arnold; tenor saxophone, Jerry Malwitz; cornets, Evelyn Eskell, Rita Hulst, Tommy Peterson, Carol Arnold, Marlene Kush; alto horns, Carol Weidal, June Walter, Roberta Schiefert; baritone horns, Phyllis Mykleby, Madonna Delage.

Newsome states that students may still join and any who may be interested should contact him soon, as the band could very well accomodate more coronets and saxophones.

Nurses Asked to Renew Licenses

The Minnesota state board of examiners of nurses today reminded Minnesota registered nurses and licensed practical nurses that annual renewal of registration for 1955 is due before January 1. Annual renewal is required for all registered nurses and licensed practical nurses who expect to be employed for any period of time in 1955. The $1 renewal fee (money order or certified check) should accompany the renewal application and be sent to the Minnesota state board of examiners of nurses, 700 Minnesota Building, St. Paul 1, Minnesota.

80 Counties Will Take Part in State Farm Bureau Meet

Annual Meeting of Farm Group Is Scheduled to Open Monday, Nov. 29th

Farmers and farm homemakers from more than 80 counties will attend the 36th annual meeting of the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation to be held in Minneapolis November 29 to December 1. Their main objective will be to seek state-wide approval of policies previously adopted in township and county farm bureau conventions, says J. L. Morton, president of the state federation. County farm bureau meetings are under way now throughout the state and policies threshed out on all subjects that relate to rural living.

Decisions made it the annual state meeting from the work program of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation for the coming years and will be presented for action at the annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation which will be held in New York City December 12-16. A large delegation of Minnesota farmers will attend the national meeting, which will draw attendance from every state in the Union. Farm bureau membership is at its highest point in history, with more than a million and a half farm families enrolled.

The opening day of the state convention will be featured by ten conferences on specialized subjects. The annual meeting of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Service company will be held on that day, as will conferences of the home and community department, insurance service, health services, and organization workers. Five commodity conferences will be held, on livestock, dairying, poultry, field crops and fruits and vegetables. More than 50 speakers, each an expert in his field, are on the formal program. Principal speaker at the annual banquet will be Allan B. Kline, the Iowa farmer who is president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Thunder is caused by a flash of lightning heating the air which then expands and sends out a wave. The wave causes the noise.

PROGRESS IN DISEASE CONTROL

The merger of Oakland Park sanatorium at Thief River Falls with Sunnyrest at Crookston is now an accomplished fact. Over a period of years there has been a steady decline in the number of patients in these institutions and even with the combined patient load the one institution will now continue to operate at considerably less than capacity. If the present trend continues it is quite likely that within a few years there will no longer be a need for Sunnyrest. According to health authorities, in the foreseeable future, one, or at most two sanatoria, will provide adequately for the entire state.

This is an encouraging development. Here we have visible proof of the splendid progress that has been made in the control of what half a century ago was one of our most dreaded diseases. Tuberculosis is still a menace, and the preventive program that has contributed so much to its control should be continued, but it is encouraging to know that there now are fairly certain methods of arresting its progress.

There is one unfortunate consequence of this otherwise happy result, as far as Thief River Falls is concerned, and that is the loss of Dr. Borreson as a citizen of our community. He will now direct the operation of Sunnyrest at Crookston and the Borresons have many friends in this community who will regret their departure. We hope that Doc will soon work himself out of a job at Sunnyrest too and then come back home.

CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION

All of the four amendments voted on in the recent election were approved and such a perfect score is indeed an unusual record. Most important of the proposals adopted probably was the provision that clears up the question of procedure in acting on the recommendations of a constitutional convention. The constitution is not clear on whether the conclusions of such a convention would have to be approved by the voters of the state and that is now definitely established.

Because the constitution in its present form has not been clear on this point there has been strong opposition to the proposals for amending the constitution by the convention method. Now that this point has been decided it is reasonable to assume that such a convention will be called.

There is little disagreement on the question of whether or not the constitution needs revision. In many respects it is as antiquated as the city ordinances that were drafted for the needs of a horse-and-buggy society of a hundred years ago. It has been amended from time to time but these occasional amendments have resulted in a highly unsatisfactory overlapping of patches. It is not a simple document, easily understood, to which we may point with pride. A general overhauling is long past due.

IRON ORE AND FARM PRICES

Only about 50 million tons of iron ore has been shipped from Minnesota during the season that closed last week. This was the lowest total since 1946, when the nation was adjusting back to normal production following another war.

By pre-Pearl Harbor standards 50 million tons would be considered a big volume of production for one year. And now that Minnesota's mines will start competing with ores being made available from other areas maybe we will have to become accustomed to living with that kind of volume again.

Congressman John Blatnik, of the 8th District, made some comments on this situation at the Coya Knutson party at Oklee last week, and we came away with the impression that he had taken more liberties with the facts than could be justified in an after-the-election speech. He attributed the reduced demand for steel, and incidentally the reduced demand for iron ore, to the drop in farm prices. Because of the farmers' curtailed buying power they bought less machinery — hence less steel production and hence less demand for iron ore and more unemployment on the Iron Range. The whole problem was just that simple.

No doubt the lower buying power of agriculture has resulted in some curtailment of steel production, but this has been, at most, only a minor contributing factor. The main reason for reduced steel production has been the end of fighting and the big cut-back in production for military needs.

And the distinguished gentleman could have called attention to the curtailment of operations in 1947, when there also was unemployment on the Iron Range and the income of agriculture was no greater than it is this year. That was the natural result of the end of a war under a Democratic administration as it is now a natural result under a Republican administration.

No one wants unemployment on the Iron Range or anywhere else, and certainly the ability of the farmer to buy the products of industry is desirable and in the best interests of all of us. But in adjusting from a period of abnormally high production back to the needs of normal conditions we are confronted with unusual problems and the solutions to these problems are not easy.

Our farm income this year is estimated at 12.5 billion dollars. This is down about 6% from the 1953 figure of 13.3 billions, and 26% under the record high 16.8 billions, but it will average out with such years as 1943, 1944, 1945 and 1950. We have assurance that the bottom is not going to drop out of the market as it did in the early 'twenties. We can go forward reasonably confident that as we get our production under control the overall condition is going to improve.

DEER HUNTING AGAIN

Deer hunting season gets under way again this week and up here in the deer country that always means extra activity. Reports indicate that the deer population is well up to the average of recent years and that encourages the hope that maybe with good management we can keep on having an open season each year for many years to come.

We don't need to tell hunters that the high powered rifles they use for deer hunting are dangerous. We might properly remind them however that they owe it to their fellow hunters, and to the people who farm the lands they hunt over, to observe all the safety rules and regulations. Being considerate of the rights of others, their personal rights and their property rights, is a good rule to follow in hunting as in all other activities.

And if we don't get a covering of snow between now and then, hunters should take extra precautions against starting fires. Fires kill people too, as well as destroy property. Extra care this year will help keep Minnesota green next year.

Sid Davison went

Sid Davison's senior year at Howard High School was busy and exciting—until rheumatic fever struck. After three critical weeks in the hospital, he was finally allowed to return home, but still confined to bed. Then A. J. Welk, manager of the telephone company in Howard, South Dakota, heard the story.

Calling on Sid's father, he suggested a solution to the problem—a private home-to-school telephone system, installed as easily as the average 'phone.

The next day installers went to work. A small but powerful two-way speaker set was placed in Sid's bedroom. At school there was a similar set that could be plugged into any of his classrooms. Soon Sid was attending classes from his bedside, chatting with friends between sessions—even listening to the class play in which he had been scheduled to appear.

His spirits boosted by the feeling of being back in on things, he buckled down to his studies. At the end of May, Sid Davison was graduated with his class!

Although this true story describes an unusual situation, it illustrates the value of everyday telephone service, too. You, fortunately, may always be healthy and active, but how else could you run so many errands, make so many personal "trips" far and near—except by telephone? And how else could you do it so easily, and at so little cost?

Granny Drives
But Won't "Shift"

Saw Grandma Taylor parking her 1924 Franklin out front the other day. Neat as a pin, radiator and hub caps gleaming—the whole car is as shiny as the day she bought it 30 years ago.

Then I stopped and looked again—for there, hanging on the spare tire was a sign: "This car NOT for sale."

Asked Granny what was going on. "Joe," she says, "it's this craze for old cars. Everybody wants to buy my Franklin. But it has served for years and it's not for sale at any price."

From where I sit, it's strictly the new cars for me—but Grandma Taylor, and others, are certainly welcome to their "old faithfuls." It's simply a question of preference. Same with a choice of beverages. For instance, I like a temperate glass of beer with supper. You may prefer coffee. Fine! The important thing is that we respect each other's choice—and "ride along smoothly" together.

THE COURSE OF A LAW IN THE MAKING

From the introduction of a measure in Congress to final approval as a public law seems to require, on a very casual and general average, something less than one year. About the longest elapsed time introduction to statute books during the last Congress was from early January 1953 until early July 1954, while among the shortest enactment stretches was February 22 to March 6. During the two legislative sessions of the 83rd Congress, besides the measures considered and passed, a total of nearly 60,000 postal, military and other federal appointments were acted upon. None were rejected but 43 were withdrawn and 787 went unconfirmed.

THANKS

Have tried to get someone to admit they voted for me but they won't stick their neck out.

So I have decided to thank those who voted against me, as I can reach more people that way.

Think it is all for the best as my insurance business was much better the week after election than many weeks before.

Motorists Shouldn't Gamble, Chief States

Chief of Police Elton C. Cummings warned yesterday that probably hundreds of persons in Thief River Falls are big time gamblers without realizing it.

"They're the motorists who gamble their lives on a guess that maybe it won't snow or freeze until next week," he said.

"They put off getting their cars ready for winter until after the snow is on the ground. That can be a fatal mistake—just once."

November snowstorms, the chief added, can be more hazardous to motorists than January blizzards, because they come unexpectedly and find many motorists unprepared, both mechanically and psychologically.

"If you want to gamble that it won't snow, "the chief said, "there's no law against it. But it snowed last winter, and the winter before that, and it looks to me like a poor bet."

He urged every motorist in Thief River Falls to observe the following safety rules—Now.

2. When snow comes, get the "feel" of the road before starting out.

3. Keep the windshield clear of fog and frost, and be sure headlights, windshield wiper blades, and defrosters are working.

4. On snow and ice, use tire chains. They cut stopping distance in half, and give 4 to 7 times greater traction.

5. When you have to stop, don't jam on the brakes. "Pump" your brakes to avoid skids.

6. Follow other cars at a safe distance. Give yourself room in which to stop, if the other fellow does.

Asked if tire chains are necessary if a car has "winterized" tires, Chief Cummings said that the report of the National Safety Council's committee on winter driving hazards has found that tires with special treads cannot approach tire chains for safety.

Jane Powell, determined to make gentlemen out of her husband's rowdy and unkempt brothers, gives them an ultimatum — "No cleanliness, no chow!" Howard Keel, her husband, does not appear in the scene with "brothers" Jacques d'Amboise, Jeff Richards, Russ Tamblyn and Tommy Rall. It's from boisterous new musical "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers," filmed in CinemaScope and Ansco Color at the Falls starting Sunday.

Holders of Series F, G Bonds Warned

Interest Ends on Bonds 12 Years after Purchase

Persons who purchased U. S. Savings Bonds in the Series F and G category twelve years ago are being reminded that their bonds cease to draw interest after maurity.

In a letter to bankers and other financial consultants located in Minnesota, Henry S. Kingman, president of the Farmers and Mechanics Savings Bank of Minneapolis and state savings bonds chairman, asks that they communicate this fact to their F and G bond customers of 1941 and 1942, and suggest that matured bonds be redeemed and the proceeds reinvested in the Treasury's new Series H bond.

The first F and G bonds were sold in May of 1941 with a maturity date of 12 years from date of issue. They differ from the Series E bond which continues to draw interest for another ten years after first maturity.

The Series H bond bears three per cent interest when held to a maturity of nine years and eight months. This compares with two and a half per cent yield on Series F and G bonds.

The interest on Series H bonds is mailed to owners by Treasury check every six months. It is sold in denominations as low as $500 and is redeemable at par six months after purchase upon one month's notice.

More Americans went to concerts—both long-hair and short—last year than went to baseball games—actually, 88 per cent more than in 1942.

When the Clock Strikes

"When the clock struck twelve, the coach became a pumpkin and the horses were transformed into six white mice." The story of Cinderella may have fascinated Tommy and Mary when they were younger, but now that they are teen-agers the problem of curfew plays a more immediate role in their lives.

Nobody likes to be left out of things and having to leave a party while the fun is still in progress can be a source of unhappiness for a teen-ager. On the other hand, not having a specific time when one is expected home can also lead to difficulty. Strange as it may seem, absolute freedom can mean to the adolescent that no one cares enough about him to set any rules.

It is important to deal with curfew in such a way that both parents and teenagers may have a part in making the decisions. Parents have an idea of what they consider a proper time for their offspring to be home. One factor to be considered, though, is the time that the other boys and girls in their circle of friends are also expected home. At this point it has been helpful in many communities for groups of parents to reach some general agreement as to what is desirable.

Even when a uniform policy has been set up for an age group there may be individual reasons of health or family responsibility which may make it necessary to work out a different plan for a given child. By using discussion of the problem as a springboard, family understanding can be deepened and a satisfactory agreement reached. Misunderstandings flourish in an atmosphere which prohibits open expression of ideas and feelings. But giving adolescents the responsibility for helping to set up their own rules gives them the incentive to follow these standards closely and prepares them for responsible citizenship.

Darkhouse Spearing Season Opens Dec. 11

The darkhouse spearing season will run from December 11 through February 15, it was announced today by Conservation Commissioner Chester S. Wilson. Species that can be speared under Minnesota laws are northern pike or pickerel, catfish, whitefish, and rough fish.

Spearing of northern pike is increasing in Minnesota, according to Hjalmar O. Swenson, supervisor, Bureau of Fisheries. "The number of darkhouse licenses sold and the recorded spearing hours on 12 representative census lakes have almost doubled during the past three years," Mr. Swenson said.

Commissioner Wilson established the 1955 angling season by the same order, but the synopsis of the regulations cannot be printed until the end of the next session of the State Legislature unless laws are changed. The daily and possession limits remain the same as at present. The following are the opening dates established by the order:

Large and smallmouth black bass—June 18 to November 30; trout (except lake trout) — April 30 to September 15; suckers in trout streams — April 30 to September 15; lake trout (land-locked salmon) — April 30 to September 25 and January 1 to February 15; walleye and saugers (sand pike) — May 14 to February 15; northern pike or pickerel —May 14 to October 26 and December 1 to February 15; muskellunge — May 14 to February 15; rock bass and white bass — May 14 to February 15; crappies and sunfish — Continuous; catfish — May 14 to February 15; bullheads—Continuous.

Carp, dogfish, redhorse, sheepshead, suckers (except in trout streams), eelpout, garfish, perch, whitefish, goldeyes, tullibees, and buffalofish — Continuous.

Plummer Mail Man 38 Years Retires

Friends Give Party for Mr. and Mrs. W. Lonergan

That's the equivalent mileage racked up by Walter T. Lonergan of Plummer who retired as rural mail carrier October 30, after almost 38 years in the postal service, says the Red Lake Falls Gazette.

Lonergan started work as a rural mail carrier at Plummer in 1916 on route 1 and later transferred to route 2 when it was established. During his years of service, he served under four postmasters, and traveled approximately 360,000 miles. He estimates he had at least 20 cars.

Lonergan was honored at a retirement party given by his patrons and friends at the Plummer auditorium November 4. A large crowd attended the event at which Miss Bernice Orr reviewed his experiences as mail carrier and also read a poem in tribute to him.

Other speakers were Edwin Jacobson, Plummer mail carrier who has worked with Lonergan for the last 30 years. Kenneth Haaven, Plummer postmaster, also spoke briefly.

Butter Surplus in U. S. Cut in October

Federal Government Now Holds 391 Million Pounds

For the second straight month, the agriculture department in October was able to sell more butter than it bought under price support programs.

The department sold 1,358,937 pounds of butter into domestic commercial channels, as well as disposing of more than 18 million additional pounds through cut-rate sales, school lunch and welfare programs.

Only one butter purchase was made by the department in the month—on the last working day of October, when 106,703 pounds were bought. This was the first purchase since Sept. 17.

Cheese buying totaled 4,010,411 pounds. The department was able to get rid of just over 19 million pounds, and 2,520,000 pounds of this was sold into commercial channels.

Purchases by the department of all three dairy surplus items were below the level of October 1953, when 963,000 pounds of butter, 7,287,000 pounds of cheese and 20,412,000 pounds if nonfat dried milk had to be purchased.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Veterans with personal problems or questions should consult Leo L. Haley, Contact Representative, Room 210-211 Post Office Building or Box 875, Grand Forks, N. Dak.

Q—I understand that if a Korea veteran's training entitlement runs out when he is half-way through his semester at school, he will be allowed to finish that semester under the Korean GI Bill. I am taking on-the-job training under the Korean GI Bill. What if my entitlement expires before I'm finished? Will I be permitted to complete my training?

A—No. Under the law, entitlement may be extended only in the case of veterans attending school. It may not be extended for veterans training on-the-job; for them, GI training ends when entitlement ends.

Q—I have a permanent National Service Life Insurance policy which lapsed two months ago. I want to reinstate it. I know I will have to pay back premiums, but will I also have to pay interest on the premiums?

A—No. You will not be required to pay interest on premiums in arrears so long as you reinstate your policy in the second or third month of lapse.

The new Series 60 Special, representing the standard 1955 models, features a new Florentine-curved roof line, a new slender center post, and a great new 250-h.p. engine.

CADILLAC for 1955
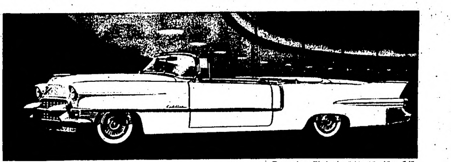
Presents the Most Beautiful and Finest Performing Motor Cars in Its History!



The spectacular new Eldorado, a dramatic interpretation of the new Cadillac styling, offers many unique features, including a new 270-h.p. Cadillac engine.

For it introduces to the world's motorists the most magnificent creations in Cadillac's fifty-three years of motor car production.

Three new Cadillac series are offered for your consideration in 1955—the famous Series Sixty Special, the beautiful Series Sixty-Two, and the distinguished Series Seventy-Five . . . in addition to the spectacular new Eldorado.

They are, as you can readily see, magnificent in beauty—with a new, jewel-like grille and front-end assembly . . . with dramatic and graceful new sculptured side styling . . . and with added dignity and bearing in every detail.

They are magnificent, too, in performance. There is a new Cadillac engine, the most powerful ever offered in a production motor car . . . an improved Hydra-Matic Drive . . . advanced Cadillac Power Steering . . . and, as an option at extra cost, refined Cadillac Power Braking.

And they are magnificent in luxury . . . to a degree unusual even for Cadillac. Their interiors are almost unbelievably beautiful . . . and they are offered in a remarkably wide selection of gorgeous new fabrics and leathers.

Beyond any question, these new Cadillac creations represent a new Standard of the World—and we urge you to see and inspect them tomorrow in our showroom.

You will be most welcome—and we know you will find your visit one of the most interesting experiences of your motoring life!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Father and Son—and the Bible? The three of us make a team that the two of us could never match.
It's always been that way—as long as man has possessed holy treasures of truth to which he could turn for guidance.
A father can make a better man of his son by companionship and example. A son can make a better man of his father by the natural inspiration that comes with parental devotion. And the Bible can make better men of both, by molding their lives to the pattern God Himself provided.
For 138 years the American Bible Society has been translating, publishing, and distributing copies of Scripture in more than 60 countries, in 165 languages. Sightless people alone have these precious words in 38 systems and languages. Give the Society the support it deserves!
And give the Bible the place in your family's life that It deserves!

Oldsmobile's Smart "88"

Harmonious styling exemplified in a brand new front end features the 1955 Oldsmobile "88" two-door sedan. This economy-priced Oldsmobile is easily identified through the new Oldsmobile world emblem on the hood, the new recessed headlights and the name in chrome block letters spaced across the upper bumper bar. The "88" identification is on the front fenders just behind the headlights. New treatment of the side moulding has been achieved through a gently sloping curve on the rear fender panel and a horizontal moulding that runs almost the length of the car. The panoramic windshield combines safe wide angle vision with smart styling. Riding qualities are enhanced with a new type of front suspension.

We bring you
New thriller in Style-Power-Performance

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

A BRIGHT NEW FRESHNESS greets your eyes and tells you: Buick's done it again.

You see it in the bold distinction of that gleaming Wide-Screen Grille. You see it in the rakish sweep of the rear-end contours. You see it in the whole fore-and-aft newness of fleet-lined grace that marks Buick the beauty thrill of 1955.

New horsepower—up to 236

You learn more when you get the power story. Up to new peaks go the horsepowers of every Buick V8 engine—a walloping 188 hp in the low-price SPECIAL—a mighty 236 hp in the CENTURY, SUPER and ROADMASTER.

But even bigger Buick news for 1955 is something more than style and power. *It's what the "variable pitch propeller" now has done for Dynaflow Drive.

Up goes performance—and gas mileage too

When you find it necessary to push the pedal to the floor board, you do more than call on the greatest high-compression V8 power in Buick history.

You do what a pilot does when he heads his plane down a runway.

In this case, the propeller blades are inside the Dynaflow unit. But they're engineered to swivel or change their "pitch" just like plane propellers—and with the same result: one pitch for getaway, another pitch for gas-saving fuel efficiency.

This you have to try

Of course, we want you to come and see the trend-setting new Buicks—look into the betterments in gasoline mileage that add new thrift to these spectacular cars.

But this year, "seeing" is only the beginning. So—while you join the crowds viewing the new Buicks this week end, make a date to get behind the wheel as soon as you possibly can. We promise you the thrill of the year.

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

LOGS AND RIVERS

One of Minnesota's most spectacular forms of transportation is unknown to this newer day. This was the transportation of logs on the rivers of the state. This activity reached vast proportions, beyond the comprehension even of those most familiar with it.

Minnesota had vast forests of great pine. They covered nearly a third of the state exceeding an area of 15 million acres.

Providentially, the great pine forests were drained by great rivers which could bring logs to places where they might be efficiently converted into lumber to build communities and big red barns.

In this great process of transportation not only were the large rivers used, but smaller streams reached into the forests for their burden. Brooks, enlarged by spring rains, disgorged vast amounts of timber. The lakes floated out the pine cut on their shores.

The first river to become a great artery of transportation was the St. Croix. Most of its floating logs were cut in Wisconsin. The greatest of all was the Mississippi. Three-fourths of Minnesota's pine was found on this river and its tributary lakes and streams. The first logs floated southward on the Father of Waters were sawed at Minneapolis in 1848. The last great drive downstream was in 1919. The St. Louis took vasts amounts of timber to Cloquet and to Lake Superior. Some logs made their way westward towards the Red River of the North. The latest great activity in woods and waters was on the north flowing waters. Minnesota's last great log drive was on the Littlefork in 1938.

LITTLE FOR THE LAND

An Indian Claims Commission is now at work seeking to settle matters with the Chippewas of Minnesota who claim that the Great White Father cheated them of their lands and timber. Already one case has been heard and many years of investigation and hearings lie ahead.

Certainly, Uncle Sam drove some hard bargains. Take, for example, the treaty with the Pillagers of a hundred years ago. This gave to the federal government vast, rich areas in central and western Minnesota.

For this land the Pillagers received 400 blankets of varying thickness and 340 yards of gray list-cloth. They also received 450 yards of scarlet cloth and 1800 yards of assorted colored prints. The Chippewas needed fish so they received 150 pounds of gilling-twine, 75 pounds of turtle-twine and 50 bunches of sturgeon twine. The squaws were given needles and thread. Not only that, but as a concession to beauty among the females of the tribe, payment for land was made with 150 metal looking glasses and ten pounds of vermilion. This item was doubtless shared with the chiefs and braves on various ceremonial occasions. There were 30 nests of fourteen each of heavy tin kettles. Then came some other practical and appealing considerations such as 500 pounds of tobacco and five barrels of salt.

When the treaty had been signed the first payment made Uncle Sam offered to give two hundred warranted beaver traps and 75 Northwest guns.

THE FIRST CLOTH

The early missionaries to Minnesota were very practical, down-to-earth people. They had to be. They knew that the Indians would be slow to grasp the religious principles they would advance. They saw distress and poverty and many of them devoted most of their time to the problem of better food from the few garden plots that the women of the tribes cultivated, to better homes for the Indians and their children and to higher standards of life and morals.

Until the traders came the Indians had no cloth of cotton or wool. They used the skins of wild animals for housing and clothing. The Lac qui Parle mission in western Minnesota was one of the most active outposts of civilization. A. G. Huggins was the missionary in charge and his wife assisted him. Mrs. Huggins was very skillful with the spinning wheel and in 1883 she began to make yarn and knit garments.

In 1839 some pioneer weaving was done under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Huggins. Two Dakotah women and two young girls made enough linsey-woolsey for a short dress for each of the Indian workers. This was probably ten or twelve yards. Stephen Riggs, an outstanding historian of early missionary efforts, declared this to be the first cloth made in Minnesota.

OUR LAND

Prepared by the Minnesota Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with University Farm, St. Paul

About Birdsfoot Trefoil

University of Minnesota agronomists tested seven birdsfoot trefoils at Rosemount and St. Paul last winter. Empire and Viking came through very well but French, Italian, Granger, Cascade and Oregon Narrowleaf winterkilled from 53 to 98 pe rcent. Remembering that birsfoot must last in a pasture to pay off, only Empire can fill the bill right now and it is high priced. There is little Viking seed available. University agronomists A. R. Schmid and H. L. Thomas suggest you try birdsfoot first on a small plot, using Empire along with brome grass and timothy, inoculating the seed and using the best seeding method.

* * *

Cost-Price Squeeze

Good timber crops on usually unprofitable land can help ease the cast-price squeeze and do a conservation job at the same time. Parker Anderson, University Extension Forester, points out that over the years timber crop pirces have fluctuated far less than other farm crops. Demand for good quality timber is high. Minnesota now has four assistant county agents in forestry—in Grand Rapids, Hinckley, Virginia and Bemidji—and they are trained to help you find better ways of growing and marketing trees. Call on them—their help is free. All four are graduate foresters of the University of Minnesota.

Here's A Soil Saver

Farmers up in far-northern Kittson County have some of the roughest wind-erosion problems in Minnesota, according to SCS Technician Clarence Treumer. Heavy Fargo soils in the west and light soils in the east "fly" easily. Large ditches have been completely closed with "blow dirt" in one season. But a few farmers found a good erosion preventer — plugging every other spout on the grain drill and seeding a quarter bushel of barley per acre over the entire summer-fallowed field. It's easy and costs little. One farmer says "not a teaspoon of soil flew away" on land he treated. His field and outlet ditches remained open so he could start spring work earlier. The idea is also good on fields other than summer-fallowed. Where fields are plowed and no stubble mulch left, erosion is serious and can be controlled by seeding down.

* * *

Takes More Power

It takes more grunting and horsepower to get a load started than to pull it after it begins moving. The nation's conservation train is now "on the road." Let's keep it rolling and picking up speed.

"THE SHAPE OF THINGS TO COME"

Much has been written and spoken about, much speculation centers around, traffic, cities, shopping facilities of the future. Quite a startling and scientific preview is offered by the Southdale Project now under way in Edina, southwestern suburb of Minneapolis. This development is billed not as "a mere collection of stores and shops" but as "a social, cultural, and civic center. An 800,000-square-foot building flanked by 7,000-car paved lots, will cost $10,000,000 and accomodate some 75 retail and service establishments. Futuristic-looking truck tunnels will keep these vehicles out of the way. Covered colonnaded walks will lend a foreign atmosphere. Air-conditioned garden mall will lend glamor and atmosphere. Opening: Autumn 1956.

$130,000 Proposed Finance Improved as New School Facilities

At a special election to be held at the school Monday afternoon voters of the Goodridge School district will decide whether or not bonds in the amount of $130,000 shall be issued for the purpose of providing additional classroom facilities and other improvements. The polls will be open from 1:00 to 5:00 o'clock.

Plans under consideration call for a wing extending north from the present building that will provide six additional classrooms and these would be used for the elementary grades. Another wing extending to the south would be used for shop courses. The plans also provide for other improvements to the old building including a new entrance from the present gymnasium and the main structure.

The six new classrooms will be fire resistant, with brick facing backed by light weight, insulating concrete block. One entire wall of each classroom would be glass, with a vision strip under light-directing glass block. Each room will have toilet facilities. This wing for the elementary grades is designed so that it will be entirely apart from the portion of the school used for high school classes.

In a letter to the residents of the district, Superintendent David Brown explained what is proposed in this expansion program, pointing out that only those things that are urgently needed are being provided for. He also analyzed the costs and the probable effect on taxes within the district.

Judge Sylvestre Calls Jury; Court to Start Monday

Marilyn Olsen Civil Suit Will Be Heard Starting Monday of Following Week

At the opening session of the November term of court here Monday Judge J. H. Sylvestre of Crookston set the order of cases to be tried and ordered the jury to be summoned to meet on Monday, November 29. Seven civil cases scheduled for jury trial have been set for hearing next week.

On the following Monday, December 6, the civil action for damages for personal injury brought in behalf of Marilyn Olsen vs. John Rakowski, et al, will be started. Following this will be heard the suit of Kenneth Russell vs. John E. Langseth and the Northwest Beverage Co., and the Western Fire Insurance Company vs. Stewart Efteland.

Cases set for trial next Monday, to be called in the following order, are John T. Knutson vs. the Tunberg Motor Co., Alvin Bakken vs. Lloyd Mostrom, R. G. Rowell vs. Ed Donarski, two suits involving damages for state highway right-of-way, and Lars Hylden vs. Melvin Jopppru. There is a possibility that several of these may be settled out of court before the session opens.

Seniors To Present Class Play Dec. 7-8

A Broadway hit from the Imperial Court Theatre of ancient China will be presented by the Lincoln high school senior class December 7 and 8. "The Lute Song," a three-act play written by Kao-Tong-Kao more than five centuries ago and produced originally in 1404, has been popular in its broadway version with Mary Martin and Yul Brynner in starring roles.

The play is set in the convention of the ancient Chinese Theatre. It is the story of a young scholar, George Gifford, who leaves his parents, Lyle Haagenson and Marilyn McCrum, and his devoted wife, Karen Chommie, to gain wealth and fame for himself. He succeeds and is made chief magistrate of the Middle Kingdom. Meanwhile his family suffers greatly through a famine while his wife tries to protect the aged parents. The story is woven into an intense plot and moving scenes. There also is humor and many witty observations.

Special music is being written exclusively for this production by Gerald Samuel of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra. With a strong supporting cast The Lute Song is expected to provide an evening of delightful entertainment. Tickets are now available at the High School.

Detroit Lakes Acts To Use Missouri Power

At a special meeting last week the city council of the city of Detroit Lakes awarded a contract to the General Electric Company to build a power sub-station to be used to provide the city with standby electric power and to be used later as a pickup point for power from the Garrison dam in North Dakota. The bid price for this station was $33,068. A connecting high voltage power line to the sub-station will be built by the city at an estimated cost of $10,630.

C. E. Hellquist, chairman of a Thief River Falls committee named by the council to study the development possibilities for the local light and power operation, states that his committee will visit Detroit Lakes and get what information is available for comparative purposes as a guide to recommendations that will be submitted to the council at an early date.

County Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr mailed out checks totaling $216,002.51 Monday to school districts and other local government units, as the November settlement of taxes collected and also some state funds that had been received for distribution. Schools received the big portion of the funds, their total being $171,716.45.

Of this amount paid to local school districts, $107,239.20 represented collections of district tax levies, the balance of $64,477.25 being state aid funds and county tuition. Thief River Falls schools received $101,882.76; Goodridge $17,865.53, and St. Hilaire $8,681.09. The balance was distributed among 53 rural districts, the payments to some of these districts being withheld Mr. Rodekuhr explained, because school treasurer's bonds had not been filed.

The city of Thief River Falls, the two villages and 21 townships shared in the distribution of the $44,286.06 which represented tax receipts and special assessments and also the townships' share of the state liquor tax. New Hospital Addition to be Opened for Public Inspection Sunday Afternoon at 1:30

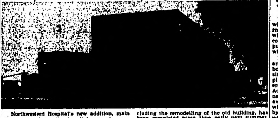
Open House at New Hospital Addition Sunday



Northwestern Hospital's new addition, main part of the million-dollar hospital expansion program in this community, will be open for public inspection Sunday afternoon from 1:30 to 5:00 o'clock. There will be no program, the formal dedication to be held when the entire project, including the remodelling of the old building, has been completed some time early next summer.

The transfer of patients into the new addition will proceed next week and the remodelling of the old unit will get under way at once. Coffee and cookies will be served Sunday afternoon by members of the Hospital Auxiliary.

Will be Open from 1:30 to 5 P. M.; Patients to be Transferred Next Week

The "Visitors Welcome" sign will be hung out at Northwestern Hospital Sunday afternoon when the new addition, now completed, will be opened for public inspection. Visiting hours will be from 1:30 to 5:00 o'clock.

In an effort to avoid confusion and permit the inspection to be both thorough and orderly, visitors will be asked to follow a planned course, Harold W. Peterson, hospital manager, states. Admission will be through the new front entrance on LaBree ave. From the lobby visitors will be moved to the third floor by elevator, from where they will descend by stairs. They will leave through the rear basement entrance following inspection of the laundry and kitchen. Coffee and cookies will be served by the members of the Hospital Auxiliary.

Mr. Peterson stresses the point that this public inspection will make it possible for visitors to see all of the new building and much of the new equipment that probably will not be displayed after the building is occupied by patients. There will be no program, the formal dedication being planned for a time when the entire project, including the remodeling of the old structure, has been completed, probably early next summer.

Following this public inspection the new addition will be occupied as quickly as patients can be transferred from the original structure. Equipment will then be moved into the new section or stored temporarily, and work will get under way immediately with the remodelling program. It is expected that the third floor will be completed first and made available for occupancy as soon as possible in order to relieve congestion.

The new and enlarged Northwestern Hospital, a million dollar expansion program made possible through a 45% grant of Hill-Burton funds authorized by state and federal authorities, and a $200,000 donation by the City of Thief River Falls, authorized by the voters at a special election. The remainder of $300,000 is being raised by popular subcription. Northwestern Hospital, when completed, will be one of the most modern and best equipped hospitals in the Northwest.

Valtinson-Ose Vows Exchanged In Zion Church

Zion Lutheran church was the scene of a beautiful wedding ceremony, Tuesday evening, November 16, when Joseph O. Valtinson, Jr., of DeKalb, Illinois, took as his bride, Miss Betty Faythe Ose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tarkel Ose of this city. Rev. Joseph O. Valtinson Sr. of DeKalb, Illinois, father of the groom, performed the double ring ceremony in a setting of lighted candelabra and baskets of large yellow and white mums.

A prelude of organ music was played before the ceremony by Miss Caryl Jean Gerber of Sheldon, Wisconsin, classmate of the bride. Roger Ose of Minneapolis, brother of the bride, sang "Because" before the bridal party entered the church and "O Perfect Love" as the couple knelt at the altar. The bride's gown was white with a chantilly lace over satin bodice and long sleeves of chantilly over tulle coming to a point over her wrist. The skirt with an accordian pleated inset in front ended in a chapel length train of tulle over satin. Her finger tip veil of illusion net fell from a halo of pearls arranged in blossoms. Her jewelry, a seed pearl choker and a gold wrist watch were gifts from the groom. She carried a large arm bouquet of white roses and white feathered carnations.

A reception following the ceremony was given in the church parlors by the bride's parents to 400 guests. A white three tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom before three large wedding bells, was cut by Tillie Ose of this city and the punch was poured by Evelyn Peterson of Bertrand, Nebraska, aunts of the bride. Mrs. Charles Dyrud, another aunt, poured coffee. The waitresses were Grace Kristianson, Lois Viefguth, Lorraine Bjornrud, Erlise Simonson and Eleanor Ose. Leola Dyrud, cousin of the bride, registered the guests. Mrs. Oscar Nyflot and Mrs. James Johnson, cousins of the bride, were in charge of the gift table.

The bridal party were seated at small tables with a candle and several yellow mums as each centerpiece. The music at the reception was "Bless This House" sung by Mrs. Robert Muhlenbeck of Park Rapids, the groom's sister. She was accompanied by Miss Caryl Jean Gerber at the piano. Short devotional speeches were given by the parents of the bridal couple, Caryl Gerber, roommate of the bride in nurses training, the groom's college roommate and other close friends of both families, including the bride's pastor, Rev. Jonas Helland of this city. Roger Ose was master of ceremonies.

A farewell coffee party was held at the Oakland Park Sanatorium Tuesday to climax all the many coffee parties held there throughout the years.

The guests were Mrs. Gertrude Sundberg, who was discharged Tuesday afternoon, and will reside at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Winters; Mrs. Martha Hagman, Mrs. Curtis Thompson, Mrs. Zarling, Leslie Erickson, Lavern "Mortimer" Mortenson, Mr. Bert Grahn, Edward Senum, Mr. G. Torkelson, Mr. Carl Bloom, George Bon, Mr. M. Ruud, Mr. F. Peters, Mr. Ole Hjelle, Mr. Oscar Danielson; and Alvin Rustad, Ellen Carlson and Agda Sahlberg.

Everyone enjoyed the "coffee" social and expressions of thankfulness and appreciations and sentiments were voiced by all.

It is needless to state that everyone here, shall miss "Our dear old San" and the staff remaining behind. But we shall remember the place and it's people—and the ones who will come in our place, in our prayers!

God prosper you and us, in our spiritual and physical well-being.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

This week I assumed, on a temporary basis, some major responsibilities with the new administration of Governor-elect Orville L. Freeman.

At Mr. Freeman's request, Governor C. Elmer Anderson has appointed me interim commissioner of the Department of Administration to succeed Mr. Earl L. Berg, who, in a co-operative arrangement with Governor Anderson, offered his resignation in order to permit the incoming Governor to name a person of his own choice for this central administrative position.

Ordinarily the personnel of the new administration does not take over until the inauguration of the Governor, but an incoming Governor has the responsibility of preparing and presenting a budget and tax program to the new legislature and for this task the services of the Department of Administration are indispensable.

Budget Is First Task

As everyone recognizes, the incoming administration faces enormous problems. Within the short period of six weeks, the Governor-elect must prepare his inaugural message and legislative program, of which his proposed budget for the biennium is the central figure.

This means that the new Governor must quickly inform himself concerning the full sweep of state governmental affairs—education, highways, conservation, mental health, public institutions, taxes, agriculture—and evolve a comprehensive program for submission to the legislature.

Thus, the first task is the budget, but along with it is a second and even more difficult problem, the development of a revenue program that indicates how the financial needs of the state can be met.

Seeks Realistic Program

In his statements since election Governor-elect Freeman has stressed his intention of seeking a realistic and sound program, one that keeps the budget in balance while providing for essential services and, at the same time, avoiding tax policies that will discourage the expansion of industry.

This objective will require much painstaking study and the co-operation of all department heads and the incoming legislature. The Governor-elect has indicated that he plans to go all-out in achieving such co-operation.

One reassuring feature of the present situation is the prevailing spirit of goodwill. Governor Anderson and his retiring Commissioner of Administration, Mr. Berg, are co-operating to provide a smooth transition for the new administration, and leaders of both the conservative and liberal legislative caucuses have stated their desire to work with the Governor-elect in finding acceptable solutions for the existing problems.

A Central Agency

In assuming my temporary duties with the Department of Administration I am aware of the enormous responsibilities the new administration faces. This agency plays a central role in the state governmental machinery, having been created for the purpose of centralizing many "housekeeping" functions.

The Department of Administration was established by the Minnesota Reorganization Act of 1939, one of the major achievements of the first administration of former Governor Harold E. Stassen. It replaced the old "Big Three," which was officially known as the Commission of Administration and Finance.

In addition to helping in the preparation of the biennial budget, the department also purchases supplies, materials, and equipment for all state operations, has custody of all state property, supervises state expenditures through quarterly allotments of funds, and handles state printing and advertising.

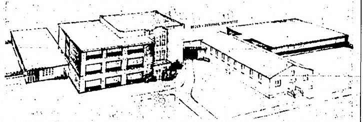
Guests to Write Column

My work with the new state administration necessitates a leave of absence from my teaching position at the University of Minnesota and also a temporary withdrawal from writing this weekly column.

However, the column itself will go on. Following a practice now well-established, we will have, week to week, guest columnists. They will be persons having special knowledge concerning various phases of Minnesota government and politics, and will include—we hope—administrative, legislative, educational, and political leaders representing various diverse views.

Kathryn Vorachek, home ec. teacher at Ely, Minn., will arrive tonight (Wednesday) to spend the Thanksgiving holidays at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vorachek.

Architect's Sketch of Proposed Addition to Goodridge School



This sketch of proposed additions to the Goodridge school system, prepared by Wells & Denbrook, architects, of Grand Forks, presents a view of what may ultimately become a reality in the development of the system. If the bond issue to be voted on in the special election to be held Monday is approved the board will proceed immediately with the construction of the wing to the north, which will provide six classrooms for the elementary grades, and the wing to the south which will provide for shop facilities. The two story addition to the main building, shown in the sketch, will not be a part of the building program that is proposed at this time. Included in the plans, along with some remodelling of the present structures, is a new entrance from the present gymnasium to the main building. The bond issue to be voted on would make $130,000 available for immediate development.

FARMERS and the new Social Security program starting Jan. 1

Farmers have long needed protection for themselves and their families against income loss which results from old-age or death. Beginning with 1955, they will have the opportunity to gain the same type of protection that self-employed person in cities and towns enjoy under Social Security. The value of this protection would be difficult to overstate. The survivor protection alone will be a boon to many farm families.

For example: assuming that the farm operator regularly reports $3600 a year in net earnings under Social Security, the value of the insurance protection that he would have for a surviving widow and two minor children could be as much as $35,000. Of course, smaller earnings would lessen the amount of the insurance protection. Farm Circular No. 6, sent upon request by the Social Security District Office, Grand Forks, will give information about how to figure benefits in other earning brackets.

A nation-wide study of State Old-Age Assistance rolls showed a higher percentage of farmers than of any other non-covered occupational group. About 80 per cent of the old-age beneficiaries at that time who had been self-employed farmers had at least one-half or more of their total work after 1936 devoted to farm operation. If farm operators had been covered under the old law for that length of time, 93 per cent of these aged workers would have earned Old-Age and Survivors Insurance protection for themselves and their dependent families.

Although the farm operator and the farm worker whom he hires will not begin to earn Social Security credits under the new law until January 1, 1955, it is not too early for the operator to learn about his rights and obligations. He may have some questions to ask of the Grand Forks District Office, or of the Field Representative who visit the larger towns in this area once or twice a month. The bureau of Internal Revenue local offices are authoritive sources for answers about taxes and report forms.

Old-Age and Survivors Insurance, better known perhaps as Social Security, is a program whereby a working person, regardless of age, may earn part of his future financial protection. Employment or self-employment under the program for a certain length of time with sufficient earnings will provide the worker with monthly income in his old-age. His wage record will in many cases also provide an income to his minor children and his wife at the same time. In case of his death, certain of his survivors may be furnished with monthly payments.

The program is financed by tax contributions of those whose work is covered, and, in the case of the employed worker, a matching contribution is made by the employer. The taxes paid to the Bureau of Internal Revenue are put into a Trust Fund where, with accumulated interest, they are used for payments to persons who are eligible under the law. The contribution rates are fixed so as to make the system self-supporting.

The next article will explain the tax schedule and methods of reporting.

Winter Dairy Feed Important

With winter winds whistling around the buildings, it's time to think about nutritious rations for the cows.

First big item to consider, he says, is: "how good is your roughage?" Other parts of the ration will depend on the kind and quality of the roughage. Many folks overrate their roughage and end up feeding less than cows must have to keep up health and produce profitable amounts of milk of butterfat.

With legume hay and legume silage only home grown grain need be fed as concentrate. With good legume hay and corn silage, home grown grain will give enough nutrients for average production. But, higher-producing cows should get a daily bonus of an extra pound of high protein concentrate.

For mixed hay and corn silage the grain mixture should be: five parts of grain to one of high protein concentrate. With a ration of grass hays, corn silage and fodder, the grain mixture can be three to one. The high protein concentrate may be linseed meal, soybean meal or a commercial high protein concentrate. Here, you have to choose the one that gives you the lowest-cost protein.

According to Ralph Wayne, Extension dairy specialist at the University of Minnesota, the quickest way to find out if your ration is short of protein is to feed a pound or two of such high protein feed as linseed meal to a couple of cows fresh a month of two. If they give more milk in the following few days, then your ordinary ration may be a little low in protein.

If they don't show any increase, then your ration probably contains enough protein.

New Vernal Alfalfa

I have been asked many questions about the new Vernal alfalfa, released recently by the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment Station.

Here are the facts about Vernal: It is a synthetic variety—that is, a combination of several carefully selected "alfalfa "clones," or families. Because of a shortage of seed it has not been tested widely in Minnesota, but its forage yields were measured at five locations in the state this summer.

According to L. J. Elling, assistant professor of agronomy at the University of Minnesota, Vernal is more wilt-resistant than Ranger or Ladak. But it has no resistance against the leaf-spot diseases common in Minnesota this year. Wisconsin agronomists report Vernal is winter-hardy under their conditions.

Its performance in Minnesota forage yield trials was good this year and it appears a promising variety. But, the University's Agricultural Experiment Station cannot recommend or reject the new variety until it has undergone two or more years of field and laboratory testing under Minnesota conditions.

Seed of Vernal has been increased rapidly through the efforts of Wisconsin's and Utah's Agricultural Experiment Stations, the National Foundation Seed Project and western states seed growers.

Elling says that probably Minnesota farmers will be offered seed for 1955 seeding—just how much seed will be available is unknown, however.

He says that there will be no uncertified seed available and warns farmers against buying Vernal salesmen describe as "uncertified." Official seed distributors say that only certified Vernal will be offered for sale.

WOULD ORGANIZE RESERVE UNIT AT GOODRIDGE

At a meeting held at Goodridge Friday evening, several former service men expressed an interest in organizing a local army reserve unit. Superintendent of Schools David Brown was instructed to take the applications of any who are interested in joining such a unit.

Getting an early start is just as important in life as it is in racing.

Low Temperature for Golden Brown Tender Turkey

Whether you're roasting a large or small turkey for Thanksgiving, an oven temperature of 300-325 degrees F. is both practical and convenient.

Homemakers who use the low temperature will not need to worry about adjusting heat to the size of the bird, as cooks used to do. However, roasting time does vary with the weight of the turkey, she points out. The table below is prepared as a guide to follow.

Ina Rowe, extension nutritionist at the University of Minnesota, advises allowing enough time for roasting the turkey so it will be done 20 to 30 minutes before serving. This waiting period between oven and table helps make the meat more juicy and the carving easy and allows time to make the gravy. Be sure to keep the birds hot.

Roast the turkey on a rack in a shallow pan. Don't add water or cover the pan. A thin cloth dipped in melted fat and placed over the bird will protect it from getting too brown and dry. If the skin dries out, baste the bird with pan drippings or melted fat several times during roasting.

Heavy birds (18 lbs. or over) usually cook more evenly if they are started breast down and turned when half done. Miss Rowe suggests grasping the bird with the hands which are protected with several layers of paper towels and then turning it. Avoid using forks to turn the turkey as they will puncture the skin and release juices. If turning the turkey is too difficult, roast it with the breast up. Small birds roast well without turning.

The bird is done, Miss Rowe says, when the leg joint moves easily and the flesh on the legs is soft and pliable when pressed with the fingers.

Because the trend is toward buying ready-to-cook birds, this is the weight given in the paragraph below with the weight of the giblets and neck included. The roasting time given is for chilled birds, no warmer than 50 degrees F., as when just out of the refrigerator or just thawed.

Roasting Guide:

Roasters (fully grown, young birds)—Ready-to-cook weight 6 to 12 lbs. Approximate total time for stuffed bird 3½ to 5 hrs. 12 to 16 lbs., 5 to 6 hrs.; 16 to 20 lbs., 6 to 7½ hrs.; 20 to 24 lbs., 7½ to 9 hrs.

One of the booths at the carnival will be the "County Store". The boys and girls from our room have been very good in bringing articles for this booth.

Grades 2-3

Lester, Luella, Kay, Robert C., Eugene, Betty, Marlys, Daniel, Mary Ann B., Loretta, Ruth received "100" in spelling on Wednesday. The second grade has completed the reader "Down Our Way". We are looking forward to the carnival. Our room is giving two numbers for the program.

Those having "100" were Larry, Adele, Kay, Clyde, Karren, Rodney, Carol, Donny, Richard T., Joann, Marshall, Corienne, Diane, Wallace H., Marilyn, Cheryl, Betty, Eugene B., and Merrill. We are planning a book club in our room. We will elect officers on Friday. Those on the planning committee were Betty, Carol, Richard T., Donny, Eugene B.

We enjoyed visits from several mothers and other friends during American Education week. Shirley Berggren has been absent a few days. She is having her eyes examined and maybe wearing glasses soon. These had "100" spelling this week: Fern Judy, Shirley W., Anna, Shirley C., Eileen John, Don., Joan, June, Ina Lou, Camilla and Judy R., Douglas Wikstrom is back in school after his absence. Hope to see you all at the carnival.

Freshmen News

Thursday is carnival day and we have $13.50 for Freshmen Queen candidate. The freshmen poster was made by Caroline Stennes and Kathryn Lundstrom. We are all hoping that Joanne Szczysanski, our candidate will be "crowned carnival queen."

Sophomore News

Last week the high school students saw slides which Verne Lefrooth had taken in Europe while he was serving his time overseas. The pictures were of beautiful mountains, the Mediteranean Sea, Paris and many other interesting pictures of France and Germany. They were certainly enjoyed by all.

Gerald Stromberg, a Marine and Gary Johnson who has been stationed at Corpus Christie, Texas are home on furlough. Gary who is an assistant fire chief has to report at San Diego, Calif. for overseas duty.

A large crowd attended the school carnival. One of the outstanding numbers on the program was a song about firemen by a group of young boys. Can't you just imagine how their eyes would pop to see a real fire engine and all going down a street?

Basketball Prowlers to Open Season Against Rams Tonight

Five seniors—Bill Frahm, Lee Kjos, Mark Bjorkman, George Gifford, and Louie Wedul—and seven juniors—Evan Jones, Dick Odegaard, Ronnie Severson, Dean Anderson, Eddie Fillatrault, Joe Swick, and Lee Bakke—will comprise the 1954-55 varsity basketball squad that will carry the hopes of the Prowlers and Coach Al Adams this season. The Prowlers, 31st district champions the past three years, and regional tournament runners-up in 1952 and 1954, will open their schedule tonight, Wednesday, Nov. 24th, when they meet Coach Ambrose Kramer's Roseau Rams on the Lincoln high school gymnasium court. On Tuesday night, Nov. 30th, the Prowlers will move into district conference competition when they meet the Red Lake Falls Eagles on the local floor.

Coach Adams, who will be making his debut as a Prowler basketball mentor, having moved here from Wahpeton where he had exceptional success, will be facing a major rebuilding process. According to Coach Adams, it is probable that the Prowlers will have Bill Frahm, Lee Kjos, George Gifford, and Evan Jones in the starting lineup against the Rams on Wednesday night. Practice sessions this week will determine the fifth Prowler starter.

In an opening game played here last year, the Prowlers under the direction of Coach Ralph Skjod, defeated Roseau, 40 to 33, with big Art Johnson scoring 23 of those points. Roseau will prove troublesome for the Prowlers on Wednesday night, for they will have Charles "Red" Benson centering the squad. It is probable that Coach Kramer's squad will have a height advantage for this season's Prowler squad isn't very impressive physically.

A preliminary game, between the Roseau 'B' team and the Prowler 'B' team, will begin at 6:45 p. m.; with the varsity game slated for 8:00 p. m.

Hot Weather Not so Hot for Deer Hunting Season

Unseasonably hot weather ushered in a snowless deer season Saturday that was not so hot for the hunters. The Saturday afternoon temperatures reached a high of 46 degrees according to Station KTRF. With the Minnesota football team taking a drubbing from unneighborly Wisconsin, it was a melancholy afternoon for the sportsmen. The lowest temperature recorded for the past week was a low of 25 Monday morning. The forecast does not indicate that the northern flight will start this week.

Hit-Run Youth gets Jail Sentence and Fine—3rd Offence

Joseph Hasby, 17 year-old Thief River Falls youth, pleaded guilty in Municipal court Monday to leaving the scene of an accident. He also was found guilty of driving without a license, his third violation for this offense. Judge H. O. Chommie fined him $50 and sentenced him to ten days in jail, suspending $40.00 of the fine and the jail sentence providing there be no further violations. A car driven by him crashed into Delman Cote's truck parked in front of his home Friday night.

Arnold Meyers of Odessa was to be brought into court Tuesday afternoon on a charge of driving under the influence of liquor. While driving north on Main ave. Thursday afternoon he failed to make the turn at the Model Laundry corner, his car crashing into a light pole. He was taken to Northwestern Hospital for treatment.

Lowell Ralston pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of driving after his license had been revoked. This was the third offense and he was fined $50 and costs or thirty days in jail. He still was in custody yesterday.

Oscar Cornellie of rural Thief River Falls was fined $5 for driving over the center line and Mrs. Grace Sheridan of Goodridge was fined $10 and costs for permitting her minor daughter to drive a car without a license. Upon payment of the costs the fine was suspended.

DEMONSTRATIONS OF STICK-TO-IT-IVENESS

Algot Eastlund still makes his daily rounds after 41 years as a rural mail carrier out of Cokato; two "team mates" are getting up toward the 40-year mark.—At Staples George Hankey releases the throttle after 47 years in N. P. engine cabs.—Roy Wisner at Montevideo adds four years to that record, retiring after 51 years with the Milwaukee. — Two Minnesota octogenarians proudly boast of voting in every election since 1896, when each started with President McKinley: Ole Linho of Sargeant, whose wife has matched his record of regularity since the ladies were granted suffrange; and John T. Towey, who started in Stewartville and is now carrying on in the city of Rochester.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Williams of Minneapolis, respectively 94 and 91, have been married 70 years and have "an army" of grand- and great-grandchildren; Mr. Williams has been retired only four years after a lifetime as a cobbler.

Stories, Stories, Stories

As of Sunday night, the Skomedal-Rupprecht deer hunting group, hunting in the vicinity of Winner, had six deer tagged, with Lloyd Hogenson, Gunsten and Helmer Skomedal, Red Bergland, Cliff Lunke, and Otto Rupprecht being the successful deer-slayers. There are about twenty hunters in the party, so they are quite a way from being "filled."

Hilmer Lunke, hunting with that party on Saturday, can't explain how he missed a big buck. The deer, with a spread of antlers that looked like the handles of a wheelbarrow, gave Hilmer plenty of opportunities, and Hilmer took those opportunities, shooting five shots at the "monster." Hilmer maintains that all of his shots were well-aimed, and they must have gone between the horns. Hilmer contends that the buck must have been a "low-brow," for if the animal had been a "high brow" three or four of those shots would have been right in the head.

And the boys in the party were having much fun with Republican Al Christofferon, who has been a member of that hunting group for many years. A day or two previous to the opening of the season, a couple of the boys had gone out in the woods, through the thickest and most rugged deer country, and posted a number of Coya Knutson for Congress posters. On Saturday, when the boys were making these "drives" through the swamps and thickets, they would maneuver Al so that he would come upon these posters. Everybody had fun.

Clarence Amlot came into town with a story about a hunter shooting a big doe that carried a bill-fold in her mouth. To give further credence to his story, Clarence stated that the bill-fold contained nineteen dollars—a ten, a five, and four ones.

We had heard rumors that a deer had crept up on L. W. Perkins and nipped his bill-fold out of his hip pocket as he stood on post on Saturday morning, but we checked with Perk yesterday and learned that he still had his wallet. For the record, though, Perkins should have lost most of his shirt-tail, for he said that he had a string of seven deer trotting in front of him on Saturday morning. He fired seven shots at the deer, and missed.

And we hear, from a reliable source, that Robert "Bullet Bob" Mattson had open shots at three deer on Saturday morning. Bob, perched in a good-sized popple, had three does come out on him, at about seventy-five yards, and he unloaded his 16 guage pump at the animals. He surely filled the air with slugs, and it's funny that he missed, for he maintains that he wasn't a bit nervous. That's a reminder, we better ask Bob if he still has his wallet.

There are some big deer being brought into town, though. On Monday afternoon we saw a huge buck, that had been shot by Oscar Eklund of Roseau. Eklund was hunting in the Roseau bog in the vicinity of Caribou when he tagged the eight-pointer. And we hear that George Busse brought in a trophy-sized buck on Monday, having shot the deer while hunting east of the Mud Lake refuge. Incidentally, George is our nomination for the city's "toughest" and most persevering hunter.

As far as our deer hunting is concerned, we are fulfilling the mandates of the United Nations—we and the deer are living in "peaceful co-existence."

Plenty of Entertainment

Last Thursday night, at the high school gym, the Harlem Globetrotters and the Boston Whirlwinds head-lined a basketball exhibition; on Friday night, at the Armory and sponsored by the local National Guard Company, professional wrestling held away; and on Sunday night, at the Auditorium, Louis Armstrong and his troupe put on a show. All performances proved to be top-flight entertainment.

In their exhibition tilts against the Northern Minny All-Stars on Thursday night, and played before a near-capacity crowd, both the Trotters and the Whirlwinds scored top-heavy wins, as expected. In the 20-minute exhibition between the Trotters and the Boston squad, the Trotters recorded a 51 to 41 triumph, with the final minutes of the "game" finding the Trotters putting on their famed "clown" act. Bob Hall proved to be the most colorful of the Trotters, the nimble pivot amazing the crowd with his ball-handling, and with his actions being reminiscent of Goose Tatum, one of the Trotters all-time greats.

In spite of the fact that Clarence Bevo Francis scored 47 of the 56 points that the Boston Whirlwinds marked up against the All-Stars, his play wasn't too impressive. It was the consensus of the basketball "experts" in attendance, that Francis is primarily a scorer, and that he wouldn't be a success in Big Ten or "pro" ball. The night previous to his appearance here, Francis had been held to but 3 points.

A small crowd, about 200 fans, were in attendance at the Armory on Friday night for the professional wrestling matches. It was unfortunate that that date, Friday, Nov. 19th, had been set for the bringing back of wrestling to the city, for it happened that the opening of the 1954 deer hunting season opened on Saturday, Nov. 20th. It was evident that many wrestling enthusiasts, who would have attended the matches if they had been in town, had begun the trek into the north woods and their deer hunting camps.

While Sunday night's appearance of Louis Armstrong can't be classed as an athletic event, it certainly proved to be first-rate entertainment. Those six fellows, on a piano, drums, trombone, clarinet, trumpet, and bass, surely produced plenty of rhythmic noise.

State Medics Urge Safety Campaign for Middle-Age Drivers

Safety workers have emphasized the driving hazards involved in allowing careless young drivers behind the wheel of an automobile. But, they have tended to forget how prone to accidents a careful middle-aged driver past 40 may be, says a bulletin issued by the Minnesota State Medical association today.

Past-forty drivers have special problems and disabilities, according to the doctors. And these disabilities should be kept in mind even when driving records up to 40 have been perfect.

There were 15,000 fatal highway accidents involving motorists over 40 last year, the bulletin points out; a shocking toll which warrants a special safety campaign for middle-aged motorists.

Visual keeness, and the ability to estimate how far away another car is and how fast it is moving, declines about 10 per cent between the ages of 40 and 50, the bulletin says.

Sensitivity to glare, and night blindness, increase slightly, too, during those years. The increase is rapid after 50. In fact, changes in visual acuity may be so great in a period of two or three years that an accident is almost inevitable under usual conditions of driving. Yet the driver himself may be completely unaware of his increasing disability.

Other difficulties of middle age threaten driving safety, according to the doctors. Arthritis is one of them because motion of the hand or foot may be slowed down so much that safety is threatened. Heart conditions and epilepsy are also serious threats to safety of everybody on the road.

To test special purpose tubes used in aircraft electronic systems the manufacturer freezes them at 65 degrees below zero; cooks them in 200 degree heat; and gives them landing impact shocks every 10 seconds for 200 hours. The tubes have a life expectancy of 8,500 hours.

1954 Production of Walleyes Sets New High Mark

Favorable Conditions Contributing Factor Supervisor States

The year 1954 was the biggest in the history of Minnesota's walleye rearing pond program, according to Supervisor of the Bureau of Fisheries Hjalmar O. Swenson. Walleyed pike production in 1954, 13,917,713 fingerlings weighing 89,416 pounds, was double that of the previous high years of 1949 and 1951. The tremendous increase was due in part to improved operational techniques, with an unusually big assist from Mother Nature, Swenson indicated.

Trout production in Minnesota was also up in '54 with 18,788 more pounds of trout produced in Minnesota hatcheries this year than in 1953. Total production for 1954 was 2,082,835 fry, fingerlings and yearlings weighing 79,981 pounds; compared with 3,796,590 weighing 61,193 pounds in 1953. Here again, Swenson said, improved operational techniques were partly responsible, plus further progress in diets and disease control.

In addition to the walleyed pike produced in state-drainable ponds, state-operated natural ponds and cooperative ponds, a total of 833,760 walleyed pike fingerlings weighing 301 pounds were received from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Trout fingerlings and yearlings received from the Federal agency numbered 361,602 weighing 3,400 pounds.

Express Rates on Printed Matter Will Be Reduced

Reduced express rates on shipments of many types of advertising and printed matter will be put into effect by Railway Express Agency, Inc. on November 27th, it has been announced by A. W. Dahl, Thief River Falls, agent of the company.

The substantial third class rate reductions—as high as 40 percent or more depending on weight and distance—are based on new pound rates and cover nine express scale, or distance, groupings. The old rate was 1 1/5 cents per ounce regardless of distance. Under both the old and new rates, minimum charges are $1.80 with charges not to exceed first-class express rates.

Among the principal articles to which the new rates apply are: advertising matter, almanacs, blanks, books, calendars, greeting and other cards, catalogs, circulars, labels, pamphlets, sheet music, tags, tariffs, magazine covers, and magazines and other publications not registered as second-class mail matter.

Postmen Help in Sale of Yule Seals

Deliver Seals Monday to All Homes in Area

"Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat shall stay these couriers from their appointed rounds!"

During the Christmas season, the post office more than lives up to its motto. Monday, November 22, was the day when mail bags all over the country strained at their seams. This is the date when postponed delivered Christmas Seal letters to every home, according to Mrs. Earl Jensen, local Christmas Seal chairman.

At one time, school children sold Seals. They no longer do any of the selling, she explained. Mail plays the major role in the annual sale.

"All families receive their Seals on the same day through the efforts of mail clerks and carriers, who cooperate willingly every year. They carry the message 'Fight Tuberculosis' into every home and deserve a sincere thank-you for their efforts," Mrs. Jensen said. Christmas Seals and letters bring hope that some day tuberculosis will be a disease of the past.

Gustafson's Will Show 2 Models of Ramblers Friday

Two-door Sedan and Cross-Country Station Wagon in New 1955 Model Exhibit

Two models of the 1955 Rambler line will be displayed Friday of this week in the showroom of C. Gustafson & Son, Thief River Falls Nash dealer. The models shown will be the four-door Cross Country Station Wagon and the two-door Sedan.

A product of the American Motors Corporation in which are consolidated the resources of the Nash and Hudson companies, George Romney, president, says, "The greater marketing strength behind the Rambler alone should sharply increase its public acceptance and sales, but equally important are design changes we think will make the Rambler America's easiest-to-use automobile.

"Within a year after its introduction, the Rambler was the largest selling car in the convertible and station wagon field," he said. "It took hold quickly because it represented the first effort to meet the changing needs of the American Motorist, as he moved to the suburbs, increased his second-car needs and struggled with traffic and parking problems. Its combination of individual passenger roominess equal to the biggest cars, greater compactness and its double strength unit body made it the first successful new car idea in many years. Now that we are able to build it in all body styles and offer it through twice as many dealers, we feel confident it can become America's fourth low-priced car, with features exclusive in this field."

The 1955 Rambler models include the two-door Suburban station wagon, Country Club hardtop and Club Sedan in the 100-inch wheelbase series, and the four-door Sedan and Cross Country station wagon in the 108-inch wheelbase series.

Styling refinements are highlighted in the entire range of Rambler models. Low and sleek in appearance, the new Ramblers are styled by Pinin Farina, noted European custom car designer and styling consultant to American Motors.

Be sure to test out the phenomenal effect of "variable pitch propellers" in Dynaflow Drive*!
MAYBE—among the upcoming crop of new 1955 models—there's another car with an advance that can hold a candle to this one.
But we doubt it. We doubt it because nowhere—among the rumors of what's cooking in automotive laboratories—is there anything to compare with what's actually happened at Buick.
It all started with the fact that modern air liners get two big advantages because they can change the pitch of their propellers.
Second, they can stretch their gasoline by setting propeller blades at just the right "pitch" for cruising.
So Buick engineers asked themselves—"If you can do it with air, why can't you do it with oil—the oil inside a Dynaflow Drive?"
And to make a long story short—they could, and they did.
They designed and engineered the propeller-like blades inside the "stator" of a Dynaflow Drive so they can change their pitch as much as 75 degrees.
That provides one setting for more-miles-per-gallon, and another for an instant safety-surge of power when it's needed.
All you have to do is push the accelerator pedal down to the last half-inch beyond the full throttle position—and a-way you go!
Of course, there's a lot more to make a visit to our showrooms the "must" of the new-car year.
And the step-up in horsepower is this: 236 in the ROADMASTER, SUPER and CENTURY—188 in the low-priced SPECIAL.
Pay-off on progress! Buicks today go a lot farther on a gallon of gas, thanks to constant improvement in Dynaflow and in engine design. Even the new 236-hp ROADMASTER averages 4.8 more miles per gallon than Buicks of six years ago.
But the thrill of the year is Buick's latest engineering "first"—and what it does for the man or woman who drives the latest and greatest Dynaflow Drive.

S-D DAY COMING

December 15 has been designated as Safe Driving day to see what might be accomplished by one great, united effort to reduce traffic accidents. The public will be made conscious of S-D day by proclamations and publicity. We will be reminded that last year 38,300 lives were lost on our streets and highways; that 1,350,000 persons were injured, and that our economic loss totalled well over 4 billion dollars.

That is a terrific cost to pay for the privilege of driving automobiles—a cost in which we all participate in terms of dollars, through insurance premiums, an extremely heavy self-imposed tax. We have a financial as well as a moral interest in the experiment. If we can reduce the loss on any one day then we will know that we can reduce it every day.

DOLLARS THAT DIDN'T BUILD ROADS

"Litterbugs" cost the state highway department a pretty penny last year. Or perhaps it would be better to express the cost in terms of improvements highway users did not get.

It is estimated that it cost $200,000 last year to pick up and dispose of the cans and bottles and boxes and garbage that were dumped on the shoulders and into the ditches of our main road system by thoughtless (as defined by Webster: devoid of or deficient in thought or power of thought; sometimes dull; stupid; inconsiderate) motorists.

Add to this the cost of keeping all of our roads and streets sightly and the total probably would not be far from the half a million dollar mark. That is a half a million that wasn't used to build better roads.

BEST WISHES, WINNIPEG

We have more than just a neighborly interest in the progress of Canada to the north of us. As the provinces of western Canada develop we become less of an outpost of civilization and a little more in the center of things. We know that the Canadian border is not an insurmountable barrier to trade and have reason to hope that commerce will move with increasing freedom across the international boundary as time goes on.

All of which explains why we are pleased to know that Winnipeg has been selected as the site for a great merchandise mart that will do much to establish it as the wholesale center for the vast area it serves to the north and west. Citizens of Winnipeg and Manitoba are doing a good job of promoting. More power to them.

DO WE WANT CHEAPER FUEL?

Efforts to bring natural gas into the United States from Canada is running into determined opposition from the coal industry and other interests that would be adversely affected by such importations, and their position is understandable. It is the position we all take when we are threatened with new competition. Our watch makers want exclusive rights in the American market as does our dairy industry. We are all in favor of a free exchange of goods and services except when we ourselves are adversely effected by such a free exchange.

And the coal industry is a powerful influence at the present time because it is a sick industry and needs help. We know who made it sick, but that probably is beside the point.

This we do know—our area is desperately in need of lower cost fuel. Because we are far from the sources of all fuels, in an area that requires a lot of heat, we are handicapped in terms of cost of both heat and power.

Now, with low cost natural gas being made available to us providing our government will permit it to be brought across the international boundary, we, of course, become impatient with the opposition that would deny us this much-needed facility. We think that our need, of which we are now more sensitive because relief has already come to so many near-by areas, warrants special consideration.

Unfortunately we probably will not get any consideration unless we make known our problems and purposes to the proper agencies. Toward that end we suggest that communities that have a common interest in this problem unite and consider what might properly be done jointly in their own behalf.

KNOWLAND BUNGLES AGAIN

Senator Knowland of California has again demonstrated his incapacity for the position of leadership he holds in the Republican party by his tactless disagreement with the administration's policy toward Russia. As the Senate leader of his party he is not in the position of the ordinary person who always has the right to express his mind freely on all matters. He is very much a part of the management that is responsible for the forming and directing of the nation's foreign policy.

As a member of the strategy board he has an obligation to express his views in the deliberations of that board. If, however, after that board has agreed, he finds he cannot go along with the policy it has adopted, then he should step down and make way for someone who will become a part of the team.

At a time when there seems to be a little progress in our approach to the problems of the cold war, and President Eisenhower is trying to keep the hot-heads from exploding us into another war because another plane has been shot down, the impatient Knowland demand that we break off diplomatic relations with the Reds is inexcusable. As long as the Republicans within the United States Senate, with their Knowlands and McCarthys, are unable to find members within their own group capable of giving direction to their own activities, it probably is well that they have been relieved of their responsibility to give leadership in the policies of the nation.

JUDGING BY THE "OOHS" AND "AAHS" THAT GREET FORD'S APPEARANCE . . .
BY THE NUMBER OF FOLKS WHO ARE TEST DRIVING A FORD—AND THEN DRIVING IT HOME . . .
THE '55 FORD IS GOING TO SMASH EVERY CAR SALES RECORD!

New Trigger-Torque Performance in 2 mighty engines. Ford's 2 new car engines for '55 give you Trigger-Torque response. The 162-h.p. Y-block V-8 has a 7.6 to 1 compression ratio. The 182-h.p. Y-block Special V-8 is offered with Fordomatic Drive in Fairlane and Station Wagon models. And there's a new 120-h.p. I-block Six!

Road-joint jar reduced by new Angle-Poised Ball-Joint Suspension. Ball-Joint Front Suspension is one of the greatest contributions ever made to riding and handling ease. And for '55 it gives still more comfort . . . because springs are set at an angle to cushion road shock from the front as well as straight up. That reduces road-joint jar.
